115064743915	Mar 23 2026 12:00 AM	I believe there are affordable options for many income brackets in Narberth. There are many high end expensive housing options, but also a large number of smaller houses and rental options for lower income brackets. As a young newly married couple 10 years ago we were only able to afford a small family home in Narberth, and were very happy to find a place in the borough. Looking at the housing market in the past year, those entry level houses are still at a reasonable pricepoint, ready for young families starting out. As shown in the graphs above, Narberth rental prices decline in the last few years and remain lower than our neighboring town of Ardmore.
115064722535	Mar 22 2026 10:22 PM	It's a crime that contractors are coming in to destroy old, beautiful homes and put up tinderboxes in their place that will last 50 years, yet they are making MILLIONS from them. Disgusted with the Boroughs allowance of this and the cost it has to the environment. I think that the builders who are buying the smaller homes and totally renovating them are making it much harder for people who make a decent income to be able to purchase a home in Narberth.
115064702162	Mar 22 2026 09:26 PM	it's getting less and less affordable for people who live there let alone people trying to move in, and you keep letting these ugly developers ruin any character the town has. it's a shame
115064702755	Mar 22 2026 09:23 PM	It has been a natural progression related to the market
115064688961	Mar 22 2026 08:46 PM	Overpriced.
115064677767	Mar 22 2026 08:12 PM	Private homes and rentals are both pricey.
115064675738	Mar 22 2026 08:11 PM	It's no longer affordable. Rentals similar to mine in square footage, beds, and baths are nearly double what I've been paying since 2020. I have been priced out of Narberth, and I have a group of neighbors/friends in the same situation.
115064657737	Mar 22 2026 06:44 PM	Bought my first house in Narberth over 40 years ago. But couldn't do that if I was starting out today.
115064627408	Mar 22 2026 05:24 PM	I think that in Narberth becoming less affordable as the above graphs show, it has become less and less possible for families to afford reasonably priced starter homes, thereby decreasing economic diversity. We receive regular calls, mail and texts from companies asking if we want to sell our small single-family house. Rather than us selling it to a family wanting to buy into Narberth and build equity, they would buy it, tear it down and sell it for 1.5 million or likely more. Properties like ours could be sold to creative builders who could build twins or row homes making for small starter homes that would be affordable to folks of lower income.
115064598516	Mar 22 2026 03:20 PM	Too high
115064561844	Mar 22 2026 01:15 PM	I think the taxes are high - Lower Merion is better
115064528632	Mar 22 2026 11:28 AM	There isn't enough affordable housing in Narberth. The current focus of developers on $1 million plus single family homes is a terrible trend. I bought my small house (2 bedrooms, 1 bath) in 1996 after renting for six years in Narberth. Back then, there was a reasonable variety of housing at my price point (which wasn't top tier for sure). Today, that is no longer the case. It's not fair to restrict who can live in Narberth.

I respectfully oppose the proposed zoning changes in Narberth. My wife and I have lived here for 20 years, and one of the main reasons we chose Narberth was its unique character: a small-town community with close proximity to Philadelphia. That balance is what has made Narberth such a desirable place to live.

I am concerned that increasing population density, building heights, and reducing the ability to manage parking will significantly change the character of the borough. Narberth already feels overcrowded at times. Parking is beyond capacity in many areas, forcing residents and visitors to rely on street parking. Traffic has also increased, including cut-through drivers who often speed through town without regard for the people who live here.

The appeal of Narberth has always been that it has remained a small, walkable, close-knit community. That quality has also helped support rising property values for homeowners throughout the borough. Many residents have invested years in making this community more desirable, and these proposed changes feel less like thoughtful planning and more like a move that could undermine the very qualities that made Narberth successful in the first place.

115064520265	Mar 22 2026 10:41 AM	Affordable housing is an important issue, but these zoning changes do not seem like the right solution for a town that is already built out, congested, and limited in parking and infrastructure.
115064496918	Mar 22 2026 09:12 AM	Very expensive at the moments
115064494057	Mar 22 2026 09:10 AM	There is plenty of diversity of housing and prices
		The market determines prices. If Narberth is popular, then prices should rise. People move where they want to and can afford to move to. Affordability is an individual consideration. Nobody is entitled to more than they can afford. I for one would like to live on Park Ave in 115064324856	Mar 21 2026 05:50 PM	Manhattan but can't afford to.
		We DO NOT WANT this in our community!! It will ABSOLUTELY change the dynamic and disrupt the uniqueness that is Narberth. We personally have worked very hard to be able to own property and live in this unique community as have others. This would be disastrous and 115064276832	Mar 21 2026 03:30 PM	lower property values that we have worked so hard to preserve.

		It's getting more expensive to live here but those of us who already live here don't want changes that will alter the liveability, safety and community feeling of Narberth. Building "affordable" housing with little or no parking is just foolish, you are living in a dreamland if you think everyone will "bike" or take public transit. Altering zoning to allow for more "density" is also a slippery slope and should be approached with great caution. We don't want our 115064261457	Mar 21 2026 02:39 PM	community ruined, please.
		I think it is on trend with the rest of the area and country. Home prices have gone up
115061471037	Mar 21 2026 08:49 AM	everywhere and Narberth is no different.
115064141555	Mar 21 2026 08:14 AM	Need more affordable housing
115064138136	Mar 21 2026 08:00 AM	The prices blew up to a concerning level
115060058251	Mar 21 2026 05:39 AM	Do not overbuild Narberth anymore!!! Too many apartments!!! Too many cars!!!
115063975971	Mar 20 2026 07:46 PM	It's ideal
115063945119	Mar 20 2026 06:17 PM	It's fine

115063871614 Mar 20 2026 03:58 PM I am not convinced affordable housing is an agenda Borough Council should invest energy progressing.
As a current homeowner i am very happy that the cost of living in Narberth has gone up. I rely on the value of my home to pay for retirement. Changing the zoning will only reduce the value of my home and increase crime along with overcrowding our schools and put more pressure on 115063856051 Mar 20 2026 03:38 PM out current parking situation.

I think it is a free market with a variety of housing types and prices, and the borough should not get involved in trying to manipulate it for political purposes

115063844521 Mar 20 2026 03:08 PM Current affordability in Narberth is better than the neighborhoods that immediately surround it. Additionally, streets with houses and families should not be encroached upon in favor of developers.

115063724894 Mar 20 2026 12:52 PM Portability has kept peace with rising salaries, we have purchased a few homes in Arbor and each time has made a nice tidy profit as that home values have gone up. You are very much appreciated The desirability of our birth, which is led to higher profits on our home sales. Why on earth would we want to tamp that down.?!
What do I think about it? I think it is 2026 and a council should not try to control anything by unilaterally making uneducated and unrepresented decisions.

115063573171 Mar 20 2026 08:25 AM Fairly expensive overall, but a nice mix

115063569184 Mar 20 2026 08:24 AM It is a lower priority than the bridge and a vibrant downtown

115063479083 Mar 20 2026 04:10 AM I think prices are appropriate in Narberth. There are multiple price points for housing.

115063387242 Mar 19 2026 09:42 PM Not sure this is actually needed. I'm not convinced that the advantages put forth are accurate or correct.

115063255444 Mar 19 2026 05:28 PM I think the housing costs have gone up because it is a desirable and safe place to live. I think allowing all of these typical Narberth houses to be turned into 5/6 bedroom and 5/6 bathroom homes when they're sold is significantly driving up the cost to live in Narberth, with fewer and fewer small to medium sized homes available.

115062569922 Mar 19 2026 04:10 PM The price of narberth homes has doubled since moving here over a decade ago. It is good for a home owner however has made it harder for many to afford.

115063075805 Mar 19 2026 01:50 PM The apartments that are being built should be mandated to have some affordable units.

115062994122 Mar 19 2026 11:20 AM it is too expensive to live here at the moment.

115062935396 Mar 19 2026 09:57 AM I rent and do not believe I would ever be able to buy here, even though I would like to.

115062863200 Mar 19 2026 08:04 AM It is crazy how expensive these homes are for what you get. I live here for more than 10 yrs and I am a realtor. I bought my small railroad home in the $300s back in 2012, less than a 1000 sq ft. Back then that was a lot of money for me and my husband. But you cannot change the parts of narberth that make it desirable, proximity to train, charming downtown, the best schools, it is basically a hidden gem that separates it from the rest of the main line, having lancaster Ave not running through it. So it makes sense that home value is always rise up. And as a homeowner, I want my equity to grow. It is not like I am rich, I feel poor most of the time due to having a big family and the standard cost of living on the main line. One thing that I was against was historical preservation that was blanketed across the whole borough. It made homes that were newer and modern increase in value because now there were limits to what you could modify with your home on the older homes. It may have limited what builders could do but it made them also more valuable and prices naturally shot up even more. Borough council does not live in reality and wants to control things in the borough that has negative impacts which then creates the next problem to fix, when they created the problem in the first place. If that makes sense. Unless you changed our location from what I listed below, you cannot help the high demand on why people want to live here. Even if you want to add affordable housing, that too will be a mess, those prices will eventually rise overtime, or narberth will have a section that feel like India. Where you have the poor poor and the rich rich right next to each other. I am totally against affordable housing. There are other areas were people can move that is affordable, like Belmont Hills for instance or ardmere or Penn wynn.

115062850744 Mar 19 2026 07:36 AM I think the prices reflect how desirable it is to live here.

115062661730 Mar 18 2026 10:51 PM Narberth is not affordable.

115062620658 Mar 18 2026 09:01 PM It's quite high.

115062618975 Mar 18 2026 08:54 PM Commiserate with surrounding area!

115062616471 Mar 18 2026 08:44 PM I think that the this is the market and it is the way it is. We certainly have enough people here. Many more than when I moved here 30 years ago. Every INCH is being built upon.

115062592224 Mar 18 2026 08:12 PM I think Narberth has adequate affordable housing

115062596707 Mar 18 2026 07:56 PM I would like to see more affordable housing units (not apartments) in Narberth.

I think Narberth is no different than other communities around the country. Housing is expensive whether you rent or own anywhere in the nation. We have adult children in 4 different markets across the US and it is expensive to buy or rent, period. They live where they can afford to live, not necessarily their first choice or most desirable. This is the world we live in. Being able to own a home is great, but having the money to maintain is also important. Many homes in Narberth reflect that statement.

My husband and I purchased our first home in 1980's with a 12% interest loan. We went to the mortgage company and said what can we afford with our monthly income and this interest rate. Did we buy where we would have liked to live? No, but we made it work until we could cycle up. Please move on from this affordability issue!!! Home prices in Narberth have escalated with developers tearing down original homes and building what could be considered "mcmansions" for Narberth. No different with new rentals.

115062362512 Mar 18 2026 06:38 PM Please stick with the Narberth 2040 Comprehensive Plan.

115062557946 Mar 18 2026 06:32 PM Disgraceful

I am totally against having our local government legislate affordability via increased density which is completely out of line with the cherished existing character of Narberth. Recent attempts to do this have failed as is evident with the empty apartments on Haverford Avenue between Forrest and N. Essex Ave. It is my opinion that the proposed changes to our zoning code are geared to financially benefit developers, not current Narberth residents.

115062510349 Mar 18 2026 06:31 PM Against it

115062550936 Mar 18 2026 06:18 PM This is not a problem that we need to solve. It would be nice to but we did not vote to solve for this 115062529833 Mar 18 2026 05:42 PM I don't feel we should add lower income housing or more apartments.

115062523144 Mar 18 2026 05:35 PM I DON'T WANT apartment or higher density buildings to come into our borough because it will lower home values! As a single mom, a teacher I have found a way to make it work but if you increase density I will be forced to sell because my home will loose value.

After 2 years of pandemic and 4 years to tame ugly inflation, affordability has been impacted nation and world wide. With tariff taxes driving up goods and a global gas shortage, nothing will be affordable. Cost for building supplies alone will make even the most modest home/apartment out of reach of the general population regardless of location in the Philly area. All over the nation people will not be able to afford where they want to live and those of us who have found a place now have to try to afford staying in our home with sky rocketing costs everywhere. Homes built within Narberth have become Mansions because building code variances have been easy to obtain and developers just do as they please without concern with permeable space and adherence to form. This space for this answer reflects how much feedback is wished for this question.

115061581111 Mar 18 2026 03:39 PM I don't think housing affordability should get higher priority over what we have to give up to get affordable housing (e.g., four story buildings and less parking per unit).

I think affordability of housing in the borough is completely reasonable. Anyone coming in to make housing more affordable, in turn, devaluing other home owners house value, need to take their efforts elsewhere. We do not need to be everything to everyone. What makes Narberth a great place to live is keeping the nonsense associated with lower income housing out of our borough! We should make sure that the people making these decisions are actually residence, and therefore impacted by their decision. Otherwise, their position in the matter is completely irrelevant as they are acting on the interests of others which they have no say in doing.

I'm not in the market for a home but from house listing prices I've seen it seems to be getting much more expensive to find a house here. There also doesn't seem to be much inventory.

115062214297 Mar 18 2026 11:16 AM The current mix is acceptable

115062129003 Mar 18 2026 09:28 AM I think (hope) it could be improved

115062119703 Mar 18 2026 09:27 AM I think I this fine. I do not want affordable housing in Narberth.

115062113173 Mar 18 2026 09:09 AM I don't think this should be a priority. The quality of life for the people of Narberth should be the priority. For me, density is the opposite of good quality of life.

115061878791 Mar 17 2026 11:58 PM I think improving affordability is a good idea to help aid the future growth of the borough

115061887536 Mar 17 2026 11:44 PM It's expensive because it's a great place to live and many people want to be here.

115061842830 Mar 17 2026 09:59 PM We are lucky we got in when we did! I am concerned about maintaining access to housing to support socioeconomic diversity (and the important elements of diversity that come with it: age, professional, demographic, etc) in our community.

115060622430	Mar 17 2026 09:54 PM	It's expensive due to supply and demand
115061798512	Mar 17 2026 08:15 PM	Narberth is not the most affordable location however there are many reasons for that. It's proximity to the city of Philadelphia as well as points west- namely Ardmore and King of Prussia- make it an attractive area to live. It's affordability is much like other desirable areas.
115061789586	Mar 17 2026 07:52 PM	I don't think is is a very good survey question to collect good quantitative data, but housing affordability in Narberth feels very high like in many places.
115061779554	Mar 17 2026 07:25 PM	It's getting quite expensive.
115061703258	Mar 17 2026 06:00 PM	I don't think it is the responsibility of Council to provide affordable housing. I don't think we should make exceptions for affordable housing.
115061721653	Mar 17 2026 05:55 PM	There are many options for different budgets: apartments, condos, row homes, single homes (modest to historic). Narberth real estate has increased in value because of the desirability of our small walkable community designed on a human scale. It's quaint and provides a unique living experience on the Main Line.
115061683971	Mar 17 2026 04:48 PM	I think single-family detached homes are too expensive
115060677974	Mar 17 2026 04:43 PM	Simple. I believe the areas people target to live should be areas they could comfortably afford.
115061675604	Mar 17 2026 04:41 PM	In line with the Main Line
115061645765	Mar 17 2026 04:35 PM	I think it's expensive, largely because of the good school system -- and because of desirability of the small-town/village vibe THAT ZONING CHANGES THREATEN TO DESTROY. Narberth has more housing affordability than Ardmore, Gladwyne, Merion, Bryn Mawr, Haverford, Wayne. The problem is not affordable housing, it is with downtown Narberth business district and parking for any retail stores that would go there!
115061655678	Mar 17 2026 04:28 PM	It's a joke ! Earn enough like the rest of us
115061661981	Mar 17 2026 04:22 PM	No.
115061660467	Mar 17 2026 04:17 PM	They are inline roughly with general rents in the area. I know this is not what people want to hear but that's the reality.
115061646247	Mar 17 2026 04:06 PM
115061639128	Mar 17 2026 04:06 PM	I think keeping Narberth special and beautiful by creating additional twins or multifamily houses (instead of unpleasant looking apartment buildings) would make it possible for younger adults enjoy this very special town. Our adult daughter has thought of living near us here. But she would not enjoy the kind of apartment buildings that are planned and that are already here. It would be wonderful if she could live as I did in my 20s, on the top floor of a beautiful two story house (a duplex). Narberth is an extraordinary place. We felt it as soon as we saw it for the first time. Making it more dense and less beautiful would be really sad.
115061612526	Mar 17 2026 03:21 PM	It's the same as most suburban areas around here
115061605426	Mar 17 2026 03:18 PM	N/A
115060569562	Mar 17 2026 02:51 PM	Narberth's housing market is diverse and shouldn't be characterized as uniformly unaffordable. Regional housing challenges are a county- and state-level issue, not one small borough's responsibility to solve. Our schools and services are already at capacity. Any new development policy should prioritize the quality of life of current residents first.
115061548912	Mar 17 2026 02:11 PM	I would like to see more affordable units in Narberth to increase the diversity of residents that can live here.
115061518084	Mar 17 2026 01:31 PM	Not a good idea
115061473747	Mar 17 2026 12:43 PM	Narberth is not affordable for lower income people
115061475112	Mar 17 2026 12:43 PM	It's what the market will bear
115061344175	Mar 17 2026 11:47 AM	I think given the school district, surrounding area amenities, and accessibility to philadelphia, housing is completely affordable.
115061424997	Mar 17 2026 11:39 AM	It's fine. There's no need for change.
115061405540	Mar 17 2026 11:17 AM	It's not very affordable but less than the Main Line as a whole. There are other areas of Montco that people can find affordable housing.
115061399430	Mar 17 2026 11:06 AM	It's fine
115061354599	Mar 17 2026 10:59 AM	House prices and rent are all market and economy driven. They are high because people are attracted to the area. The borough should keep out of it.
115061365285	Mar 17 2026 10:28 AM	I think it is fine. Demand has increased home prices, which is natural for a desired place to live. The housing prices of Narberth are due to the type of household income that Narberth residents have built on their hard work. There is no need to have a government interference in the housing market.
115061366310	Mar 17 2026 10:26 AM

115061356121	Mar 17 2026 10:16 AM	I would love to buy a house here. It is unaffordable. I am a single parent with a good job and 2 kids in the high school. I also think i'm paying under what I could be charged for rent and it worries me as anything else here - I would not be able to afford as i need a 3br.
115061339765	Mar 17 2026 10:10 AM	The affordability has been at pace with the general housing uptick during and after the pandemic.
115061322377	Mar 17 2026 09:31 AM	It's where it should be based on location.
115061307712	Mar 17 2026 09:07 AM	I'm against density.Parking and traffic are already terrible without further residential development.
115061306163	Mar 17 2026 09:04 AM	It's fine. It's comparable to other areas around us.
115061296925	Mar 17 2026 08:52 AM	It's a novel idea but it will have a negative impact on home values. It will only hurt the residents you already have.
115061291982	Mar 17 2026 08:42 AM	Standalone homes very high priced for small lots, especially with new builds. Plenty of existing smaller homes for more affordable options
115061285157	Mar 17 2026 08:36 AM	Excellent compared to neighboring areas (Bala, lower Merion)
115061274807	Mar 17 2026 08:19 AM	Supply and demand. Single family homes are desirable and priced accordingly.
115061260963	Mar 17 2026 07:57 AM	We need to address affordable housing but the proposed plan is a gift to developers that does little to address housing access.
115061060299	Mar 16 2026 10:45 PM	Consistent with area. Housing pricing increases driven by macroeconomic factors, including inflation, that are not being taken into account. Desirability of Narberth also drives, but increasing population density as proposed counterproductive.
115061054380	Mar 16 2026 10:40 PM	I understand that housing is high but Narberth and nearby streets (and public schools) are very overcrowded. Narberth cannot handle these proposed buildings.
115061041935	Mar 16 2026 09:45 PM	There are many different options especially when compared to other places on the main line
115061030500	Mar 16 2026 09:20 PM	Affordable housing is a nation wide problem
115060922414	Mar 16 2026 05:37 PM	I am Against the proposed changes for housing affordability.
115060917184	Mar 16 2026 05:19 PM	Affordability? Not an applicable term in any discussion
115060901331	Mar 16 2026 04:53 PM	It's not affordable for first home buyers
115060876239	Mar 16 2026 04:19 PM	Houses are expensive everywhere on the main line
115060781415	Mar 16 2026 02:15 PM	Even though our income has gone up over time, I don't think we could afford to sell our current home and "upgrade" within the borough due to housing costs rising faster than our income. I have seen a majority of our block go from primarily owner occupied to primarily sold and then rented homes over the past 15 years. We don't know our neighbors like we used to due to the high turnover of tenants. I wish there was more benefit to occupying versus investing to rent a home in the borough.
115060752736	Mar 16 2026 01:47 PM	I feel that it is competitive with other small towns in the area
115060691599	Mar 16 2026 12:18 PM	I think prices are rising because it's desirable place to live and not much inventory.
115060689505	Mar 16 2026 12:13 PM	Affordability is decreasing
115060336343	Mar 15 2026 10:33 PM	Housing has become more expensive and fewer families can afford to live here.
115060336340	Mar 15 2026 10:30 PM	More affordable housing should be made so that lower income people and their families can live here.
115060331722	Mar 15 2026 10:19 PM	My husband and I have lived here for 15 years. My husband lived here for 5 years before we got married so we have been a part of this community for 20 years. We have welcomed 3 children in the course of this time and have rented in a total of 3 locations, plus the one my husband rented for 5 years before we were married. We love it here but have been so torn about living here versus being homeowners, somewhere else, because we simply can not afford to buy a home here currently. It feels crazy to me what houses, without driveways or even backyards, are selling for here in Narberth. It makes me sad that the trajectory seems to be one of less economic diversity. Narberth is becoming less and less attainable for an average income family to live here and buy here.
115060329340	Mar 15 2026 10:13 PM	The new apartments are very over priced. Not very affordable to rent unless it's a smaller apt. over a store or converted house. Our mortgage is ok. We bought close to 20 years ago.
115060332365	Mar 15 2026 10:11 PM	Fine.
115060318484	Mar 15 2026 10:06 PM	It's become too expensive and I'm concerned it's losing it's roots
115060264180	Mar 15 2026 09:44 PM	I'm glad to be in Narberth and prioritize living in a neighborhood of diversity including class diversity and racial diversity.
115060302510	Mar 15 2026 08:13 PM	Too expensive
115060287585	Mar 15 2026 07:20 PM	I couldn't afford to purchase a home in Narberth if I hadn't bought it in the 1990's

I've raised my family here for 10+ years, and the prices are exactly where they should be—great schools, safe streets, walk to shops, no crime. Crafting an "affordability issue" is simply code for wanting cheaper houses jammed into an area where they don't fit. Homes aren't cheap in Narberth because people fight to live in this neighborhood, and that's a good thing. It keeps the community stable and the property values strong for folks who've invested their lives here. If someone can't afford it, there are plenty of nearby towns that are more budget-friendly. Don't wreck Narberth trying to turn it into something it's not.

115060287120 Mar 15 2026 07:13 PM I'm glad its desirable

115060280089 Mar 15 2026 06:46 PM

I deeply resent the framing of this question. It assumes that higher prices are a problem. As a homeowner in Narberth, I am excited to see prices going up. I wish they were even higher. It means that I have more equity in my home (I worked very hard for it, for decades and decades, after growing up elsewhere in poverty). Among other things, this allows me to take a line of credit on my property with fantastic terms, which I really need to pay for my other commitments. So higher real estate prices help me tackle the affordability of other necessities in my life. I love it and don't want anyone, especially not MY borough, to try to take it away from me. I think the same is true for my neighbors.

The data, by the way, shows that Narberth is more than paying its share for renters. We have more renters than our neighbors, and it is cheaper than Ardmore.

115060260022 Mar 15 2026 06:19 PM I wanted to buy a small house of which there are many but the price of purchasing a tiny house with very little land is out of my financial range 115060260288 Mar 15 2026 05:39 PM Sounds like a scam or stupidity!

115060253068 Mar 15 2026 05:21 PM fine

115060254756 Mar 15 2026 05:20 PM It's expensive and I like that. It keeps house values high, which is fantastic.

115060249961 Mar 15 2026 05:09 PM Housing prices have skyrocketed. I wish my kids could afford a house here.

115060250098 Mar 15 2026 05:09 PM Not affordable

115060247899 Mar 15 2026 05:03 PM I think maintaining housing prices for owners is essential and absolutely DO NOT support any efforts by BC to address housing affordability.

115060248228 Mar 15 2026 05:03 PM I think the borough council's focus on affordability demonstrates they are focused more so on virtue signaling than representing their constituents, many of whom are property owners. Efforts to manipulate housing costs (rather than let the markets drive pricing) negatively impacts Narberth property owners. The Borough also regularly complains about not having enough funding to operate (hence the recently issued earned income tax). It does not seem that the Borough is in a fiscal position to be providing tax breaks to developers to support affordable housing when it is, (1) not financially solvent to begin with and (2) negatively impacting Narberth property values.

115060233550 Mar 15 2026 04:31 PM Houses are not affordable, way too expensive

115060227356 Mar 15 2026 04:04 PM It is a high cost of living area

115060214603 Mar 15 2026 03:27 PM I earn ~$150,000 and yet I cannot realistically afford to buy a home in the borough and am stuck in the lower tier of rental affordability.

115060212400 Mar 15 2026 03:23 PM

People who want to live in Narberth work very hard to live here. We do not want 'affordable houses' given to people. Just because someone wants to live in Narberth a house should not be made available for them. Get in line and wait until a house becomes available.

115060197092 Mar 15 2026 02:54 PM Too high. Many very old homes too highly priced

The opening comment states as fact "increasing concerns about housing affordability." I believe some context is helpful. Traditionally, home costs in Narberth were significantly lower than comparable homes in Wynnewood, Merion and other Lower Merion neighborhoods. There is a bit of catchup at play here. A major contributing factor is that people now find Narberth as comparable to most Lower Merion neighborhoods. - a good thing

Is there an issue moving housing sales in Narberth? The market answers this question. The proposals as outlined appear to be a solution in search of a problem. As the note below states, "Narberth has diverse housing types". I am in favor of maintaining this mix without artificially manipulating change.

115060138698 Mar 15 2026 12:44 PM should be more housing affordability

115060137027 Mar 15 2026 11:28 AM The market shapes housing costs and borough council should not artificially interfere with the market by forcing unreasonably dense development in residential zones

115060083468 Mar 15 2026 08:14 AM

I think it is sad that we have allowed the development of Narberth to grow at the rate it has. I have been a resident for over 30 years and feel less and less connected to my neighbors and the town. Although the redevelopment of the downtown area might have been necessary, I miss the hardware store, Mapes and the grocery store all of which served the residents needs.

115060073222 Mar 15 2026 07:43 AM Gift shops and $8 ice cream does not. Affordable housing will not help the downtown area.

115059873566 Mar 15 2026 07:34 AM Not very affordable

This question feels disingenuous and misleading. The planning and zoning has shown no evidence of exploring truly affordable housing that would be accessible across more diverse populations and income levels.

115059894904 Mar 14 2026 05:28 PM I don't think it matters given Narberth's size where there are other affordable housing options within 2 miles of 19072; increasing affordability seems designed to lower property values for existing homeowners

115059883987 Mar 14 2026 04:57 PM I like it the way it is.

115059873327 Mar 14 2026 04:21 PM The goal is desirable but the parking situation has already been worsening over the past couple of years - it is becoming congested and unsafe for children.

115059842273 Mar 14 2026 03:01 PM it is not required. Narberth is a suburb, not the city.

115059805265 Mar 14 2026 01:25 PM

I agree with the principle of offering housing affordability in Narberth. One of the reasons housing prices have increased in Narberth is small older homes have been knocked down and much larger homes have been built in their place. In addition, smaller homes have doubled if not tripled in size (by developers or home owners). See 300 -500 blocks of Dudley Ave. We talk about affordable housing, but we as a community do not value "tiny homes" and their smaller impact on the environment (heating costs, impervious ground cover, larger space for vegetation). In addition to affordable housing, I value the principle of the "Not So Big House" (See Sarah Susanka). How can Narberth provide incentives NOT to build to the maximum space allowed on a lot?

115059775213 Mar 14 2026 12:10 PM The housing prices are high, but that's the price of living in a beautiful town. I'm happy I will get a lot for my house when I sell it. For some people this is all they have.

115059761110 Mar 14 2026 11:34 AM Narberth has long been the only affordable part of the Main Line and should stay that way. It has become unaffordable for so many to move to Narberth and this is a problem. I heard a house in Narbrook park recently sold for more than $2M!

115059759527 Mar 14 2026 11:31 AM I think it is acceptable. I have an investment that I want to protect. There are affordable apartments in Narberth and the surrounding area.

115059723787 Mar 14 2026 10:08 AM I believe there should be affordable housing in Narberth

115059710635 Mar 14 2026 09:47 AM

115059698594 Mar 14 2026 09:19 AM I'm fine with it.

Poorly phrased survey question. As a homeowner in Narberth, I like many, want to continue to see appreciation of my home's value.

115059670698 Mar 14 2026 08:31 AM The construction of more large brick ugly buildings diminishes the small town feel that makes Narberth unique and special.

115059518723 Mar 13 2026 10:17 PM Housing as a renter is unaffordable

As noted in the data and based on personal review of housing prices in the area, the area has become less affordable for a large population.

115059506547 Mar 13 2026 09:37 PM similar to surrounding area

115059494218 Mar 13 2026 09:02 PM

115059483150 Mar 13 2026 08:32 PM I think it's an issue but that bringing businesses back to the downtown is a bigger issue

115059481060 Mar 13 2026 08:27 PM I think market dynamics should set prices, not government intervention

115059472549 Mar 13 2026 08:07 PM Needs improvement.

Market-driven, supply and demand and interest rates. There is a very high # of rental units, lower inventory to purchase. Many individuals, couples and families I met (working in healthcare) in the last 15 years don't want to rent, they want to buy. So many ended up buying in Havertown, Ardmore, or further away. In my experience, home ownership is more desired than rental units. Perhaps zoning for condos instead of apartments would attract some of these potential buyers. I believe the 45% renter-occupied housing units in Narberth (in the "Narberth by the Numbers" graph) is very concerning. I believe home ownership is a key to neighborhood stability, because homeowners are more vested in the community. In my experience, renters are not nearly as concerned about long-term neighborhood desirability.

115059397299 Mar 13 2026 05:40 PM I would like prices to continue to go higher.

115059353878 Mar 13 2026 04:32 PM It's high

115059276344 Mar 13 2026 02:52 PM I am totally opposed to this proposal. I welcome anyone who can afford to live in Narberth. As long as the housing demand is great, and will continue to appreciate, why lower property values? Becoming unaffordable at an accelerating rate. My kids will never be able to afford buying a home in their hometown

115059216937 Mar 13 2026 01:43 PM

Narberth's desirability derives from a robust walkable downtown, active parks, public transit, and community events. All of those are great except the south side of Haverford downtown. It is depressing to walk by rows of empty storefronts and it takes away from the rest of all of the things that make Narberth great. If more development is needed to bring in enough customers to fill the shops, we should absolutely do it. If that's not what is leading to those shops being empty, then I would focus on that first because that is what will make Narberth better for all of the people who already live here.

Narberth is DENSE. In the short time I've been here, a new house on 200 Dudley block and new neighbors have already significantly tightened parking availability to the point where I can't regularly park in front of my house. I'm in the central parking district immediately next to the proposed 4a district. If more people move in, there is no doubt that they would use the few remaining free spaces for long term parking, even if they use septa daily. That significantly lowers my daily convenience by not being able to park in front of my house. By living close to the 4a district I stand to lose parking because these new residents won't have enough spaces in front of their quarters and I'm the closest place with a few spots still available.

115059199828 Mar 13 2026 01:23 PM There is enough density. Even the phrasing of the questions in this surgery suggest an agenda that I don't agree with. I suspect the borough council leaders are the ones who went to the Inquirer for their recent one-sided article.

115059192708 Mar 13 2026 01:15 PM Housing in Narberth is very unaffordable currently. New builds (usually from teardowns) are particularly unaffordable.

115059173653 Mar 13 2026 12:55 PM Too expensive for me to afford it

I think that it should not come at the cost of residents who bought a home here because of the community feeling and safeness and also are not in a position to move elsewhere. Not all residents are wealthy and many of us moved here to raise a family and it's upsetting to see it get uglier and more crowded. I oppose this being our focus. If we revitalize downtown, people will shop there, hang out there. We don't need more tall, ugly buildings. Townshouses that are not ugly are more acceptable. No more fake brick or cheap looking houses that don't match the style of Narberth.

The costs are very high; however there are many other suburbs that are more affordable, with equivalent access to Philadelphia and public transportation.

It's a massive policy failure to have such expensive rents so far from city center, and Narberth's zoning is one more small contribution to the regional housing shortage.

115059084902 Mar 13 2026 11:19 AM

It's expensive everywhere right now

115059029177 Mar 13 2026 10:18 AM Housing is way too expensive, mainly because there is not enough of it. Young families are being priced out and the borough is becoming a retirement community for wealthy long-term homeowners who were fortunate enough to buy in at the right time.

115059016349 Mar 13 2026 10:04 AM Prices are set by market demand. Basic economics. Price is set at the intersection of the supply and demand curves. It is NOT the role of Borough council to effect either curve to satisfy their political or social philosophy.

115059008396 Mar 13 2026 09:55 AM

Good for homeowners

115058932751 Mar 13 2026 08:27 AM

It's becoming outrageous

115057474991 Mar 11 2026 03:41 PM

More housing would make housing more affordable.

115056991655 Mar 11 2026 01:35 AM It makes sense that there has been a rise due to the higher end apartments now in Narberth. I am fine with that increase

115056853753 Mar 10 2026 07:24 PM

I believe there are options at every price point for both purchase and rent.

115056786206 Mar 10 2026 05:28 PM The increase in median home price over the years is what we hoped for and expected when we purchased a home here. This home was and is part of financial planning for our retirement and our children's inheritance.

115056716831 Mar 10 2026 03:55 PM

It's not affordable

115056427899 Mar 10 2026 11:14 AM

Could be better. More options needed for young singles and families, as well as seniors

115055737959 Mar 09 2026 01:14 PM

This is a definite need. Seniors living on social security can not afford to live in the borough.

115055217371 Mar 08 2026 04:10 PM

Challenging. Recxomed increasing density along Montgomery avenue 5b

115055037975 Mar 08 2026 03:46 AM

It is fine. There are a wide range of options from apartments to larger houses

115054893005 Mar 07 2026 02:32 PM

I think we need more options that are accessible to people in lower income brackets-- including senior citizens, people on SSDI, and so forth. Safe neighborhoods and good schools shouldn't only be for the wealthy.

115054822634 Mar 07 2026 10:53 AM only be for the wealthy.

115054818523 Mar 07 2026 10:39 AM Housing is no longer affordable in Narberth

115054764808 Mar 07 2026 07:38 AM Building too many apartments that cost well into the $2500 range & over.

It's high, but that's because of the demand for people wanting to live here. It didn't used to be an expensive place to live. I am fine with a senior housing development (55+) if affordability is an issue

115054628938 Mar 06 2026 08:57 PM Housing is coming in at higher price points than traditional Narbs can afford!

115054627122 Mar 06 2026 08:50 PM It's fine.

I think it would be a very bad idea.

Cheaper housing and denser population means more stress on the infrastructure and more social problems.

Your job as borough council is to serve the people that are here, and that involves preserving, not weakening property values.

115054558294 Mar 06 2026 05:31 PM not weakening property values.

115054549713 Mar 06 2026 05:13 PM I appreciate that our property value is increasing.

Could be better. We need more supply, and also more turnover of decaying building stock. We were doing ok on this especially downtown after the new zoning code was passed, until the historical preservation ordinance was passed; I'm concerned that that is hindering redevelopment under the zoning code and would continue to do so under a revised and improved zoning code that would otherwise allow for more density. I would encourage repeal of the historical preservation ordinance or at a minimum just having it apply to properties that are proactively enrolled by the property owner (rather than the blanket inclusion of most of the borough as it currently stands).

115054521904 Mar 06 2026 04:22 PM It's beneficial to me, an existing homeowner.

I think the borough currently has a mix of housing, including older apartment buildings, townhomes, and newer developments, which provide a range of price points, including affordable options.

115054430036 Mar 06 2026 02:04 PM affordable options.

I think it's perfectly fine. As a homeowner who lives 1 block from the downtown, I'd like to see the town continue to be more affluent so that the community stays safe and property values continue to appreciate.

115053848660 Mar 05 2026 06:04 PM continue to appreciate.

I do not support introducing low income housing in narberth. The borough remains affordable, has a large diversity of property already (cottage, single family homes, duplexes, condos, apartments) which already sets it apart from other areas of Montgomery county. Having more expensive houses go in leads to responsible home ownership, equity in a home, and increases value of the homes already here.

115053808072 Mar 05 2026 04:53 PM value of the homes already here.

First, I would like to know why Montgomery County Planning Commission is involved with the Narberth Planning Commission, and how much money was spent on producing and correlating the survey. Second, Borough Council should first explain why its members believe housing has become "unaffordable" in Narberth and why, specifically, housing affordability is a problem. There certainly doesn't seem to be a shortage of people who can afford to buy and rent in our town. Realistically, only so many people can live in one town if it's already maxed out, like Narberth is. Narberth has always been a more expensive town to live in. If someone wants to live here but can't afford it or nothing is available for sale or rent, there are plenty of other towns nearby that might be suitable. If I want to live in a house on the beach in Avalon NJ, but it's beyond my pocketbook, should the politicians of Avalon make it affordable for me thereby lowering the property values throughout Avalon? In essence, there is nothing that says people who want to live in a particular town should be able to if they can't afford it.

115053806339 Mar 05 2026 04:50 PM who want to live in a particular town should be able to if they can't afford it.

It's affordable. More affordable than any other place on the main line. It already has great diversity and density.

115053805143 Mar 05 2026 04:48 PM diversity and density.

Narberth housing has cost more for less since we moved to our 3-bdrm/1.25b twin with no garage or driveway in 1977. A choice we made due to location. In 1990 when managed to move to a 5 bdrm/2.5b by moving to a fixer-upper and doing a lion's share of the work ourselves.

Note: My research indicates (1) the MHI in Narberth in 2025 was $119,863 to 123,977 not $229,583 the graph depicts; and (2) the rental income units are now greater than 50%.

Question: Could the rental MHI be lower because they have a single wage earner?

- 115053674682 Mar 05 2026 01:53 PM Housing costs are a national issue, so while local data is important, all of this should be placed in a national context as well.
- 115053484611 Mar 05 2026 09:49 AM I think everyone should have access to housing, but it needs to be truly affordable. I don't think Narberth is the place to do it.
- 115053463403 Mar 05 2026 09:20 AM The biggest concern is not lack of affordability of rentals, but rather lack of affordability for housing in which there is equity. This plan focuses primarily on the rental market. Let's drive density by encouraging equity-based affordable development - twins, multifamily houses, townhouses, cottages and smaller houses.
- 115053011548 Mar 04 2026 04:15 PM This is an absurd question. The question and the answers should be disregarded. I am a person with expertise in survey development. The answers to this question will be meaningless for many reasons. The answers may be no different than if the question was worded: "What do you think about housing affordability in..." Narberth, or Southeast PA, or the east coast, or the US. I recommend that the PC and Council take answers to this question with an understanding that the answers may lack any relevance to or specificity for Narberth's affordability issues. Redfin's Narberth page shows that December 2025 median sale price was down 23.9% year over year, to about $491K.
- 115052679735 Mar 04 2026 09:06 AM Affordability is not a problem in Narberth
- 115052388718 Mar 03 2026 09:04 PM We need residents to keep our retail alive.
- 115052377106 Mar 03 2026 08:36 PM Housing is unaffordable. The new development is not helping, just wrecking the town.
- 115052289683 Mar 03 2026 05:44 PM Please stop with this. We have it from a renter's standpoint. However council and MCPC don't like that narrative.
- 115052227485 Mar 03 2026 04:13 PM There are so few transactions in Narberth every year, that it is difficult to get a real accurate sense of the market. A few outliers can seriously affect the numbers. I don't think Narberth, which is already one of the densest suburbs in PA, is large enough to have a meaningful impact on housing affordability. To add a few more lower cost opportunities, will add an outsized chance of unintended consequences.
- 115051551818 Mar 02 2026 07:23 PM I think prices are comparable to other areas for houses. Apartments seem high
- 115051472677 Mar 02 2026 05:11 PM It is good to see that rents in Narberth are lower than for LM township. This appears that renting in Narberth is currently more affordable than in LMT.
- 115051397265 Mar 02 2026 03:45 PM Also, since Narberth has a higher percentage of renters than Ardmore CDP and MontCo, it may make more sense to improve affordability by increasing affordable homes for purchase rather than increasing the number of rentals.
- 115051300079 Mar 02 2026 01:55 PM Statistics seem about on-par with what I would have guessed them to be
- 115051275887 Mar 02 2026 01:26 PM I think it's a big problem that calls for significant investment of time and resources.
- 115051270985 Mar 02 2026 01:20 PM I think that the current effective rent rate below $2,000 is about right. The median household income for renters is $74K, so that roughly tracks with Narberth's effective rent. While the cost of single family homes has gotten crazy, if the market will support it it's fine. Narberth is not going to be able to solve the nationwide housing crisis in our one borough by forcing in higher density housing. We already have more rental units when compared to Ardmore and Montgomery County as a whole, so we are clearly already doing our part.
- 115051098903 Mar 02 2026 10:06 AM I think it's becoming incredibly unaffordable. We could barely afford our home and are working hard to pay for the mortgage each month.
- 115051079558 Mar 02 2026 09:49 AM It's not very affordable!
- 115051076171 Mar 02 2026 09:46 AM

Everyone is in the same situation, we all need to budget and save for a house and goals for our needs for ourselves and family, that includes where we want to live. Short cuts in subsites helps no one in the long run. If you are constantly given everything than you do not appreciate the satisfaction of achieving the goal of ownership thru your efforts and become dependent on that aide and eventually fail when it dries up , as it always does. It a slippery path with faults that fail us all.

115050961564 Mar 02 2026 07:01 AM I think this is a sought after community because it is very well planned. The housing prices reflect this

115050790761 Mar 01 2026 10:13 PM

I cannot believe how expensive it is to buy or rent in Narberth now. The loss of affordable housing is permanently changing the small-town character that we fell in live with.

115050784742 Mar 01 2026 09:51 PM I have lived here since 2021 and Narberth has become less and less affordable. On my street alone there are over 8 houses recently sold for well over $ 1 mln

115050741910 Mar 01 2026 07:10 PM

It is off the charts. I am well aware that I would not be able to afford to buy a house in Narberth anymore, and would likely not be able to rent a place half as nice as where I now live.

115050706998 Mar 01 2026 05:06 PM The cost of homes is largely determined by market forces. Narberth is an expensive place to live because of the quality of the school system, the proximity to the city, the safety for kids, and the ability to access local stores and restaurants.

115050682638 Mar 01 2026 03:40 PM I think we worked hard for many years and saved to buy into Narberth bc we wanted small town.

115050633711 Mar 01 2026 12:50 PM This, cost is what the market demands in this area.

115050616921 Mar 01 2026 11:52 AM You get what you pay for. Prices are comparable to other safe neighborhoods.

115050605452 Mar 01 2026 11:11 AM If you want to live here you save your money and buy the house you can afford.

Very affordable for those who choose to reside here. People are lining up to move to Narberth in willing to pay for the value of living in a "small town" community. It is common sense that people are willing to pay more to live in a desirable area, since time in memorial this is always the pattern concerning location and desirability.

115050601543 Mar 01 2026 10:59 AM Horrific please do not bring this here!

115050593051 Mar 01 2026 10:31 AM

The lack of affordable housing in Narberth is upsetting but understandable given broader patterns in the area. However, the resistance to common sense recommendations to improve affordability, supported by experts and evidence, is shameful.

115050586096 Mar 01 2026 10:09 AM It's astronomical

115050547772 Mar 01 2026 07:46 AM This should never be a issue in maintaining the beautiful character of our town. This should never be a governmental issue. We all worked hard to be able to live here. Nobody handed us our homes or made it easy for us to buy!

115050541338 Mar 01 2026 07:17 AM

Expensive but only because we have a nice downtown... sadly lacking a pharmacy, grocery, and hardware store! Let's have a borough that serves the needs of the residents that live here.

115050449476 Feb 28 2026 10:59 PM

Considering the charts above, it seems that Narberth has an above average amount of renters and the variance of our average renters income to Montgomery county is not as high as our variance in home buyers income. To me, the issue of affordability is related to home owners not renters. Borough council should also consider how to discourage developers from buying single family home lots and turning them into mega-mansions - this seems to be the trend recently that is increasing the price of home ownership exponentially. I do not believe that we need to add more apartment buildings or rental units.

115050381503 Feb 28 2026 06:18 PM High

115050367565 Feb 28 2026 05:28 PM Not overly worried about it. I support small increase in housing that will help the town grow reasonably while keeping its european 'small town' charm

115050363194 Feb 28 2026 05:11 PM Even though as a homeowner I can benefit from the relative rise in housing values, I regret that middle class people who have traditionally live here can no longer move in. I don't see a way to change that.

115050342008 Feb 28 2026 04:01 PM More affordable housing is needed

115050328706 Feb 28 2026 03:19 PM

I have so many thoughts about this. I would love for rents to remain lower than surrounding areas, as this data suggests. However, I also worry that some of the apartments in Narberth are very low quality and are not meeting minimal standards for safety, such as the properties at 321 N Narberth and 100 Sabine. I would not want rental prices to go down to allow for more substandard units like these.

115050320175 Feb 28 2026 02:55 PM I think relative to the rest of Lower Merion it's affordable. additionally, some of the more expensive homes help the tax base.

Narberth is a wonderful place to live, and I would like to see it become more affordable for people across the income spectrum. It seems that many of our friends and neighbors in Narberth currently rent, and I would love to see them able to buy their own homes by increasing affordable housing stock. I would also love to see more options for affordable rentals.

115050233228 Feb 28 2026 10:58 AM It seems to track with affordability challenges across most market sectors and jurisdictions. Historically, Narberth has a nice mixture of singles, twins, row houses, and garden style apartments to suite a variety of income levels.

115050205165 Feb 28 2026 09:41 AM Narberth is a desirable area to reside. Fantastic School system, proximity to the city to drive or utilize public transit, universities and hospitals. Of course this desirability will increase the cost of living in such a location. The borough council adding a local tax has done nothing to help affordability and I for one have ZERO interest in spending 1% of my income to help offset developer incentives to bring in affordable housing units for future Narbs while you are turning your back on current NARBS. Fix the downtown, get it developed under current code then assess future development. Allow the borough to settle through years of transition on Haverford ave and settle into itself.

115050188441 Feb 28 2026 08:57 AM Having owned a home in Narberth for 25 years, when I retired and downsized, I wanted to stay in Narberth. I didn't want the aggravation of owning again. That's when the rental sticker shock set in. I was looking at old construction twins but most don't allow pets. I settled on an apartment, but for the premium rent I pay, there are no amenities, even in the hideous new construction in the Narberth business district. Sadly, it's the price I have to pay to stay in the Narborhood.

115050177190 Feb 28 2026 08:22 AM

We must bear in mind that Narberth is a small borough completely surrounded by Lower Merion Township. Narberth has no where near the housing diversity of Lower Merion and cannot be compared to Lower Merion. The school district defines the boundaries and is a major reason for the desirability of living here. Families will pay more for housing in order to send their children to Lower Merion schools. This drives up the cost of housing within the school district and that higher cost will affect households without children in the schools. The cost of living in this area is also higher than many other communities. High end stores and expensive restaurants impact affordability.

115050166630 Feb 28 2026 07:48 AM It's as affordable as other mainline towns.

115050162831 Feb 28 2026 07:35 AM It's not affordable. Apartment living isn't affordable either and we've seen friends that rent get pushed out of their apartments because the rent increased dramatically.

115050043458 Feb 27 2026 11:58 PM Like that Narberth has more affordable housing than most of the main line but we also have traffic safety issues

115050040947 Feb 27 2026 11:45 PM Totally against it.

115050017909 Feb 27 2026 10:16 PM I think we need it. I want to see all new developments be required to have a percentage of units that are affordable.

115050008862 Feb 27 2026 09:47 PM Not an issue but a term used by certain council and planning commission members to gin up interest in pet projects rather than address more pressing quality of life issues for existing residents in the Borough, i.e. repair the neglected broken up and stitched roads from prior utility work more than 8 years ago, etc.

115050002413 Feb 27 2026 09:25 PM It's always been expensive to live here but it's quickly becoming ridiculously expensive.

115049993148 Feb 27 2026 09:07 PM Narberth already has a broader range of housing and numerous affordable options.

115049983508 Feb 27 2026 08:40 PM It's primarily driven by the market and factors like desirability.

115049983437 Feb 27 2026 08:40 PM Affordability or attainability. With our land costs, affordability is a problem.

115049973597 Feb 27 2026 08:11 PM Attainability—300-500k houses is what works for us.

115049964913 Feb 27 2026 07:46 PM It stinks

115049945446 Feb 27 2026 06:57 PM It's artificially inflated.

115049943396 Feb 27 2026 06:52 PM There is affordable housing more so then other communities in the school district.

Ridiculous

I do not think that housing affordability should at all be a priority for the council. Protecting the property values of current residents of Narberth should be a priority. Putting businesses in downtown should be a priority. Apartments and affordable housing are directly in opposition to both of these goals.

I think it reflects the supply and demand principle. There are only so many homes in the Borough, and seeing as though it's a desirable place to live, it's not surprising that the demand is high.

Too expensive, we need more affordable housing and density

Encouraged that the property values are rising

Narberth has become a hot spot and therefore more expensive than other nearby areas. While it makes sense for the price to go up, it's very different than the boroughs origins and original charm.

I think the data is not complete. Does this rent take into account rentals for houses vs apartments. How do we quantify these numbers? What is the size ratio for apartments? What is the price for a studio, one bedroom etc... this data is too vague. Where is the data about impacts on roads, parking, infrastructure?

Housing in Narberth is appropriately priced for what it offers—a safe, vibrant, family-friendly community with top-rated schools, walkable amenities, and easy access to Philadelphia. Claims of an "affordability issue" are overstated and misleading; high prices reflect strong demand and limited supply in a desirable area, not a crisis. Forcing "affordable" housing through zoning changes would artificially distort the market, potentially devaluing properties and overburdening local resources like schools and traffic. True affordability comes from economic growth and personal financial planning, not government mandates that prioritize outsiders over current residents. Narberth isn't broken—it's successful, which is precisely why it's not cheap to live here.

The concept of ensuring housing opportunities for lower-income people is great, but without broader support by state and federal government, developers will invest elsewhere. Read about Connecticut's success with building affordable housing near transit (like the train lines).

That was supported with state funding.

There is no affordable housing here.

Housing costs are astronomical and it is almost impossible for middle class families to buy a home

I want the housing prices to be as high as possible.

No real opinion. I've been a homeowner since 2003. No issues affording a home then. Property values have increased since.

Even though this is a national issue, not just a Narberth issue, I think we should try to do our part to maintain affordability. The direction we're going in (becoming unaffordable) is not good.

The affordability of living isnt simply related the building type. COL is multi variable utilities, taxes, schools, amenities are determinants of affordability if you are looking at income scales I think that the concepts of affordability and home ownership are important NATIONAL discussions. I do not understand how the elevation of this specific concern reflects a direct interest of the voters in this borough. This romanticized idea that this small borough will suddenly become a melting pot of all of the jobs in the world is just odd. Philadelphia is the city, and there are all different areas within that to account for all different levels of income, need for yards, access to varying qualities of schools with a premium of property taxes (or not), and the multitude of other shifting reasons that lead people to make different decisions over the course of their life. This idea that you should be able to point to any neighborhood of your choosing and say "show me an affordable place to live there" is to skip a lot of the steps (and sacrifices) that people make as they move on to different phases of maturity.

Some resident home owners that currently live in this borough are under more financial stress that you seem willing to acknowledge, and we need to give up on this idea that the world is made up of librarians and guidance counselors.

I am a teacher and I live in Narberth. There is very little discussion about the fact that some of the residents who move from inner city Philadelphia to the suburbs have students who cannot read and require far more resources from the school district. Their parents don't attend school conferences and are not engaged, perhaps because of their financial constraints and dual-job work hours. Those same people are also not going to have the time to attend borough meetings, run Girl Scout troops, coach sports teams, or make financial investments and It's very high, even for the area.

I love my home equity but I hate that the "merely" rich can no longer afford it here.

115064743915	Mar 23 2026 12:0	I think Narberth has enough housing. I would like to preserve the remaining unoccupied spaces - for parks or other community gathering spaces. Furthermore, parking and traffic are becoming more and more challenging in the borough, and I worry that additional housing will put a greater strain on the roads. Likewise, I worry that additional housing would overburden the school system and other local resources.
115064722535	Mar 22 2026 10:2	There is no need for more apartments in down town Narberth. FRED BUSH / Narberth Borough: stop with your density-obsession and stop trying to make Narberth urban.
115061821894	Mar 22 2026 10:2	I believe that when you own a home, you tend to stay longer. I know that where I live in Narberth, the turnover of neighbors is quite low.
115064702162	Mar 22 2026 09:2	multifamily and twins allow for affordability, people with young kids, doesn't affect housing density and cottage/single-family allow for the character of Narberth to be preserved instead of being leveled for ugly poor-quality new builds that are stories tall
115064702755	Mar 22 2026 09:2	I like the way the town is and I do not want any changes to it. I've been living here for 26 years and moved here because of the character in charm of it.
115064688961	Mar 22 2026 08:4	Multi family homes invite more affordability and diversity.
115064677767	Mar 22 2026 08:1	Single family homes allow for more open space around them.
115064675738	Mar 22 2026 08:1	Multifamily units foster a sense of community and accountability among close neighbors who live in the same house. By multi family house I mean a single detached house that has a few apartments in it. It is more efficient, increasing density and affordable housing without decreasing permeability more than a single family dwelling. There is only one sidewalk and lawn to maintain, so it is more efficient. It encourages long term, committed tenants, which is good for the community at large.
115064657737	Mar 22 2026 06:4	We have plenty of large single family homes that are owned or renting at a premium. For those of us who can no longer afford to buy in Narberth, smaller units are the most affordable option. There simply aren't enough. The rental market has been incredibly sparse since the pandemic. Good units with decent landlords and reasonable requirements and deposits are rare because there isn't enough competition. Why should families like mine have to leave the neighborhood we've always lived in, possibly have to leave the only school district my children have ever known, simply because we cannot afford to buy a single family house?
		Potential for affordable housing without the mega-sized building anonymity.

115064627408	Mar 22 2026 05:2	To accommodate a more economically diverse community.
115064598516	Mar 22 2026 03:2	Higher quality
115064561844	Mar 22 2026 01:1	We have enough We don't need any more single family houses. We have limited space in the borough and we need to maximize the use of that space. Any new housing should house more than one family. In addition to housing more people, we need more housing at the affordable end, not at the upper end.
115064528632	Mar 22 2026 11:2	I respectfully oppose the proposed zoning changes in Narberth. My wife and I have lived here for 20 years, and one of the main reasons we chose Narberth was its unique character: a small-town community with close proximity to Philadelphia. That balance is what has made Narberth such a desirable place to live. I am concerned that increasing population density, building heights, and reducing the ability to manage parking will significantly change the character of the borough. Narberth already feels overcrowded at times. Parking is beyond capacity in many areas, forcing residents and visitors to rely on street parking. Traffic has also increased, including cut-through drivers who often speed through town without regard for the people who live here. The appeal of Narberth has always been that it has remained a small, walkable, close-knit community. That quality has also helped support rising property values for homeowners throughout the borough. Many residents have invested years in making this community more desirable, and these proposed changes feel less like thoughtful planning and more like a move that could undermine the very qualities that made Narberth successful in the first place.
115064520265	Mar 22 2026 10:4	Affordable housing is an important issue, but these zoning changes do not seem like the right solution for a town that is already built out, congested, and limited in parking. Narberth is already operating beyond the safe capacity of its infrastructure. The borough's narrow streets, limited parking, and aging utilities were designed for a much smaller population. Adding density without first modernizing infrastructure increases the likelihood of traffic conflicts, pedestrian risk, and emergency access failures. Residents are already experiencing unsafe conditions, especially around parking and congestion. Growth without infrastructure investment is not responsible planning. Before considering additional housing units, the borough should conduct a full infrastructure capacity assessment—roads, stormwater, utilities, emergency access, and parking. Without that, any zoning changes that increase population density are premature. Instead of trying to expand the residential population, Narberth can grow its tax base by: Revitalizing the downtown commercial corridor Montgomery Ave and Haverford Ave have underutilized storefronts that could generate far more revenue with targeted investment. Attracting small businesses and services A stronger business district increases earned income tax, mercantile tax, and property values without adding strain to residential streets.
115064494057	Mar 22 2026 09:1	We moved from a large East Coast city to this suburb to experience suburban living.
115064324856	Mar 21 2026 05:5	There is no reason to transform suburbs into urban centers. NO MORE BUILDING IN NARBERTH!! Look at the nightmare that is Montgomery Ave and the traffic disaster that it has become... and now you are considering adding MORE congestion?!? PLEASE put your efforts into developing downtown Narberth with viable independent businesses! And PLEASE NO MORE SMOKE SHOPS!!!
115064276832	Mar 21 2026 03:3	NO MORE RESIDENCES of any kind in Narberth!

I respectfully oppose the proposed zoning changes in Narberth. My wife and I have lived here for 20 years, and we chose Narberth because it offers a rare small-town feel while still being close to Philadelphia. That character is exactly what has made the borough so desirable.

Narberth is already crowded, with parking beyond capacity in many areas, more traffic, and increasing cut-through speeding by non-residents. Greater density and taller buildings will only make these problems worse and threaten the close-knit, walkable community that residents value. Our property values have grown in part because Narberth has remained a small, attractive community. Many of us helped make it that way, and it is frustrating to see changes proposed that could undermine that success.

Affordable housing matters, but these zoning changes are not the right fit for a town with limited space, parking, and infrastructure. I urge borough leaders to reject them and preserve Narberth's character and quality of life.

Mar 21 2026 03:0

Mixed use buildings make sense and serve a dual purpose (but please, only build with parking, please.) Row house/Town house construction will also allow for more residents without the development of large, ugly, apartment buildings in the area that are not in keeping with the style of the area and create too many problems with overcrowding, parking, and cycling in and out of residents to the area. Also, development must respect the current residents, especially those on streets closer to the Narberth downtown area. These often long time and stable residents should not have to sacrifice in order to reach density and development goals for the area.

We have a huge number of apartments in Narberth. Some that are older and more affordable and a ton of new ones that appear to be vacant. Most families want a home and not an apartment.

Not sure

I don't think apartment buildings ever get the correct rationale to be built. They're not cheap or affordable, change the overall structure and look of neighborhood just to cram people in and charge them what they could pay with a regular mortgage in an older home/twin home.

This is the character of Narberth. The apartment building block out the sun, contribute to density and are not the character of Narberth!!!

Because it encourage convivial community, beauty and improved air quality

We need density in the downtown area and along Montgomery but do not need more apartments mixed in along the areas where it's single family homes. The apartment complex near us has been an awful neighbor and we have to look at an unsightly building all day long.

Mar 20 2026 06:1

We already have too many rental properties in the borough. There is no space to build unless you tear something down. I am opposed to that.

115063856051

Mar 20 2026 03:3

115063844521

Mar 20 2026 03:0

It is not up to me what people should or should not build

The primary attractions of Narberth is its family-friendly character and open spaces. Cottages and single-family detached houses enhance these features by limiting over-development while also supporting extended/multi-generational families.

115063724894

Narberth is incredibly dense population wise, we have practically no green space.

What happened to the open space initiatives? Why is it Narberth jumping on keeping little tiny Sabine Avenue park a rare open space? Isn't that what most people sincerely desire? Why gobble up every patch of green space. Very bad for visual beauty and the environment.

Mar 20 2026 12:1

I don't want to see more of anything. I want Narberth to remain as it is. I have lived here for over 20 years and the council is quickly and astonishingly running this town.

Young families, first home buyers who will take good care of their home

We moved here because it was a reasonably (but not too) densely populated town with some nice shops downtown. Other than converting some of the commercial (including churches) space into mixed or multifamily, it's fine how it is.

115063387242	Mar 19 2026 09:4	We are already a very dense borough. We do not need more density and if anything knew is to be built, it should be single family homes.
115063255444	Mar 19 2026 05:2	I think this is in line with what the neighborhood already is. Adding more apartment buildings is unnecessary, ugly and increases density that may be bad for the town itself.
115062569922	Mar 19 2026 04:1	We have enough apartment buildings currently; the new ones in the "downtown" aren't even fully rented out. There is a greater sense of neighborhood with other types of dwellings as residents remain in them for longer periods of time and are therefore more invested in their neighborhood and their community as a whole.
115063075805	Mar 19 2026 01:5	Narberth already has large number of apartment buildings many with vacancy. Narberth needs more density to serve its otherwise dying downtown. Narberth needs to provide the train station a reason to continue to serve Narberth.
115062994122	Mar 19 2026 11:2	strong communities are diverse and inclusive. the greater the variety of housing options available, the greater the variety of residents who want to and can afford to live here. NIMBYISM has no place here in Narberth.
115062935396	Mar 19 2026 09:5	More affordable
115062863200	Mar 19 2026 08:0	There is not more room in narberth, which also makes it more desirable with little land there is to go around. That is why homes are torn down if not kept up with, the foundation are not good, and modern families need more space and modern amenities. Narberth our local area was not made to pack all this density and traffic we have now. Stop creating more density, rents and homes prices will always keep moving up.
115062841550	Mar 19 2026 07:4	We don't need any more density
115062850744	Mar 19 2026 07:3	Single-family homes attract families, which often times includes children, which then leads to more legacy within the Borough.
115062661730	Mar 18 2026 10:5	I like diversity in my community, and having a larger variety of homes at different price points would invite different folks.
115062623214	Mar 18 2026 09:1	There are plenty of apartments and we should NOT increase density.
115062620658	Mar 18 2026 09:0	I want a balanced family friendly neighborhood, that is not crowded for the sake of tax revenue.
115062618975	Mar 18 2026 08:5	We have ENOUGH homes, apartments etc. Soon we will be like the jersey shore with no open space left.
115062616471	Mar 18 2026 08:4	Parking is a huge issue, any new multi family the Borough has considered get's a parking exemption pass. I want a community of homeowners that want to be part of a community. I don't see the need to subsidize or incentivize developers with reduced zoning requirements to create more dwellings. It hasn't proven to enhance the local businesses or quality of life.
115062592224	Mar 18 2026 08:1	I believe they would be more affordable due to lower construction costs.
115062596707	Mar 18 2026 07:5
115062362512	Mar 18 2026 06:3	If an opportunity presents to build new we should be focusing on housing with low density impact. Narberth has enough density and parking is already an issue.
115062557946	Mar 18 2026 06:3	Stop building. Already overcrowded
115062510349	Mar 18 2026 06:3	Our current mix of housing types is appropriate and balanced. The current desirability of Narberth is a testament to this fact.
115062550936	Mar 18 2026 06:1	We have empty apartment buildings. We need to keep more green space.
115062529833	Mar 18 2026 05:4	It keeps Narberth consistant with its past without attempting to solve problems for some possible futures
115062523938	Mar 18 2026 05:3	Narberth is a family town and apartments will bring down home values and destroy the community we all love.
115062523144	Mar 18 2026 05:3	I think we do not have enough parking to add more houses. The school district will struggle with large amounts of more students. They are full as it is now.

Narberth has a great set of codes if we did not allow variances to erase the neighborhood charm of this small community. Homes should be built to allow affordable equity for new residents and minimize human warehouses which drives up water runoff increases traffic and parking since SEPTA's future is so tenuous and its current service is both unreliable, and lacks sufficient frequency. Many of the legacy apartments provide affordability and help us already meet density. Haverford ave is already too busy and dangerous for pedestrians as cars fly through downtown and when Narberth bridge reopens the same will be true for cars speeding to/from Bowman. Keep any new building to 3 stories and if possible make them twins to continue the current density pattern.

115062129003 Mar 18 2026 09:2 I think the variety of housing types in Narberth is one of the borough's strongest features. Increasing density -- allowing more people to live in the same footprint of space -- is a way of improving affordability by adding more units, which I believe is an evidence-based practice.

115062119703 Mar 18 2026 09:2 If you change the nature of Narberth, it will be impossible to bring it back. Residents are not complaining about the lack of density or affordable housing. So why are our supposed representatives trying to "fix" something that is not broke?

115062113173 Mar 18 2026 09:0 I said none, because I oppose density. But if there are empty private lots (there aren't many) and people want to build single-family houses on them or twin houses, I don't oppose it. Those are the most common types of houses in Narberth so building a few more of those will not change the nature of the borough. Building row houses would (and mostly apartment buildings too).

115061878791 Mar 17 2026 11:5 Increasing density especially near a walkable downtown with access to public transit will help revive Narberth's commercial corridor.

115061842830 Mar 17 2026 09:5 I support more efficient housing that can be both affordable and have less environmental impact.

115061846819 Mar 17 2026 09:5 I think the mix of housing is very good. There are smaller row homes, generous twins and single family homes as well as multi-family housing.

115061798512 Mar 17 2026 08:1 Density is not a bad thing! I'd love to see more density, walkability, mixed-use construction, and making it harder to drive and park in Narberth.

115061789586 Mar 17 2026 07:5 There are already a lot of buildings and not many free lots. The focus should be on revitalizing the downtown and not on building more.

115061779554 Mar 17 2026 07:2

I don't object to any particular type of housing although, other than perhaps Montgomery Avenue, I think we have enough apartment buildings. (That assumes that some of the anticipated units are built in the downtown.)

I do object to policies that are designed specifically to achieve a demographic - however that is defined. We already have every kind of housing and yet the town is considered expensive. Adding a handful of additional cottages, rows or twins does not change that - we will just have a few more expensive cottages, rows and twins.

I understand and agree with the idea that there are benefits to density, particularly in increasing headcount to benefit the downtown. But at this point the issue with the downtown is the nature of the shops. There are plenty of people, including from the surrounding areas, but they need a reason to come in.

Mar 17 2026 06:0

New houses being built are too large for the lots. New buildings are too tall. Narberth is already dense, and the large new constructions are whittling away the charm of Narberth.

115061721653

Mar 17 2026 05:5

I'd like to see more options for people to purchase. We have enough apartments, some are standing empty. Eventually we will have a glut of underused apartments and absentee landlords. Building new apartments is primarily serving the luxury market, despite adding a small amount for people making around $95,000. Might as well have homeowners, who are more committed to staying in the community.

Mar 17 2026 05:1

I'm a bit mystified by this survey. Where is all this available real estate for new housing types and other construction growth? I'll assume it means "tear downs" or the intended demolished buildings on Haverford Road in the business district. Possibly, this relates to the tear down of the former Narberth elementary school? (I haven't heard any updates on that project recently.) If a decision has been finalized to tear down the school building, I'd very much like to see Sabine Park expanded to a larger "green" area.

Too much overcrowding is a big negative and erodes quality of life

I don't think we need much more of any kind of housing in Narberth. At about 9000 people per square mile, we are ALREADY DENSER than any entity near us. There are plenty of people living close to the downtown business district now -- but they drive to shop at very nearby grocery stores, hardware stores etc. as well as big-box stores and online. That is their choice. Personally, I shopped at and desperately miss the hardware, grocery and consignment stores that have closed in recent years, but more apartments won't address that. There is a nationwide problem of empty street-level retail outlets, including in the famously walkable Manhattan [[check this out: <https://www.hraadvisors.com/the-retail-reckoning-why-new-york-has-too-much-ground-floor-commercial-space-and-what-to-do-with-it/>]] Narberth will not improve anything by jamming more people into apartments near the railroad station. It will just look less and less like the town people have wanted to move into.

thoughtful, inclusive planning.

These options would allow more people like us to live in Narberth, but would keep Narberth feeling like a beautiful village instead of a city. I do not like the idea of boring looking apartment buildings that are over two stories high. If people want to live like

115061639128

None. The priority must be maintaining existing infrastructure, not increasing density.

Our schools are already overcrowded and adding any new housing types would only make that worse.

115060569562

		More diversity in housing typologies allows a more diverse population of residents - families with young children, but also seniors, single young adults, and all different types of family structures. I believe that diversity helps to create a healthy community.

		If you would make cottages actually differ meaningfully from SFH, I would include them
115061473747	Mar 17 2026 12:4	on the list as well
		Given how single family homes are being torn down for multi family homes and multiple homes and apartments, I am prioritizing single family home to stop build a population this area is unable to sustain. We already have traffic issues which any other strategy will make worse. Any other strategy would compromise quality of living
115061344175	Mar 17 2026 11:4	which is currently moderate to high.
115061424997	Mar 17 2026 11:3	Keep with the historic character of the Neighborhood.
115061405540	Mar 17 2026 11:1	Narberth is already too dense. Larger, single family home would help ease the density.
115061399430	Mar 17 2026 11:0	Narberth is great the way it is
115061354599	Mar 17 2026 10:5	Narberth is full. People have been attracted to the borough as it was.
		We have lots of apartments already and no room for new developments without 115061365285	Mar 17 2026 10:2	demolishing old houses, which is not necessary.
		Narberth if full enough. Outside residents come and utilize our amenities and leave the residents to foot the bill. We do not need more housing in an already full town. Instead, improve the current structures and make them new. We do not need to adjust the wya
115061366310	Mar 17 2026 10:2	of life for anyone.
		I would like to see more detached smaller houses. But it is crazy as the 2 new small 115061356121	Mar 17 2026 10:1	homes on Rockland are listed for 1.2 million.
		Narberth already feels overcrowded with the number of apartment buildings recently constructed around downtown. Parking has been extremely challenging since many homes in the borough don't have driveways or garages and have to park on streets. Septa has significantly reduced bus service the the area with a possibility of eliminating the route altogether. Train service is also greatly reduced and septa had already eliminated the Paoli line last year due to shortage of funds before temporarily restarting the line. These service eliminations will result in more vehicles in the borough as more commuters will rely on cars. Overall, the borough should think of restricting construction of apartments and condos to address this problem. Additionally, Narberth is popular for its small town charm and that is going away with the construction of larger buildings. It won't be able to stand upto its "Historic District"
115061339765	Mar 17 2026 10:1	reputation without the charm of twins and single family homes in the borough.
115061322377	Mar 17 2026 09:3	It currently has a perfect mix of all housing types.
		Before we focus on housing we need to focus on the the empty spaces downtown and 115061306163	Mar 17 2026 09:0	the lack of parking.
115061296925	Mar 17 2026 08:5	Density is not the answer. We need more options for homeowners and not landlords.
115061291982	Mar 17 2026 08:4	Need less density in the area, less crowding
		Build within reason. Don't eliminate parking requirements.
		Labeling this survey 'housing affordability' is obviously incredibly biased and agenda-driven to build support for the upcoming changes. Please be responsible and not cave into pressure from developers. There will always be someone else with money willing 115061285157	Mar 17 2026 08:3	to build ethically and responsibly. Power to you all.
		Our infrastructure is beyond stressed: new development has allotted almost no parking. New construction homes are sucking up more permeable surface, and look 115061274807	Mar 17 2026 08:1	like McMansions.
		We are a community of homeowners and that contributes to Narb's charm. Programs to make homeownership more affordable would be welcome. More starter homes &
115061260963	Mar 17 2026 07:5	town homes.
		Narberth does not have the infrastructure to accommodate additional density. Local streets are already pushed to limits and reduced parking with greatly increased density
115061060299	Mar 16 2026 10:4	would make downtown unmanageable.
115061054380	Mar 16 2026 10:4	See note above.

115061041935	Mar 16 2026 09:4	Parking already limited, small town is part of the charm If developers are willing to develop in narberth all types should be considered and
115061030500	Mar 16 2026 09:2	discussed I believe in single family homes with windows on both sides and not dependent on your
115060922414	Mar 16 2026 05:3	neighbors for keeping the property up
115060917184	Mar 16 2026 05:1	Because smaller is better
115060901331	Mar 16 2026 04:5	Plenty of housing.
115060876239	Mar 16 2026 04:1	There is enough density People like their own space and apartment living does not afford the space and
115060752736	Mar 16 2026 01:4	outdoor gardening.
115060691599	Mar 16 2026 12:1	I would like to see the downtown revitalized and rentals there would be fine. Because Narberth is a lovely town and to support our small businesses it would be better to make affordable housing more accessible for lower income people and
115060336340	Mar 15 2026 10:3	families.
115060329340	Mar 15 2026 10:1	Very dense currently. Not enough green space. Too crowded.
115060332365	Mar 15 2026 10:1	The area is getting overbuilt. I'm happy for In Narberth to be a densely populated space that has entry-level prices. I'm nervous about tying that to mixed used properties because so far the developers
115060302510	Mar 15 2026 08:1	have not seemed reliable .
115060287585	Mar 15 2026 07:2	I would like to have more neighbors
		Honestly, none. We're not short on anything. If the market wanted more apartments or townhouses, builders would be putting them up already without needing zoning tweaks. What I'd like to see more of is preserving the single-family character and expanding the limited amount of park space, which is what draws people here in the first place. Adding density won't make things "affordable"—it'll just make everything more crowded, less appealing, and parking more difficult than it already is...driving
115060287120	Mar 15 2026 07:1	prices and inconvenience up for everyone else, and prices down for current owners.
115060280089	Mar 15 2026 06:4	Borough should prioritize owner occuppies vs rental properties Here, too, the framing of the question is not fair. Why do you assume that I would like to see more housing in Narberth? I actually like the current density of the borough and don't want to see too many more housing units. But since you asked, I generally want the borough to keep its current nature. Right now, most of it is single-family homes or twins, and I want it to stay that way. I moved to Narberth, and stayed here, for this trait. Those who want row houses and apartment buildings can live in the city (I lived there too). Nothing wrong with that. That's an easy choice for them to make. Those who choose to live in Narberth don't want that type of density. Moreover, I'm seriously concerned that adding a lot more units will cause a nightmare when it comes to traffic, parking, pollution (and fewer green spaces), beauty, and even basic infrastructure. I should note that it also matters where the additional units are located. If they are facing Montgomery Avenue, then it is less of a concern because the traffic and parking
115060260022	Mar 15 2026 06:1	issues do not bleed into the borough to the same degree.
115060260288	Mar 15 2026 05:3	Fits with the current older homes
115060253068	Mar 15 2026 05:2	Enough housing already.
115060254756	Mar 15 2026 05:2	too much density and tearing down of smaller homes to build McMansions
115060249961	Mar 15 2026 05:0	Too much building. Too many people. Not enough parking.
115060250098	Mar 15 2026 05:0	No more apartments! 2 story stores only! We live in one of the densest towns in PA. I do not support ANY additional
115060248228	Mar 15 2026 05:0	development.
115060247899	Mar 15 2026 05:0	The increase in apartment buildings is taking away space and parking There aren't enough parking spots to support high density housing, there aren't enough parking spots as is. Additionally, the underlying premise of high density housing and transit oriented development hinges on having reliable public transportation. SEPTA falls well short of a level of reliability that would be reasonable to support the type of high density / transit oriented development plan Borough
115060233550	Mar 15 2026 04:3	leadership seems dead set on.

115060214603	Mar 15 2026 03:2	Narberth is already very dense, with heavy traffic and little parking. We don't need even more density and multi-family high-occupancy residences in town. Parking is already an issue. Plus with the future of SEPTA rail service constantly in question, building more apartments for a commuter market that might collapse seems
115060197092	Mar 15 2026 02:5	*Fair market dictates what people buy. Stop trying to manipulate the market.

115059873327	Mar 14 2026 04:2	I believe Narberth should be zoned primarily Residential.
115059842273	Mar 14 2026 03:0	To reduce prices of real estate but assure parking provision I think there is enough housing in Narberth. No need to bring in more residents and
115059805265	Mar 14 2026 01:2	density with additional apartments
115059775213	Mar 14 2026 12:1	I'm fine with any of the above, depending on the location and fit to the lot.
115059774865	Mar 14 2026 12:0	There is no more space or parking & there is already too much traffic in the area. Having an apartment adjacent to necessary shopping is vital for a single adult without a car. It is a healthy way to live, nicely old-fashioned. You should have larger apartment buildings on the main street, with elevators. Elsewhere, duplexes, triplexes, accessory homes. Septa will never go away completely. If you don't have them already, you are a perfect place for Amtrak employees to live. Also musicians. Set aside 10% for such people, creatives. 30% for teachers, nurses. Senior low-income
115059761110	Mar 14 2026 11:3	housing. The beauty and charm of Narberth is that it has been a mixed income, diverse community. If we don't have more options for folks who are not in the highest income brackets to live in Narberth then we will lose the essence of what makes Narberth special. I want firefighters and teachers and electricians and librarians and cooks to be
115059759527	Mar 14 2026 11:3	able to live in Narberth, and musicians and artists! I think the existing zoning is acceptable. I do not want to see higher density that there
115059723787	Mar 14 2026 10:0	already is. Narberth already has a mix of all of the different types of housing listed. I would like the Borough to concentrate on developing the business district, as it's been allowed to
115059710635	Mar 14 2026 09:4	remain vacant and deteriorated the past few years.
115059698594	Mar 14 2026 09:1	I like Narberth the way it is. Narberth is fully built out in its residential sections. No more housing please. Only where we have derelict retail areas, I'd support apartmentos on top of retail, à la where we now have Malooga with apts above. (Though that was a horrendously long and
115059670698	Mar 14 2026 08:3	poorly carried out project.)

		Space is very limited. Increasing density will have a negative impact on quality of life, increase traffic, make it less safe for children and families to walk due to increased traffic, it will be crowded like a Dickens festival. My family lives in a small twin with no parking. We can only use on street parking. On the weekends and during the winter parking is very difficult. Additionally, increased traffic on Hampden Ave has led to our parked car being sideswiped on three occasions.
115059518723	Mar 13 2026 10:1	So Narberth does not become over populated. Keeps crime down and makes it feel more like a community.
		The mixed use and row house designs can provide entry for new home ownership or retirement housing that is affordable to promote community growth and personal equity. Dedicated apartments buildings can provide shorter term gains but do not support the community in the long term. There are also a good mix of the other housing types that would not provide the housing needs with the same compact footprint.
115059494218	Mar 13 2026 09:0	variety, better tax base
		I think we should expand housing that allow families to build equity and stay in the borough long term
115059483150	Mar 13 2026 08:3
115059481060	Mar 13 2026 08:2	Narberth is a small community, with small streets and small infrastructure. It is desirable because of these things. I would absolutely oppose urbanization of Narberth. These would be smaller SF and provide more ownership options to build equity for younger residents. No more McMansions in Narberth, please.
		More mixed use on Montgomery, but with condo/ equity interest. NOT apartments generating only income for ownership.
115059472549	Mar 13 2026 08:0
		In my experience, people who look to live in Narberth and be part of the community, want it to be a long-term investment, not a short-term rental. The single homes and twin homes attract the people that want a close-knit neighborhood feel, with a little more space for their family and pets than they would have in a city.
115059397299	Mar 13 2026 05:4	There's no empty land to build.
115059353878	Mar 13 2026 04:3	As long as these are not rentals. We have enough rentals already.
		The issue is not more density of dwelling units. Parking, and more of should be the priority. Why would I, or my business partner, spent money on outfitting a downtown commercial building, if there is not a commensurate provision for parking. We should look to Suburban Square. Our current residents certainly are.
115059216937	Mar 13 2026 01:4	Allows for more people to live in this beautiful town. We need to stop the NIMBYism and allow the next generation to afford homes in their hometown. Not just wealthy families
		We need a sufficient population to support the downtown and given all of the vacant storefronts fronts, we clearly don't have that. I don't see how anything other than apartments will get the downtown back to what it was 10-15 years ago unless the problem is a failure of the property owner of those shops—in which case, Narberth should exercise eminent domain to fix the problem.
115059202339	Mar 13 2026 01:2
		Given that Narberth is an inner suburb and has public transit access to Philadelphia (at least currently), it is reasonable for it to be a high density space. Additionally, I would like for the downtown to revitalize and have all of the storefronts again filled. For Narberth, given that our downtown is not on a main thoroughfare, this requires a high density of citizens to patronize these stores/restaurants, etc, (often walking from their homes).
115059192708	Mar 13 2026 01:1
		I don't want any more tall apartment buildings near me. It's crowded enough and it's ruining the residential charming feel of Narberth. I hate the new building look at Meeting House and Montgomery and it's so tall that we can't see past it. It's also very ugly. No thank you to more of that all around me!
		Plus, people cut through our street all of the time. It's busy enough and dangerous for kids playing outside.

115059119705	Mar 13 2026 11:5	Permits more retail/restaurant businesses to be established, as well as more housing.
115059084902	Mar 13 2026 11:1	Allowing sufficient housing for everyone that wants to live in Narberth, increases the size of the labor market and tax base, helping our regional economy thrive. Narberth already has a parking problem. Narberth already has a traffic issue. Go to the playground anytime in the morning or afternoon. There are cars lined up sometimes 30 deep waiting to get through the tunnel. It is not realistic to think that people will walk everywhere. EVERYONE has at least 1 car. People may be able to walk in Narberth, but they also drive to other places. We live next to a large apartment complex; parking is ALWAYS an issue. Why would Narberth add to the parking and traffic issue with MORE housing? It is a recipe for more aggravation all around. I do not want to see cars parked all the way up to stop signs because there is nowhere else to park.
115059029177	Mar 13 2026 10:1	Narberth needs more housing, full stop. Anything that can increase density will help to control prices. We do not need any more 2 million-dollar McMansions. We need denser, more compact living housing types that allow normal people to take advantage of our community's walkability, bikeability, commercial downtown, and public spaces. Any measure that allows more density will ultimately contribute to greater affordability. A nice side-effect would be to attract more residents living car-free or car-lite lifestyles. The more the borough's structure and built environment support walking and biking, the less congestion and competition for parking there will be.
115059016349	Mar 13 2026 10:0	I am interested in giving people the chance to live here without creating more traffic. The traffic situation is already out of control and using the density development justification for housing development is a charade. I know that statistics support your argument but the assumption that apartment dwellers will not have cars is FALSE. This is not Manhattan nor is it an isolated community. People live in this area because of the multitude of choices. In order to take advantage of those choices you need a car. For example, people are not going to take a train to Wayne for dinner. What about additional Police and Fire protection. Please do not think that is not required with additional population and building size. Please work on preserving the community not destroying it! Who ever heard of having an objective of driving down home values? In is insane.
115059008396	Mar 13 2026 09:5	We are pretty much fully built out
115058932751	Mar 13 2026 08:2	there are already too many houses, people and cars and the Borough is so badly
115057474991	Mar 11 2026 03:4	mismanaged that more people/houses can't help!
115056853753	Mar 10 2026 07:2	already too many apartments We are lucky to have a variety of housing options in Narberth Borough. I believe we are dense enough and would prefer to see only single-family, twin or townhouse attached homes, or 1-4 unit multi-family buildings.
115056786206	Mar 10 2026 05:2	I am not interested in bringing low income housing to Narberth. We purchased a home in the Borough for a reason--we wanted a place where value and equity in our home would grow which will provide financial assistance when we retire (which isn't too far away). I'm also concerned about crime. Is the Borough considering having young adults living in Narberth? Narberth is a family based community. Has the Borough taken into account factors that lower income housing impacts crime in communities?
115056716831	Mar 10 2026 03:5	There needs to be more housing variety at affordable prices in Narberth
115055737959	Mar 09 2026 01:1	We have sufficient density. Increased density would create a strain on resources and
115055037975	Mar 08 2026 03:4	cause overcrowding
115054893005	Mar 07 2026 02:3

We have lots of twins and single family detached houses-- I think we need more options that increase density and affordability, and allow for multigenerational living for families that want/need that. However, the options should be selected based on evidence that they will truly be affordable-- based on experiences of other areas and on requiring that a percentage of the units be designated as true affordable housing.

115054822634 Mar 07 2026 10:5 Incentives aren't enough- it must be mandatory.

115054818523 Mar 07 2026 10:3 We need supply but density is increasing

115054764808 Mar 07 2026 07:3 And ranch style housing

I think cottage, row homes, town houses, and apartment buildings are just cramming more people into an already dense area. I've seen new homes built right up against proper lines and having no driveway or yard for the people to use. The apartments just add more congestion and more cars. Most places charge extra for parking, so the people take advantage of our already limited street parking. Most complaints come during snow storms when there's no where to park. And the streets are so tight with parked cars that people have no where to pull off to the side to let another car by. We

115054628938 Mar 06 2026 08:5 We need more options for people who can't afford top of line single houses

The reason I moved here was bc it was already developed with quaint houses that reflected this walkable community. We do not need any more housing and certainly no more apartments. They are not even sold out. Give it a breathe and let things settle for a few years. Focus on fixing up the downtown area. No more housing please. Narberth should be a community predominantly made of single-family detached homes, with housing costs high enough to ensure new residents are well-off professionals.

115054627122 Mar 06 2026 08:5

Three-story mixed use in the downtown is fine, as long as the residential units are high-end, for younger professionals commuting to the city. Low-income housing is completely unacceptable; it invites a host of problems the borough doesn't have the budget or expertise to deal with.

115054558294 Mar 06 2026 05:3

Narberth has a significant problem with parking due to the older homes not having driveways. I do not want to see additional multi-family units or apartments created without also creating ample parking for the existing families who live here. It's already bad enough in a snow storm when individuals can no longer park on many of our streets. It will only get worse if you decrease the parking requirements for new 115054549713 Mar 06 2026 05:1 dwellings.

115054527059 Mar 06 2026 04:3 Maximize space and usage

Narberth currently has a variety of all these buildings. To keep the scale and character 115054430036 Mar 06 2026 02:0 of our town there is no need to have more.

Narberth is dense enough. Parking is already difficult on most blocks. If there's vacant land, I'm all for building new single family homes on it. But I'm extremely opposed to building multi-unit housing on blocks that are currently made up of single family houses. It will degrade the character and aesthetic of the neighborhood, and 115053848660 Mar 05 2026 06:0 potentially bring property prices down.

More single family homes adds to the value of the homes here, brings families to our neighborhood invested in this community (sending their children to school here) and looking for family friendly options in the downtown (for which not many currently exist)

115053808072 Mar 05 2026 04:5 and adds to the value of the neighborhood

115053806339	Mar 05 2026 04:5	Narberth has become less attractive as housing covers every speck of land. We do NOT need to build any more houses no matter what type. We have enough housing and enough people here in a very small space. We do need to get the commercial downtown area finished and desirable. Narberth has gotten more impersonal over the past 25 years due to a variety of factors, some of it being the divisive political scene which drives these woke agendas like sediment catchments which take away parking. I've lived in Narberth for many years, and the feeling of community where neighbors look out for each other and know each other has dwindled tremendously. People hardly acknowledge each other anymore when you pass them on the street or they're in front of your house. Adding more housing will make this situation even worse. Parking is at such a premium in Narberth, and traffic is getting more dangerous. Adding more housing, especially if you change the zoning to allow for fewer parking spaces, will cause more problems for people who already live here and the new residents. I want more shops and nice restaurants and quality homes that are residential and owned and not rented. I want more stability and less renters. Vehemently opposed to low income/affordable housing in our borough.
115053674682	Mar 05 2026 01:5	Zoning Districts 3a and 5b are the only districts that can handle an increase in family dwellings. They have ready access to Wynnewood and Montgomery Avenue for vehicular traffic.
115053484611	Mar 05 2026 09:4	I feel that we have lots of single family detached and apartments, I would like to provide BOTH affordable housing that allows residents to build equity and not be subject to land lords rent increases.
115053463403	Mar 05 2026 09:2	I would like to see more apartments for ownership not rental. I feel like Narberth is flooded with rental apartments that aren't rented and we could use more places for people to downsize with the population aging.
115053011548	Mar 04 2026 04:1	mixed use only in the downtown area. 5b should be primarily commercial. But really, the emphasis should be on affordable starter homes such as cottages, multifamily, twin and row/townhouses
115052679735	Mar 04 2026 09:0	There are many available apartments units in Narberth. As someone who lives in an apartment, what I and my friends want and need are homes that we can buy. We have plenty of apartment options, but few to no twin or free-standing home options. Please encourage building of twins, row houses, and single-family houses.
115052377106	Mar 03 2026 08:3	These types housing types best fit meet the needs of Narberth current and future residents
115052289683	Mar 03 2026 05:4	More residents will keep our retailers in business.
115052227485	Mar 03 2026 04:1	We need our downtown businesses revitalized. We have numerous vacant buildings. Focus on the full picture.
115051551818	Mar 02 2026 07:2	Please this type of question was asked years ago. Stop forcing some narrative to fit some non disclosed agenda.
115051472677	Mar 02 2026 05:1	There are very few condos in Narberth, and very little housing stock appropriate for seniors at any income level. The unfortunate, but predictable, project on Merion Avenue has been a failure on every level, and has exposed our representatives' failures to navigate growth in a way that the residents want it.
115051397265	Mar 02 2026 03:4	Town seems overcrowded now. Single family homes feel not as crowded than apartments. Keep small town feel

		If done correctly, increasing twins & row homes/town houses can increase affordable home ownership. As Narberth currently has higher percentages of rentals than LM and MontCo, increasing housing for ownership is an important strategy for Narberth.
115051300079	Mar 02 2026 01:5	Apartment buildings will not increase home ownership. If Narberth wants to continue to market itself as a close community small town, there needs to be opportunities for people to move into residences that allow them to put down roots (be that through renting or buying). Mixed use buildings add additional businesses, yes, but to see chains come in & occupy spaces that were once small, family-owned businesses is not only disheartening, but also inauthentic to the claimed atmosphere of the town.
115051270985	Mar 02 2026 01:2	Looking at the map above, we are pretty full. The only place I see the possibility of more development is turning some of the commercial buildings on Montgomery into mixed use buildings.
115051098903	Mar 02 2026 10:0	I would like more diversity here. I love that it is a ethnically and financially and diverse town, although I don't love that it skews very very rich. I like being close to the city. I like walking to town and walking to the train. I want do want to focus on keeping things more walking friendly as well. Montgomery Ave is really hard to walk on - so if we encourage more mixed use there, I would like to also make sure we are encouraging more traffic calming measures to protect those on foot, on bicycles, on public transit, and in cars. I also take the 44 bus and regional rail into the city and also out to the main line burbs. I like public transit here a lot and hope we can continue to support
115051079558	Mar 02 2026 09:4	SEPTA here.
115051076171	Mar 02 2026 09:4	I would like to see more density and affordability.
		We are already over developed and with these developers coming in and wanting denser, higher units are ruining the historic integrity of our town and the building code needs to stop changing and accommodating what they want and keep what we want as residence and that is keeping our town development to a minimum, not over built. After all that is why we bought here and continue to live here. Its a community of families, not transit part time renters. We need stability to maintain the character of what we have , not people who do not live here trying to make a quick buck at our expense . Low income housing is not a solution, it opens the door to further problems, we already have an abundance of apartments and do not need more. Open GREEN space is what we want and that includes the areas around houses for optical
115050961564	Mar 02 2026 07:0	enjoyment and space.
115050790761	Mar 01 2026 10:1	Home owners are more invested in the community.
		This would provide an entry point into Narberth while fostering home ownership and community roots. Our community is becoming homogenous with expensive single family homes. At the same time, these housing types wouldn't create additional density. If there is a plan to build more housing units, we need a variety of housing but more affordable.
115050784742	Mar 01 2026 09:5	I spoke with tenants in the Elm and they say the rent is very expensive. We don't need more expensive units like that downtown but more affordable. Also, I am concerned that the area is getting overbuilt with high apartment buildings with no balance for green spaces.
115050682638	Mar 01 2026 03:4	These types of homes are consistent with many homes in Narberth.
		We already have terrible parking. More people means more cars. This is a fact. Also, I don't want zoning changed to allow for building higher . When we bought here 11 years ago, part of the appeal is the small town look. Also, to implement a 7/10 parking space rule is nonsensical. Ppl without cars r the exception, not the rule. We are not Philadelphia. There's not enough reliable transportation for all the places we work.
115050633711	Mar 01 2026 12:5	Also, kid activities require driving as does grocery shopping.
115050616921	Mar 01 2026 11:5	Less dense more livable.

115050605452	Mar 01 2026 11:1	Studied show that people buy property and pay taxes contribute to the community's well being and bottom line.
115050593051	Mar 01 2026 10:3	We do not need any additional apartments without adequate parking in Narberth!
115050586096	Mar 01 2026 10:0	Family size, particularly in affluent neighborhoods and those with an aging population, has shrunk considerably since most of Narberth's development. If "density" remains unchanged but the number of residents per house decreases, the math is pretty clear that Narberth will see fewer residents, fewer families, fewer children.
115050381503	Feb 28 2026 06:1	Many residents have move to Narberth from Philadelphia or NYC looking for a vibrant suburban community. Adding more apartment buildings will move Narberth from a suburban feel to a more urban feel - which, in my opinion, is against the wishes of many current residents. As I mentioned above, I do not believe (and the data does not seem to suggest) that we have a issue with rental properties. It would be good to add more smaller type houses to improve affordability while keeping with the suburban landscape of Narberth. Additionally, I would like to highlight that a vibrant functioning downtown and better services/amenities for the actual current residents of Narberth, and constituents of Borough council, are a higher priority for me than affordability. We are unfortunately left with a lot of vacancies in the businesses downtown and are fighting very serious concerns about traffic and safety on our streets and especially along Montgomery Ave. Please balance the needs of these issues against the need to add more density.
115050379971	Feb 28 2026 06:1	Single family homes bring stability and sense of community
115050342008	Feb 28 2026 04:0	I don't like the large, single family detached houses on small lots that are replacing smaller, historic homes. They are unaffordable for most and don't allow for the density that makes Narberth such a wonderful community. They are also, frankly, not consistent with the aesthetic of the borough.
115050320175	Feb 28 2026 02:5	there are plenty of apartments in Narberth now. But mixed-use may be desired. unfortunately, the disastrous leadership of the bureau Council has been an impairment to any sort of well-thought-out growth. There is more emphasis put on hay bails and special interests there is to any sort of smart development.
115050310749	Feb 28 2026 02:2	I would like to see more affordable options for my friends and neighbors. We have wonderful friends whose child goes to school with our kids at Belmont Hills. They are currently renting and would love to buy in Narberth, but there is nothing in their price range despite having two good incomes.
115050300870	Feb 28 2026 01:5	The limited size of our community is what makes it special. As a resident and home owner, more development does not address any concerns I have and puts the aspects of Narberth that made and makes it attractive in jeopardy.
115050233228	Feb 28 2026 10:5	Narberth doesn't need more density generated from multi-family units or apartments.
115050205165	Feb 28 2026 09:4	Narberth is a suburban borough, not a small city. There are dozens of vacancies currently in Narberth, and large complexes in Nearbearth - behind the baseball field and next to Giant. Allow large scale development on our outskirts continuing to provide a population base to support our business without changing the DNA of our Borough.
115050188441	Feb 28 2026 08:5

Narberth has always been a cottage-style town. I've always referred to it as "The Mayberry of the Main Line" because of its quaint housing styles. While I owned one of the older and larger homes for many years, the teardown nylon and plastic sheetrock sh_t shacks that have gone up at a million plus have threatened to erase Narberth from its own landscape.

115050177190 Feb 28 2026 08:2 Narberth is built out. There is no land available for new construction so anything built would have to be on land where older structures are torn down. This destroys the character of the borough. Construction of high density housing is particularly problematic as there is already a big parking problem in Narberth. This affects residents as well as others who may come to the borough for restaurants and shopping.

115050166630 Feb 28 2026 07:4 It's too congested, too dense already 115050162831 Feb 28 2026 07:3 It is a very small place that has a ton of apartments and is already extremely dense. I think that we have a lot more apartments here than in Lower Merion.

115050043458 Feb 27 2026 11:5 Not enough parking for multi unit buildings, afraid it would come at the expense of the little green space we have left 115050040947 Feb 27 2026 11:4 There is no need for more apartments. Most of the apartments are not filled in Narberth. There is no parking for the houses and apartments that we have now - let alone more apartments. School are already overcrowded.

115050008862 Feb 27 2026 09:4 Narberth is an older well established and built out community.

115050002413 Feb 27 2026 09:2 Narberth has plenty of available living options. I would like to see more affordable housing options and a revitalized business corridor.

115050002230 Feb 27 2026 09:2 Apartments = more people which = more density / cars. The borough is already congested with not enough parking.

115049983508 Feb 27 2026 08:4 The downtown area makes the most sense to add housing in the form of apartment building as a way to not subtract existing green space and drive consumer growth.

115049983437 Feb 27 2026 08:4 Due to Narberth's existing density, I'm cautious on code that could inspire multi-units of 6 or more units.

115049973597 Feb 27 2026 08:1 The move to reduce parking requirements is very troubling.

115049965606 Feb 27 2026 07:4 The opinion that one can live with a family in Narberth without a car is just not accurate. Provides yard access 115049964913 Feb 27 2026 07:4 There is no more space for any type of housing.

115049943396 Feb 27 2026 06:5 Too many multi unit rentals. Provide community with home ownership. Less crowded having single family,more of a suburbs feel 115049932064 Feb 27 2026 06:2 People who own homes in a community are involved in their community. I love the community nature of Narberth and the former walkability to a vibrant downtown. By adding apartment buildings, homeowners will represent an even smaller percent of the community (which is already too small compared to neighboring communities) and you will create a parking crisis that will prevent any business from ever being viable in our downtown. The argument that public transportation will be sufficient and no cars are needed for residents is obviously being made by people who have not tried to rely on SEPTA for traveling to work. This argument also fails to acknowledge our current political climate which is not favorable to supporting public services. Furthermore, our goal should not be to increase the number of rented units in Narberth and I have no idea how this ever became a main goal for the council. The council's job is to improve the community for the residents who live here and do the most good for the people that they represent. Your proposed changes seriously endanger the value of our homes and the community that we live in.

115049928424	Feb 27 2026 06:1	I like the idea of families living in Narberth who intend to stay awhile. I feel as though apartment living is more of a temporary situation for most families, as they wait until they can afford a single-family home or twin.
115049923713	Feb 27 2026 06:0	Diversity of the street scape and density add to the tapestry of our neighborhood and plant seeds for future growth, access and diversity in our community
115049914829	Feb 27 2026 05:5	We do not need more apartment buildings. We need more commercial stores and restaurants. The downtown is boring
115049908620	Feb 27 2026 05:4	Keep the charm, allow for residents to have parking, and to stop the compounding crowding that will lead to overcrowding.
115049899106	Feb 27 2026 05:2	Population density is getting higher and higher. This makes parking a massive issue. I know many of the Narberth council mistakenly believe families have only one car but that is not a fact. Many families have two or more cars and no driveways or garages. Adding more home without doing a true study on the impact on parking and infrastructure is naive.
115049898645	Feb 27 2026 05:2	I see no reason for more of any specific housing types forced into Narberth, as the current mix—primarily single-family homes and some apartments—suits the borough's character and scale. Pushing for more multi-family or dense developments under the guise of "affordability" ignores that Narberth's appeal lies in its low-density, small-town feel. If demand exists, the market will respond naturally without zoning overhauls that could lead to overcrowding, higher taxes, or reduced quality of life. Instead of adding types, focus on preserving what's already here.
115049892707	Feb 27 2026 05:1	Better and safer for older residents.
115049888811	Feb 27 2026 05:0	We need more affordable housing for older people who want to stay in the community and for people with low income.
115049888829	Feb 27 2026 05:0	Options!!
115049873818	Feb 27 2026 04:4	Less houses, more commercial spaces.
115049826479	Feb 27 2026 03:3	Make the nicest community. Owner occupied homes are more likely to be maintained and make a positive contribution to the community. Homeowners get to increase financial security via equity in property.
115049819690	Feb 27 2026 03:2	Multifamily houses have been disappearing (because reconverted to single family), but they play a useful role.
115049752627	Feb 27 2026 01:5	And we need more apartment buildings, to increase number of available housing options for current and future residents.
115049725876	Feb 27 2026 01:2	Property that can be owned. Multi family/apts are well represented in Narberth
115049696988	Feb 27 2026 12:5	Financial success comes from the ability to build equity, and renting does not allow for that. And people do not invest their time and money in a community that they do not have some permanence with. Building homes, and maybe smaller homes, allows people to be a connected part of the community in a way that apartment building do not.
115049689005	Feb 27 2026 12:4	They fit the character of the neighborhood.
115049686426	Feb 27 2026 12:4	These are more affordable
115049675397	Feb 27 2026 12:2	Seems we have enough housing, and tons of new apartments
115049668829	Feb 27 2026 12:1	Do we have adequate parking for residents and businesses?
115049241561	Feb 26 2026 10:5	Loaded question: given that the Borough has almost zero empty lots, you are by implication asking a different question: Which housing types should be replaced with others. This is a zero sum game.
115049216012	Feb 26 2026 09:5	More affordable housing choices!
115049186290	Feb 26 2026 08:4	We need more housing as Narberth is losing its community due to cost
115049184041	Feb 26 2026 08:3	We're in the middle of a housing shortage and we need more units to cater to the demand

115064743915	Mar 23 2026 12:00	I do not believe Narberth needs additional growth. I think Narberth has enough housing. I would like to preserve the remaining unoccupied spaces - for parks or other community gathering spaces. Parking and traffic are becoming more and more challenging in the borough, and I worry that additional housing will put a greater strain on the roads. Likewise, I worry that additional housing would overburden the school system and other local resources. The population has been steadily growing in the last decade or 2, and there is a limit to how many people this small borough can safely and comfortably accommodate. Montgomery Ave is not residential to me so I feel more comfortable with development here vs. everywhere else in Narberth. It could use a bit of a lift.
115064722535	Mar 22 2026 10:22	it's already congested and is not part of the character of the town of narberth the same way. doesn't negatively impact the downtown Our downtown area is very rundown looking and it could use a facelift
115064702162	Mar 22 2026 09:26	Already congested. Not enough parking. A SEPTA pass will not help here.
115064702755	Mar 22 2026 09:23	Montgomery Avenue in Narberth is already congested and unattractive. Although technically in the Borough, it does not read as part of the peaceful town of Narberth.
115064688961	Mar 22 2026 08:46
115064677767	Mar 22 2026 08:12

		These are the areas that have the most space to be developed into mixed use and multi-unit affordable housing. Access to public transit and walking distance to playgrounds and stores is super important to people who don't have designated parking (driveway, parking space, etc).
115064675738	Mar 22 2026 08:11	We need a destination area to bring people into the community to enjoy whatever restaurants and stores we can entice in to the area.
115064657737	Mar 22 2026 06:44
		I'm not clear on what zoning allows as to new construction in those areas but I'm guessing the zoning in the areas I've selected might allow (or eventually allow) 4 story apartments, row homes, twins and small condominiums, making for better affordability.
115064627408	Mar 22 2026 05:24
115064598516	Mar 22 2026 03:20	To build up Narberth
115064561844	Mar 22 2026 01:15	We have plenty of people
		I checked all of the zones because I think we should be looking at any opportunity to provide more affordable housing in the borough. I realize that may not be realistic so I would say that, for now, the areas that should be focused on for growth are 5b, 5a, 4b, 4a. Besides being near transit, the residents in these areas will be able to walk to local businesses.

changes in Narberth. My wife and I have lived here for 20 years, and one of the main reasons we chose Narberth was its unique character: a small-town community with close proximity to Philadelphia. That balance is what has made Narberth such a desirable place to live.

I am concerned that increasing population density, building heights, and reducing the ability to manage parking will significantly change the character of the borough. Narberth already feels overcrowded at times. Parking is beyond capacity in many areas, forcing residents and visitors to rely on street parking. Traffic has also increased, including cut-through drivers who often speed through town without regard for the people who live here.

The appeal of Narberth has always been that it has remained a small, walkable, close-knit community. That quality has also helped

Density without infrastructure = unsafe conditions

Density without parking solutions = spillover onto already narrow streets

Density without business growth = higher taxes on residents, not lower

Density without traffic management = increased risk for pedestrians and cyclists

Narberth's charm comes from being walkable, small scale, and human scaled. That can be preserved while still improving affordability through smarter, targeted strategies.

Mar 22 2026 09:10

115064324856	Mar 21 2026 05:50 Given the defined boundaries of Narberth, cramming more of either housing or businesses is not wise. Renovating or even replacing dwellings and renovating downtown business space is fine but there is absolutely no infrastructure to add homes or businesses—for example, there is not enough parking now and Montgomery Ave as well as Wynnewood Avenues are overcrowded and frankly dangerous NO MORE BUILDING IN NARBERTH!
	PLEASE put your efforts in developing downtown Narberth to reduce the empty storefronts! PLEASE secure independent businesses that the surrounding community can support.
115064276832	Mar 21 2026 03:30 PLEASE EXPEDITE THE BRIDGE PROJECT!! What a disaster that has been for 5+years! PLEASE address our current community needs!

changes in Narberth. My wife and I have lived here for 20 years, and we chose Narberth because it offers a rare small-town feel while still being close to Philadelphia. That character is exactly what has made the borough so desirable.

Narberth is already crowded, with parking beyond capacity in many areas, more traffic, and increasing cut-through speeding by non-residents. Greater density and taller buildings will only make these problems worse and threaten the close-knit, walkable community that residents value. Our property values have grown in part because Narberth has remained a small, attractive community. Many of us helped make it that way, and it is frustrating to see changes proposed that could undermine that success.

Affordable housing matters, but these zoning changes are not the right fit for a town with limited space, parking, and infrastructure. I

Montgomery Ave. and nearby "General Urban Open" seem the best locations where development can happen more easily and the character of Narberth will not be damaged. These areas also seem to have more available space for development, both in unused parcels and in older commercial buildings that are crying out for smart updating, possibly with mixed use development which adds both commercial and housing.

		Narberth is crowded. Driving is awful and I can't imagine adding more cars. As much as council thinks people here don't have cars, that is just absolutely not true. People here own cars and use them on a daily basis. I really think the focus should on the store front and getting those empty stores filled or redone.
115064141555	Mar 21 2026 08:14	Not sure
		Beautiful old houses are being torn down. These houses-stand alone, twins, rows-give Narberth its character. There are already too many apartment buildings and too many cars. Apartment buildings block the sun and create too much density in a small town. Please stop the over-building!!!!!!
115060058251	Mar 21 2026 05:39
115063975971	Mar 20 2026 07:46	Because the downtown has been neglected
		Why to we have to have overcrowding. We are already loosing the quaintness of the town with the apartment buildings. They are an eyesore. Why to we need to look like a city when we are fine as a little village.
115063856051	Mar 20 2026 03:38
		Growth in 5a and 5b would support younger and older single renters as well as the business district, while avoiding encroachment on primarily residential streets. Districts 5a and 5b afford easy access to public transportation and can accomodate restricted multi-story development.
115063724894	Mar 20 2026 12:52
		Wait, as to your question below, what are the negatives? Why is the survey skewed towards the Burrell councils obvious viewpoints?
115063725135	Mar 20 2026 12:13
		What are you even asking? Open the stores back up in the town. Focus on that.
115063573171	Mar 20 2026 08:25

115063569184	Mar 20 2026 08:24	I think Narberth is dense enough. I just want to see the downtown renovated (one level or two) but retain its small town charm so that family friendly businesses can thrive there.
115063479083	Mar 20 2026 04:10	As long as parking is accounted for (no pressure on street parking), this is where residential growth should occur.
115063387242	Mar 19 2026 09:42	We are already dense. We do not need to encourage growth here.

115063255444	Mar 19 2026 05:28	Contain the growth to the town and selected areas without killing the neighborhood itself. Encouraging sprawl will just beget more impersonal spaces and reduces engagement for regular people
--------------	-------------------	--

115062569922	Mar 19 2026 04:10	Narberth is already dense enough. The density has increased in the 25+ years we've lived here and with it so has the traffic and parking. Cars fly up and down our block now during morning and afternoon rush hours; I can't imagine how much worse that will be once the Narberth Ave bridge is reopened and if the housing density is increased on Elmwood Ave. I drive to work on the south side station gardens (because of the amount of tools I need). Often I have difficulty finding a parking spot the way things are currently. Parking in town is an issue as well. Last year I had an injury that required me to be on crutches and therefore drive for my errands into Narberth. Even with the current density I often had difficulty finding parking within a reasonable distance of my destinations.

		What kind of a question is this? If I answer no, am I then marking the district that should encourage decay?
		The world is changing and the people who live and work and visit Narberth are changing with it. If Narberth tries to limit 'growth', Narberth is encouraging decay. If you take a walk along Haverford Ave downtown and actually look at the stores and storefronts without the 'I have lived here for 30 years' glasses, you will see a lot of decay.
115062994122	Mar 19 2026 11:20	Narberth needs to stop working so hard to encourage its decay. the more creative we can be when it comes to (in this case housing) solutions - innovation, forward motion and success tends to follow... and again, NIMBYISM has no place here.
115062935396	Mar 19 2026 09:57	Anywhere possible
115062863200	Mar 19 2026 08:04	Those are the commercial zones and those areas need to feed into the high density we have now. To help our small businesses thrive.
115062841550	Mar 19 2026 07:41	The primary focus should be revitalizing the downtown commercial district, which is currently in bad shape
115062850744	Mar 19 2026 07:36	I think our town is the perfect size right now. What we really should be focusing on is rebuilding our downtown with more Mom and pop shops and bringing back places like the American Family Market, Mapes and Rickland's.
115062661730	Mar 18 2026 10:51
115062620658	Mar 18 2026 09:01	Downtown growth should be for businesses only. There are enough apartments. We need to create a pathway for young families to come into narberth.
115062616471	Mar 18 2026 08:44	The zones are over built already.

		Montgomery Avenue is probably the only area to promote development. Lots have appropriate space and ample parking. Please don't misconstrue Montgomery Avenue development as deeming developing Montgomery Avenue adjacent Sabine Park, I am only referring to projects like the old Albrects site and the other old commercial or residential properties along Montgomery
115062592224	Mar 18 2026 08:12	avenue
115062596707	Mar 18 2026 07:56	Less controversial. The other neighborhoods in Narberth are already adequately developed.
115062557946	Mar 18 2026 06:32	See above
		The current density of Narberth is appropriate. Any more development will be too congested. We are a "town" and should 115062510349	Mar 18 2026 06:31	not be trying to be a city.
		Again we do not have the capacity in the 115062550936	Mar 18 2026 06:18	schools, not enough parking.
		This is where the current shops and
115062529833	Mar 18 2026 05:42	businesses reside
		I think we can just fix up what is currently in 115062523144	Mar 18 2026 05:35	place rather than increasing growth.
		This is a suburb and not an urban high density area with limited recourses and space is a premium. Adding larger buildings with more parking lots only increases non permeable space, more flooding and less
115061581111	Mar 18 2026 03:39	greenery.
		We already have a lot of growth in Narberth. When is enough going to be enough? Let growth occur but don't keep changing the 115062433695	Mar 18 2026 03:36	rules to encourage it to occur.
		If you want to develop more retail or commercial space, use downtown Narberth, which has since been vacated by most businesses, or Montgomery Avenue where the other commercial properties are. Leave
115061731115	Mar 18 2026 01:27	downtown alone!

115062214297	Mar 18 2026 11:16	I'd especially love to see some mixed use south of the train tracks
115062119703	Mar 18 2026 09:27	These areas appear to have the most opportunity to increase housing density. Growth does not need encouragement.
115062113173	Mar 18 2026 09:09	Narberth is growing fine I feel that you keep asking those questions because you assume that the people of Narberth want growth and we just need to decide how. But I don't. And I think most of my neighbors don't. We love the borough as it is and don't want to change its nature. If I were a real estate developer, then sure. But I'm not. If we have to have growth, I hope it will be at 5b and only there. It might harm my quality of life the least.
115061887536	Mar 17 2026 11:44	These areas are generally seen already as commercial corridors so increasing density here feels like the right choice between reducing impact to current residents and providing the most appeal to newcomers. Downtown can handle density and could drive better retail. If the developer ever gets moving with the S side haverford...
115061842830	Mar 17 2026 09:59
115060622430	Mar 17 2026 09:54	Downtown is priority! Why has it gone stagnant and why is it taking so long to develop the south side of the street? Get that developer moving. This is a problem.
115061846819	Mar 17 2026 09:54	Densifying makes sense close to transit and retail. Support denser development in 5a/b; less dense in 4a (~concentric circles)
115061798512	Mar 17 2026 08:15	Same answer as previous question. There's already an appropriate mix of businesses, single and multi-family homes.
115061789586	Mar 17 2026 07:52	I like the idea of creating a dense core in downtown and Montgomery Ave.
115061779554	Mar 17 2026 07:25	Many storefronts are not in use and should be repurposed or revamped.

115061703258	Mar 17 2026 06:00	We have a good mix of housing in "core" Narberth. Building up Montgomery Avenue does not impact the character of the rest of Narberth.
		In the shopping district, the growth should only be commercial and encourage independently-owned shops, restaurants, and service companies (e.g., shoemaker), and there should be a height limit to any new 115061721653	Mar 17 2026 05:55	buildings.
		The statement that the historic overlay limits new housing is not true. The historic overlay governs houses built up to and before 1945 and has prevented tear-downs of older homes for multi-million dollar homes to be built. That was the reason for it. More people in the borough is fine. Not accommodating what comes with the people - vehicles - is not. Disdaining people because they have vehicles is inappropriate. We need parking and the current proposal for .7 spaces per unit is not viable and would further burden the Borough with more cars on the street, limit parking for those coming into town to shop and dine, and be unsafe for the children who play in the street. It doesn't support older residents who need to park near their homes either. It's impractical. Montgomery Avenue is the only place a new apartment building would be appropriate.
		Narberth doesn't need growth just for growth's sake. The overwhelming appeal of our borough is based on the quiet "small town" or village charm that everyone loves so much. Don't diminish that.
115060677974	Mar 17 2026 04:43	Less is more.
		There has been an explosion of apartments the schools are overcrowded and so are the
115061675604	Mar 17 2026 04:41	roadways

115061655678	Mar 17 2026 04:28	The business district has lost many business owners (American Family Market, Ricklin's, McShea's, Mapes, and replaced with Vape store, Voter Information store, or no stores at all! Stores have been shut down, vacant locations exists, with no apparent plan in place! No plan for parking. Very embarrassing!
115061661981	Mar 17 2026 04:22	Read my last comment
115061639128	Mar 17 2026 04:06	Montgomery Avenue is already dense and noisy and filled with businesses. Please, let's not make the rest of Narberth more like that. Less so for downtown, this is pretty much complete. The southern shops could be
115061646247	Mar 17 2026 04:06	refreshed and expanded.
115061612526	Mar 17 2026 03:21	Too much growth has impacted our taxes, sewers, parking and taking down of trees
115060569562	Mar 17 2026 02:51	None. Any development policy should prioritize the quality of life of current residents first. Our schools are overcrowded and that must be addressed before any growth is considered.
115061548912	Mar 17 2026 02:11	Concentrating density in the borough's core, close to transit stops, makes sense for walkability and economic development, while allowing the single family home neighborhoods to remain consistent with current use patterns.
115061518084	Mar 17 2026 01:31	Because it's already built up to much
115061344175	Mar 17 2026 11:47	Again, to maintain quality of life in this area, growth on any should not be prioritized.

		Why do we want to grow?
		We have empty buildings downtown because there is not enough traffic, due to the council, shutting down the bridge for more than a decade.
		Solve that first, get the storefront utilized again, and then let's come back and have a discussion about growth.
115061424997	Mar 17 2026 11:35
115061399430	Mar 17 2026 11:06	I like Narberth the way it is
115061354599	Mar 17 2026 10:59	Growth? This is a fully developed area. Not currently a big destination or hot spot in Narberth, maybe new development could help.
115061365285	Mar 17 2026 10:28
115061366310	Mar 17 2026 10:26	No need for more people.
115061339765	Mar 17 2026 10:10	It is already maxed out. Again. How do we bring more housing in without solving the lack of parking and the lack of stores downtown.
115061306163	Mar 17 2026 09:04	It's already a busy area so keep it in the same area. Don't try to contest an already narrow / busy downtown. Parking is already an issue, don't make it worse.
115061296925	Mar 17 2026 08:52
115061291982	Mar 17 2026 08:42	Too dense already
		Plenty of growth already happening. Needs to be sustainable. Affordability matters, but packing in everyone like sardines will cause more problems than fix.
115061285157	Mar 17 2026 08:36
		Where are all these new residents going to park? How many more kids can cram into Lower Merion High School? Why should we build more when we have a lot of empty storefronts and apartments?
115061274807	Mar 17 2026 08:19
		My answer is "all." I think modest growth spread across Narberth is desirable, but limited upzoning that targets specific regions only benefits developers creating a negligible increase in "affordable" housing
115061260963	Mar 17 2026 07:57

		See above. Narberth infrastructure could not handle type of "gentle" population growth being proposed. Downtown changes would also negate charm of town. These changes seem to be designed by developers to increase building size and their opportunities. At the same time Borough is increasing
115061060299	Mar 16 2026 10:45	income taxes on its residents.
115061054380	Mar 16 2026 10:40	See above
		We already have limited space and amenities
115061041935	Mar 16 2026 09:45	for current residents
115061030500	Mar 16 2026 09:20	Depends on what you mean by encouraged
		We need open area for parks and natural settings. We have enough housing in Narberth- it is a borough. It's not even a mile wide. I am in fear of another Ardmore. I hate what Ardmore has become. It is overbuilt and
115060922414	Mar 16 2026 05:37	crowded with traffic, etc
115060917184	Mar 16 2026 05:15	Space available
115060901331	Mar 16 2026 04:53	It's fine
		They should concentrate on getting vibrant stores in town- people will come- Narberth did well many years ago before we even had the new apartment buildings- Downtown is run
115060876239	Mar 16 2026 04:15	down and vacant-
		There is room in those areas and the stores in that area look shabby and always have 115060752736	Mar 16 2026 01:47	trash on the pavement.
		This question is worded unclearly. Do you mean which district should result in more population growth? Isn't there data to support
115060689505	Mar 16 2026 12:13	this answer vs community members opinions?
		They have higher density buildings and could
115060336343	Mar 15 2026 10:33	support redevelopment and reinvestment.

115060329340	Mar 15 2026 10:13	Too crowded. No parking. Focus on parking and getting in businesses that will bring economic growth from the surrounding neighborhoods.
115060264180	Mar 15 2026 09:44	Our downtown is being hamstrung by empty storefronts and bridge closure along with unaffordable rent for small businesses
115060280089	Mar 15 2026 06:46	Montgomery ave has been bad forever, downtown needs to go up or it will stagnate. Since there is no land only way to go is up
		If I had to choose, I'd choose 5b. Montgomery already doesn't really have the Narberth feel to it, and more units there will not harm the traffic, parking, and greenery of the borough to the same degree. But, again, why should we grow at all? What's wrong with our current size? In any event, I strongly, strongly oppose ideas to increase density in any of the "3" areas (3a, 3b, or 3c). Those are truly horrible ideas. I know that the borough council might think, "We were elected, so we must reform something," but that is not always the case. You are trying to fix something that is really not broken.
115060253068	Mar 15 2026 05:21	Already dense enough.

115060254756	Mar 15 2026 05:20	Too much density, too little parking There is enough development in Narberth. No
115060250098	Mar 15 2026 05:09	more!! Narberth is already over crowded. High density development will lead to overcrowded schools. There already is no place to park and more development without sufficient
115060249961	Mar 15 2026 05:09	parking will be awful. instead of encouraging building more apartments housing should be encouraged to
115060247899	Mar 15 2026 05:03	keep the integrity of the small town I do not want additional development, nor
115060248228	Mar 15 2026 05:03	higher buildings. Montgomery Ave is the only location where high density housing wouldn't be extremely
115060233550	Mar 15 2026 04:31	disruptive to the existing community. These local business corridors have many
115060214603	Mar 15 2026 03:27	empty store fronts. We do need to do something about the nearly vacant row of businesses on Haverford
115060212400	Mar 15 2026 03:23	Ave downtown. We are dense enough!! Demand the owner of downtown to get moving on his property. Give deadlines with
115060197092	Mar 15 2026 02:54	finer for the blight in the downtown. I am less concerned with growth in housing stock than I am with the deterioration of the downtown business district. Parking is a major factor in building a vibrant downtown and is a problem today. The current proposals exacerbate this situation. I would prefer council concentrate time and resources on policies meant to attract businesses and revitalize downtown.
115060137027	Mar 15 2026 11:28	Growth of diversity would be borough-wide

		Narberth is fully built out with a nice mix of organically developed single family, duplex and multi family structures. Forcing more dense development is not necessary and will adversely affect the health safety and welfare of the Borough
115060083468	Mar 15 2026 08:14
115060073222	Mar 15 2026 07:43	We already suffer from an uptick in traffic. By growth, I mean not staying derelict. We need more reasonable, decent commercial real estate
115059873566	Mar 15 2026 07:34
		What kind of growth- not explained. This set of questions is clearly biased towards encouraging commercial development. We need to save the downtown and there's certainly room to encourage more Montgomery Ave redevelopment - I'd oppose rezoning 4(a)
115059883987	Mar 14 2026 04:57
115059873327	Mar 14 2026 04:21	Narberth is good the way it is.
115059842273	Mar 14 2026 03:01	Spread out the challenges across the board Narberth does NOT need additional growth. It is a small town feel within the larger Lower Merion twp. No more apartments are needed.
115059805265	Mar 14 2026 01:25	Please STOP
		I think Montgomery Ave and Downtown can have growth (apartment buildings; mixed use) that would provide increased housing, but still allow for a "small town feel." I would hope that development would maintain character (store front windows, alcove entrance) instead of industrial character.
115059775213	Mar 14 2026 12:10
115059774865	Mar 14 2026 12:09	Already overpopulated
115059761110	Mar 14 2026 11:34	Geography.

115059723787	Mar 14 2026 10:08	Again, I believe the existing density is acceptable. Narberth is a tiny community and cannot make a dent in regional issues. I would like the Borough to concentrate on developing the business district, as it's been allowed to remain vacant and deteriorated the past few years.
115059710635	Mar 14 2026 09:47	I like Narberth the way it is.
115059698594	Mar 14 2026 09:15
115059670698	Mar 14 2026 08:31	Define growth! Population growth? Retail growth? Taxable entities? Growth of rentable properties? What are you looking for? (There are plenty of tutorials on how to design surveys available online.)
115059634310	Mar 14 2026 06:25	I think there should be a focus on making sure corporations that own apartments take care of them. There are numerous apartment buildings already that appear to be falling apart. The large green house on the corner of Hampden and Windsor is one example. The trash and recycling often blows all over the neighborhood. More apartments are only good for the corporation that own them. They don't add to the quality of life for neighbors while charging desperate tenants very high rents. The solution is not more for the landlords.

		I don't feel like we should limit zoning to the existing zone structure. I would like to see a holistic look at all zones and develop a long term growth plan with incremental steps. This may require several zoning changes and housing program support over several years and coordination with developers to support the community needs. The downtown is in major need of support and should be the
115059494218	Mar 13 2026 09:02	leave single family/twin housing as is
		I think growth should not include high rise apartment buildings but mixed use and starter homes that encourage business
115059483150	Mar 13 2026 08:32	growth and allow families to build equity
		4a- Close to public transit and commercial hub.
		5b- More ownership in multi-unit with condo
115059472549	Mar 13 2026 08:07	format/ smaller SF units = affordable.
		This question implies that changes to the current zoning must be made. Current zoning allows for growth, in my opinion. So, I believe It depends on how one defines growth. I am concerned about zoning changes altering Narberth's small town feel. Many newer residents left more congested areas for Narberth.
		So, I wouldn't mind some "growth" where retail shops exist, parking is available, and some reasonable development would be 115059397809	Mar 13 2026 05:41	positive .
115059397299	Mar 13 2026 05:40	Retail growth not residential growth.
		Those areas are already able to handle both business and the rentals that the Borough Council and Planning Commission seem 115059353878	Mar 13 2026 04:32	focused on.

115059276344	Mar 13 2026 02:52	Everyone talks of preserving open space. We had the opportunity to lease/sell 201 Sabine to a local school. All improvements would have been underwritten by the tenant. Open space would have been preserved. Instead, it sounds as if this was never the Borough's intent. So we lose a park, open space and a structural mainstay. With its own parking.
115059216937	Mar 13 2026 01:43	Denser neighborhoods encourage business growth and access to SEPTA train station
115059202339	Mar 13 2026 01:26	Preserving the neighborhood feel of the existing neighborhoods should be a strong priority. That is what gives Narberth its essential character as a place where kids can ride bikes and trick or treat.
115059199828	Mar 13 2026 01:23	The only thing worse than more density is keeping those dilapidated downtown buildings around for 10 years. We need to figure out how to avoid a ten year construction project like what happened with Ricklins to the new building
115059192708	Mar 13 2026 01:15	It is important to the vitality of downtown to have high density closest to the corridors that have shops, restaurants, etc. I am not opposed to thoughtful growth in all the residential areas as well.
115059139794	Mar 13 2026 12:19	I would like the downtown to be more useful again. Places to buy groceries, cute places to sit and have coffee. We are losing the charm and prettiness that we used to have.

115059084902	Mar 13 2026 11:15	We should allow the housing market to operate freely instead of allowing a minority cartel of NIMBYs to enforce a housing shortage that makes the entire region poorer. Half the stores in Narberth are closed or boarded up. How about fixing the parking issue (ex. build a parking garage in the lot behind Citizens bank) Narberth is similar to Manayunk in that the retail businesses are limited bc there is nowhere to park. A business (not the government) needs to invest in the retail section of Narberth. Once that happens then I believe a
115059029177	Mar 13 2026 10:15	discussion about growth is appropriate.
115059016349	Mar 13 2026 10:04	We are in a housing crisis. Narberth's cost of housing has increased more than almost anywhere else in the immediate region. We need an all-hands-on-deck response to the problem. Narberth has the bones to allow and promote a more sustainable, community-oriented lifestyle. The cherished "neighborhood character" of the borough is the result of the wide mix of housing and commercial building types we have, not a result of heavy-handed homogenous zoning. If the market can support more housing and more housing types in more areas, allow them!

		You answer the question....Why is growth an 115059008396	Mar 13 2026 09:55	objective?
		open space is incredibly valuable and impossible to replace. taking more of it for 115057474991	Mar 11 2026 03:41	private use is a terrible, horrible idea
115056853753	Mar 10 2026 07:24	Already too much traffic and apartments
		Montgomery Ave and downtown Narberth have the most opportunity for development with the most traffic and pedestrian visibility.
		Both locations are also walkable to public transportation. Both locations offer developers a mix of both commercial and 115056786206	Mar 10 2026 05:28	residential units to help offset building costs.
		I support neighborhood residential growth if that means that homes that are clearly falling apart and unkept are torn down and replaced with single family homes or townhomes that cost the current median home price. In my opinion, the Borough should focus on improving what we have (such as sidewalks, aged housing, the downtown area, and the playground that is desperately in need of an update) rather than being concerned with
115056716831	Mar 10 2026 03:55	lowering the value of our homes.
115056427899	Mar 10 2026 11:14	There should be more housing variety
		Existing areas of higher density and existing services could support more development. In addition, permitting Accessory Dwelling Units in more residential neighborhoods could
115055737959	Mar 09 2026 01:14	increase housing stock.

		Downtown has already be decimated by closures and promises of redevelopment that is not following a reasonable timetable. We have lost essential services in Narberths: grocery, pharmacy, hardware, Mapes. We have had store closures with promises of rebuilding that doesn't happen. We have had apartments approved and then had delays in completing the construction. We should demand courtyards or open space for any future apartment construction but I think that aside from 5b, we should limit future apartment construction.
		See explanation above. Narberth is already a densely populated municipality. We do not need increased density
115054893005	Mar 07 2026 02:32
		I don't have a problem with growth anywhere as long as it truly benefits people who need affordable housing, and not just developers who are speculating. I'm going to keep saying it- units should be required to be reserved as truly affordable, rather than just hoping developers build enough to bring down the rent.
115054822634	Mar 07 2026 10:53
115054818523	Mar 07 2026 10:39	Current density already exists
115054764808	Mar 07 2026 07:38	No room to build anything.
		The town is already very dense. Most houses barely have yards and the streets are already packed with cars. We need more green space. We should not overdevelop any open space we have, cause once it's gone we are never getting it back. We also have created new parking spots on Haverford Ave that are packed every night. So if we have plenty of parking, why is every spot always taken??
115054637889	Mar 06 2026 09:33

115054627122	Mar 06 2026 08:50	The downtown needs some help. We have a few good stores and buildings that are falling apart.
		Narberth doesn't particularly need to grow.
115054558294	Mar 06 2026 05:31	I could see some development on Montgomery Avenue being acceptable, as long as there's sufficient residential parking.
115054549713	Mar 06 2026 05:13	Instead of building more dwelling units, increase parking (especially in downtown Narberth), re-incorporate Narberth into Lower Merion Township, and build more businesses within Narberth to attract more spending from outside the borough.
115054533479	Mar 06 2026 04:42	More density and foot traffic near our walkable urban downtown and the developing urban corridor on Montgomery Avenue will add more street life and support more amenities for residents and also make us more of a priority in regional transit decision making. 5b has the most potential for growth for commercial and residential units under the current code. There is no need to expand past the 45' height limit.
115054430036	Mar 06 2026 02:04	Keep the current restrictions that are in place, do not expand them.

Why do we need growth? To collect more taxes from more residents? Can't the borough just manage spending better? I don't see any benefit to the existing residents.

And btw - if the goal is to get households earning "80% or less of the Area Median Income" moving into Narberth, those households won't have the disposable income to support Narberth businesses. Neither will the borough be collecting significant tax revenues from these households to expand the tax base. Again, I do not see the benefit to adding low income housing in Narberth.

Mar 05 2026 06:04

The downtown is dilapidated, sad and for the most part empty. It does not have offerings for the majority of residents who live here. Most family who live here go out for food, entertainment, and family, outings or vitalize downtown will allow the community that lives here to actually engage in the borough.

change is the 5a zone where we need to get tenants with interesting businesses. Years ago, a shopper could buy shoes, jewelry, greeting cards, and lots of household items that Mapes sold. It was great. Now, there's not much to entice a resident or outsider to come into the town. Additionally, parking is at a premium everywhere in Narberth, especially in the downtown. There are already too many apartments downtown. I don't understand how adding more housing in 5a would be a good. I do NOT think 5b should be developed with tall apartment buildings. Walking along Montgomery Ave, which I sometimes do, is already very dangerous. Developing it more will only make it worse, unless a barrier is added to protect pedestrians and unless there are pedestrian walkways. Montgomery Ave is too much of a thruway already. Of course, adding unnecessary housing in 5b is a recipe for increasing the traffic. Some of the businesses on Montgomery Ave could

Mar 05 2026 04:50 certainly improve their facilities and look more

The only area that needs improvement is the dilapidated downtown that is run down and mismanaged. It needs cute shops, grocery, green spaces and places of interest. The people who live here want good quality of life, safe streets for our kids, a lively and engaging community. An influx of renters in low income/affordable housing doesn't accomplish any of this. In fact, it would do the

Mar 05 2026 04:48 opposite.

		As above, the Zoning Districts 3a and 5b are the only districts that can handle an increase in family dwellings. They have ready access to Wynnewood and Montgomery Avenue for vehicular traffic.
115053674682	Mar 05 2026 01:53	How amenable would the residents in 3a be to having their district become more dense with the various housing types listed above? I think there are certain areas that will allow for more space, development, and yes parking will be needed. Please talk to current
115053484611	Mar 05 2026 09:45	owners of apartments now.
115053463403	Mar 05 2026 09:20	Montgomery Avenue could definitely be revitalized and downtown Narberth has so many businesses that are not operational right now I could really bring growth if those empty spaces were filled and thriving.
115053011548	Mar 04 2026 04:15	There is no reason to limit growth to one part of the Borough. While different typologies may be appropriate in different areas, every area of the Borough can and should be considered for growth, even if it is achieved differently.

There is already existing as well as potential space on Montgomery Avenue to build more homes. The other areas have little to no space for additional homes. Of course the down town area obviously needs to be revitalized with stores.

In addition, the section below mentions increasing the tax base. If Narberth needs more residents to increase the tax base, this should be addressed in greater detail. Questions such as: "What issues do we have with the tax base? How much does the tax base need to be increased to maintain financial stability? How many additional residents are needed to achieve the specified increase in tax base?" Increasing the tax base has not been clearly defined in any of the public discussions related to increasing density. If this is an important issue, it needs to be clearly addressed.

Montgomery Ave has potential open space that can permit wise growth. The other districts cannot sustain the types of growth being considered here

See above

Fix the existing code and move on. Fix the parks and infrastructure. Look at what has happened to this town over the past 5-7 years. Enough with the housing changes. Move on and readdress after the bridge is opened.

		Montgomery Avenue is a main corridor, and appropriate for larger-scale buildings. The 3a districts represent the properties in our town that have been previously unaffected by any of the stressors of density. They have the lot sizes to support a variety of buildings. Why should those neighborhoods continue to be 115051472677	Mar 02 2026 05:11	excluded from growth discussions?
115051397265	Mar 02 2026 03:45	More appealing to small town feel of our community
		Narberth is already very dense and very built out. There are nearly 4,500 people living in a one-half square mile. The Montgomery Ave corridor offers the best opportunities for population growth. The new building on the former site of Albrecht's is a good example of the potential for growth along Montgomery
115051300079	Mar 02 2026 01:55	Ave.

115051275887	Mar 02 2026 01:26	reinvigorated. Even in the last 10-15 years, the decline from what Narberth used to be is evident. Seeing so many store fronts sit empty that used to have businesses occupying them that actually contributed to everyday needs is a shame (I assume these are privately owned spaces, not owned by the borough). Even today as a long term resident of Narberth, the places I frequent are the places I feel actually add to the community. The Greeks, GET Cafe, Yiasou are businesses that feel authentic to the "Narberth Experience" I've had my whole life. I am not a patron of businesses in Narberth not because I want to support an overpriced chain restaurant, but because I prefer to spend money at places that seem to legitimately care about the community of which they are a part. I also understand that it is not the borough directly deciding which businesses occupy retail space, but if I were a small business owner I might find it more difficult to establish myself in a town where
115051270985	Mar 02 2026 01:26	We should encourage growth everywhere. Obviously the downtown district will be the most attractive to new residents and also the most likely to permit new multi-family housing, but this does not preclude upzoning everywhere else to allow greater flexibility in what gets developed.
115051098903	Mar 02 2026 10:06	As I said above - we're full. I'd like to see the downtown focus on filling the vacant storefronts and revitalizing Narberth as a place to visit so all our local businesses can thrive. If more housing goes in with the ridiculous proposal of .7 parking spaces per unit, our community will become less desirable to live in and visit due to overcrowding, lack of parking, and general congestion.

115051076171 Mar 02 2026 09:46 These areas could support more buildings.

115050961564 Mar 02 2026 07:01 WE are already over built , we need to maintain the space we have. Downtown is fast starting to look like Philadelphia if this pace of development continues and 5 stories will ruin it even more, we need more parking . Keep the present building code as is not change for anyone. The courts will back us up holding to less development to conform to our present code. The projected parking spaces for these proposed units is a joke. People have more cars and not less.

115050801257 Mar 01 2026 10:53 I'm very happy with the mix of zoning. We are more densely populated in the center of town with apartments and condos. As we move away from downtown Narberth the housing style changes to less dense zoning type. This works and doesn't need to change. If we keep increasing density, there will become a parking problem or other issues. I'm not sure what is meant by "encourage growth". Do you mean take that zoning type and spread it around town, or focus on improving it? Narberth is already overcrowded with apartment units.

115050790761 Mar 01 2026 10:13 A vibrant, fully occupied Downton business area needs more parking so more retail can return.

115050784742 Mar 01 2026 09:51 We should look to stabilize Narberth, not continue to grow unchecked.

115050741910 Mar 01 2026 07:10 I would rather see housing growth in that zone rather than downtown.

		It would be really nice to have some commercial presence on the South Side of Narberth near the train station. I also don't agree that 3a should be off-limits for change. Just because 3a was developed more recently, does not mean to me that it should not see affordable housing and changes to the type of housing built.
115050706998	Mar 01 2026 05:06
		The Montgomery Ave corridor has the most potential for growth. The other areas are largely already built out.
115050682638	Mar 01 2026 03:40
		You need another solution for raising money. What are other options???? Joining the township? What would that look like?
115050633711	Mar 01 2026 12:50
115050616921	Mar 01 2026 11:52	Density equals less desirable conditions.
115050605452	Mar 01 2026 11:11	No infrastructure.
		Narberth is already very densely populated, with almost every square inch has a structure. I think there should be a preservation of the very tiny amounts of open space that are available. That has a huge environmental and daily life enhancing affect.
115050601543	Mar 01 2026 10:59
		Downtown needs to be finalized and any other development should be put on hold until is it finished.
115050593051	Mar 01 2026 10:31
		Development on and adjacent to Montgomery Avenue is common sense. Development in the residential and near-residential area is not only necessary to support Septa and the downtown businesses, but also imminently possible with the need for significant work in the area already. It is one thing to be patient and cautious about development in an area with little opportunity, and another thing entirely to disregard opportunity when construction is already necessary and inevitable.
115050586096	Mar 01 2026 10:09

115050541338	Mar 01 2026 07:17	We are tired of the word "growth." Leave us alone and maybe reface and or redevelop the business district. Make it a showplace without high rise apartments. Haddonfield???? More population density does not equal a successful business district. Great parking and an aesthetically pleasing place to shop does. Forget crunching numbers and give us a beautiful little town!!!!
115050379971	Feb 28 2026 06:18	Downtown could bring in additional revenue through business revenue.
115050367565	Feb 28 2026 05:28	Narberth does not need further growth. Parking is already inadequate and getting worse. Development downtown has only exacerbated the problem.

I think the rationale for more growth should first be explained. With specifics - like how much more of a tax base is desired and why?

IF more growth is indeed needed for financial reasons, then I would favor low rise growth along Montgomery Ave. I don't see how we can fit more low-rise growth downtown.

115050342008	Feb 28 2026 04:01	A small amount of low-rise growth could occur on Sabine where the current building is. These seem like areas where higher density dwellings would have walkable access to commercial activity, and so have less need
115050320175	Feb 28 2026 02:55	for parking.
115050310749	Feb 28 2026 02:28	If Narberth tried to do anything in the downtown, the special interests will get a hold of it and ruin it.

I think we should think creatively about affordable units in all areas of Narberth. I would especially like to see a revitalization of downtown Narberth that includes affordable housing. Our downtown area has tremendous potential that is not currently being leveraged.

115050233228	Feb 28 2026 10:58	See above

		Narberth's downtown business district has been savaged with the loss of independent businesses, thanks to Tim Rubin. Half of Haverford Avenue sits empty going on 4 years now, with 8 empty storefronts. The few survivors are month to month. His lack of a plan and arrogance of inaction clearly shows he doesn't know what he's doing with the money he inherited from his uncle, Ron. He shoehorned in a couple of architecture-less apartments and turned the Little Gym into what are literally underground apartments. They are far from being considered affordable housing. The remaining merchants in the business district have endured 3 Christmas shopping seasons with a dead business district. I'm stunned more haven't left. The borough council needs to start fining Tim Rubin for every month he sits on his hands and leaves half the business district fallow.
		Narberth is bursting at the seams, there is no room for growth!
115050170379	Feb 28 2026 08:01
		Too congested. More housing brings more traffic. The thought that people moving here won't have cars is unrealistic. They'll actually have multiple cars. It will ruin this town. I live across from an apartment building and every person in the building has a car. Some of the cars aren't even driven. They just sit in the street and are driven 1-2x's per month.
115050166630	Feb 28 2026 07:48

115050162831	Feb 28 2026 07:35	We have a ton of apartments here. How would rents be restricted to make them "affordable". Would the Borough subsidize owners? Who is paying the "density bonuses"? I think more apartments would be built and then also be unaffordable in the future when rents are raised. I don't want taller buildings or more density. I want the small-town community feeling. If I wanted to live in a City, I'd live downtown.
115050008862	Feb 27 2026 09:47	Local government should encourage growth in the business districts by promoting investment, encouraging new business to locate there and reducing or eliminating taxes that inhibit growth and drive business away from the Borough, i.e. the unnecessary EIT tax that does not exist in Lower Merion.
115050002230	Feb 27 2026 09:25	Half of downtown is empty. Something needs to be done asap. It's been too long and the borough needs to do what they can to encourage the storefronts to be renovated / developed.
115049993148	Feb 27 2026 09:07	The borough needs to take steps to strongly encourage developers to turnover the downtown properties currently sitting unimproved or empty. We do not need additional residential growth, we need to prevent developers sitting on empty properties in order to force friendly zoning changes.
115049983508	Feb 27 2026 08:40	Both areas already have a footprint and potential capacity for added housing via apartments granted parking can be added or accommodated in some way.
115049983437	Feb 27 2026 08:40	A lot of single family homes on large lots can absorb the growth best.

115049964913	Feb 27 2026 07:48	Residential areas need to be protected from noise, foot traffic and parking issues. Nearly one whole side of the street is underutilized. It is a missed opportunity.
115049945446	Feb 27 2026 06:57	Media, Wayne are bustling with business.
115049932064	Feb 27 2026 06:27	I have lived in Lower Merion since 1990 and am so incredibly sad to walk through downtown Narberth and see shuttered, dilapidated buildings. While I recognize that downtown buildings may need development and in the process could benefit from having some apartments over the top of the shops, there is no way that having apartment buildings is going to fully sustain businesses downtown. Businesses in downtown Narberth will only survive with the support of neighborhood people walking to them AND people from the surrounding area driving and PARKING as customers. Building apartments only further exacerbates an already problematic parking situation and the net effect will be to decrease patrons at local businesses.
115049928424	Feb 27 2026 06:19	Again, I like the idea of creating more permanent housing for families that want to live in the Borough.
115049923713	Feb 27 2026 06:09	All, not only commercial corridors but residential areas have need for expansion and development of open spaces to create ADU's, apartments and other accessible housing for the future growth of our borough

		Downtown needs to be revitalized. It is not a place that people want to be. We should encourage people from other towns to come to Narberth for shopping and dining. There is nothing to do in Narberth after 5 pm. No where to get coffee and just sit with a friend. I don't enjoy pubs and would like a nice place to go.
115049914829	Feb 27 2026 05:51	Downtown needs to be revitalized. It's so sad to see half of the town sit empty.
		Montgomery Ave needs to be refreshed and with increased safety.
115049908620	Feb 27 2026 05:40
		These are the only areas equipped to handle more cars.
115049899106	Feb 27 2026 05:25

		No zoning districts in Narberth should be altered to "encourage growth" if that means increasing density or subsidizing development at the expense of residents. Growth for growth's sake isn't beneficial—Narberth is already at a sustainable size. Districts like 5b (Montgomery Avenue) and 4a should maintain current restrictions to protect property values and prevent traffic congestion. The idea that we need growth to address a nonexistent affordability crisis is flawed; high costs are a sign of value, and tampering with zoning could erode that. Let market forces handle it without intervention.
115049898645	Feb 27 2026 05:24
115049888829	Feb 27 2026 05:07	Walkability to downtown without driving Narberth is already densely populated, so I think that new housing needs to be created on a property-by-property basis. Also the many unoccupied buildings in downtown could be used as housing if they are quality and not delayed forever like some of the apartments.

		We also need actual businesses to move into downtown Narberth. The empty buildings can kill a town.

115049873818	Feb 27 2026 04:43	Growth in commercial spaces, no additional housing.
115049826479	Feb 27 2026 03:32	Narberth is already dense. Those who want greater density should move to the City.
115049752627	Feb 27 2026 01:55	Appears disconnected from Narberth. Not clear what it is-could be better gateway presentation to a vibrant community
115049725876	Feb 27 2026 01:29	We have to address the completely dead downtown area as a top priority. We talk about the ability to "walk into town" but where do we think people are walking to? If you put new first floor commercial space on Montgomery - with better advertising visibility, probably better parking, and newer facilities in close proximity to other businesses - that will very quickly become far more desirable than any interest in remodeling the downtown. You want housing affordability, but you have handed so much control of the town to a very small collection of developers that you have ignored business affordability. The rents that the developers are allowed to command for some of the dilapidated buildings downtown leave them sitting completely vacant.
115049696988	Feb 27 2026 12:54	They both have existing infrastructure that desperately needs improvement. They are our key business zones and they are not fully filled now; improve them before looking elsewhere.
115049689005	Feb 27 2026 12:44	Because it seems to be a separate entity from Narberth and is a place where you can tinker without too much damage.

		Other than our downtown commercial district and on Montgomery Ave, where we could use to have businesses in the empty spaces, it doesn't seem like we need more growth. A lot of Narberths charm is its small town nature; more growth would make us less of a small town, and that would be a big loss.
115049686426	Feb 27 2026 12:40
115049675397	Feb 27 2026 12:26	Supporting businesses and commuters.
		The code changes seem to be employing a template that one should add density in 4a to "solve" the transition from downtown to residential. Our 4a is so shallow/thin that any height increases there will separate the center not integrate it.
115049668829	Feb 27 2026 12:18
		We need growth distributed through all of Narberth.

Survey on Housing Affordability in Narberth

What do you think about Narberth Planning Commission's proposed zoning changes in the 5b zoning district (Montgomery Avenue)?

115064743915	Mar 23 2026	I do not agree with these changes. I do not believe that making these big changes will be in the interest of the current Narberth residents. These tall buildings will change the character of this small town, and block light to many neighbors. This will also increase the traffic and parking, by allowing reductions in the parking spot requirements.
115064722535	Mar 22 2026	If you can find a place for parking for all the extra cars this building will create, go for it.
115061821894	Mar 22 2026	How would such high buildings affect the current residents who live on the streets behind them off of Montgomery
115064702162	Mar 22 2026	oppose zoning changes. Insufficient parking is going to add a burden on the already swamped side streets and going to make things clogged and worse for everyone. shortage of parking is going to be your fault
115064702755	Mar 22 2026	I am opposed to any new development whatsoever other than in the downtown business district. We already have new apartment buildings that aren't full yet.
115064688961	Mar 22 2026	Not in favor.
115064677767	Mar 22 2026	.7 parking spaces is completely unrealistic. Almost everyone in these units will need a car. 900 feet is not nearby when you are carrying groceries and maybe have a toddler in your hand. Increases in density even on Montgomery are coming at a huge cost. Builders are slapping up generic units everywhere, and it will not be different here. Insufficient parking spaces will greatly impact the small side streets coming off Montgomery Avenue. Houses there do not have driveways and there is already a shortage of parking spots on those streets. Love it. It's an under-developed area that has the potential to provide more housing and an improved landscape that would support and encourage small businesses on both sides of 19072. My business has benefited greatly from the new units on Meeting House and all the panic and disapproval from area residents turned out to be an overreaction to fear.
115064675738	Mar 22 2026	overreaction to fear.
115064657737	Mar 22 2026	Approve.
115064627408	Mar 22 2026	I agree.
115064600577	Mar 22 2026	I am not in favor of buildings being higher in the downtown area. I think we need more row homes and cottages in the borough not high-rise apartment buildings
115064598516	Mar 22 2026	Don't want high rises
115064561844	Mar 22 2026	If this is Sabine it should remain a park
115064528632	Mar 22 2026	Think Central Park Washington square park rittenhouse square- parks make places good to live in
		I am in favor of them but would like to see a change to the requirement for five stories to be 20% (not 10%) of the units for those earning 80% or less.
		I respectfully oppose the proposed zoning changes in Narberth. My wife and I have lived here for 20 years, and one of the main reasons we chose Narberth was its unique character: a small-town community with close proximity to Philadelphia. That balance is what has made Narberth such a desirable place to live.
		I am concerned that increasing population density, building heights, and reducing the ability to manage parking will significantly change the character of the borough. Narberth already feels overcrowded at times. Parking is beyond capacity in many areas, forcing residents and visitors to rely on street parking. Traffic has also increased, including cut-through drivers who often speed through town without regard for the people who live here.
		The appeal of Narberth has always been that it has remained a small, walkable, close-knit community. That quality has also helped support rising property values for homeowners throughout the borough. Many residents have invested years in making this community more desirable, and these proposed changes feel less like thoughtful planning and more like a move that could undermine the very qualities that made Narberth successful in the first place.
		Affordable housing is an important issue, but these zoning changes do not seem like the right solution for a town that is already built out, congested, and limited in parking and infrastructure. Adding more density to an already crowded community risks eroding Narberth's small-town feel and quality of life.
		I urge borough leaders to protect the character, livability, and stability of Narberth and reject these proposed zoning changes.
115064496918	Mar 22 2026	Building higher on this area is fine, just not in the downtown area
		Narberth is already operating beyond the safe capacity of its infrastructure.
		The borough's narrow streets, limited parking, and aging utilities were designed for a much smaller population.
		Adding density without first modernizing infrastructure increases the likelihood of traffic conflicts, pedestrian risk, and emergency access failures. Residents are already experiencing unsafe conditions, especially around parking and congestion.

115064324856 Mar 21 2026 More apartments on Montgomery Ave? Aren't there enough from Bala through Wayne? How in the world do you think that 0.7 parking spaces per residential unit is a good idea?

115064276832 Mar 21 2026 NO MORE BUILDING G IN NARBERTH!! Why would the "Planning Commission" even consider increasing an already too dense village?! ALSO, Narberth & Lower Merion are currently working towards addressing the horrendous and dangerous conditions on Montgomery Ave. It is not reasonable or frankly even rationale to consider adding to a significant/dangerous problem that already currently exists (Mont. Ave corridor).

I respectfully oppose the proposed zoning changes in Narberth. My wife and I have lived here for 20 years, and we chose Narberth because it offers a rare small-town feel while still being close to Philadelphia. That character is exactly what has made the borough so desirable.

Narberth is already crowded, with parking beyond capacity in many areas, more traffic, and increasing cut-through speeding by non-residents. Greater density and taller buildings will only make these problems worse and threaten the close-knit, walkable community that residents value. Our property values have grown in part because Narberth has remained a small, attractive community. Many of us helped make it that way, and it is frustrating to see changes proposed that could undermine that success.

115064277004 Mar 21 2026 Affordable housing matters, but these zoning changes are not the right fit for a town with limited space, parking, and infrastructure. I urge borough leaders to reject them and preserve Narberth's character and quality of life.

115064261457 Mar 21 2026 this seems to be the most likely area for smart developoement. But I would caution AGAINST these limited parking provisions. They are always a folly when the "dream" is that people will take public transit, ride bikes (what a joke!), etc. Please don't shoot all of us in the feet by curtailing adequate parking. Look in other areas where adequate parking provisions have foolishly been restricted for dreamy, impractical alternatives like trains, bikes, etc. You end up with overcrowding, bad and getting worse traffic, etc. Please give thought to this.

115061471037 Mar 21 2026 Again, I don't think we need more apartments or people in this area. But esthetically I am ok with the 5b zoning only on Montgomery. I think it could be used for businesses or offices. I am opposed to that in downtown Narberth.

115064141555 Mar 21 2026 Not sure

115064138136 Mar 21 2026 That's fine there

115060058251 Mar 21 2026 Too busy/too congested!!!!

115063975971 Mar 20 2026 It seems like it profits few at the expense of many. I also wonder if there may be conflicts of interest

115063945119 Mar 20 2026 I am for it so long as we have wide sidewalks and fix Montgomery ave roads so that it feels less scary to walk there

115063871614 Mar 20 2026 Not supportive.

115063856051 Mar 20 2026 I really dont care about any changes to Montgomery Ave. My concern is we keep downtown quaint.

115063844521 Mar 20 2026 I think it is a terrible idea and will make Narberth a worse place to live. We will run out of room to park for sure - why does local government want to make citizens' lives worse?

115063724894 Mar 20 2026 I disagree with all of the proposed changes. I think they will turn our section of Montgomery Ave into an even worse pedestrian desert. I think the proposed changes are the tail wagging the dog.

115063725135 Mar 20 2026 Again, what are the negatives as to this proposal?

115063569184 Mar 20 2026 No, I want Sabine park to stay a park and community center without residential or commercial.
I'm against it because of the pressures it will place on street parking. I haven't seen a reason to increase affordable housing — there is plenty of it in nearby areas.

115063479083 Mar 20 2026 I do not agree with the zoning changes. 3 stories is the most that should be allowed. And parking in apartment buildings should be one spot per bedroom. One spot per unit isn't enough let alone less than one spot per unit. The borough should also not allow any tenants of any new apartment buildings to get permit street parking. Current residents should not be subsidizing their quality of life so that developers can make more money.

115063387242 Mar 19 2026 I think I'm okay with this area change to some extent but I do have reservations

115063255444 Mar 19 2026 I am concerned it will add more traffic congestion to an already congested corridor. I am opposed to having any fewer than 1 parking spaces per unit (at any location in Narberth); it's simply not the reality around here. Cars are needed to access grocery, medical appointments and other major errands. If any family has even one child a car is needed to get kids to their activities, doctors appointments and take to/from school in unusual circumstances when buses aren't available.

115063075805 Mar 19 2026 Every unit needs atleast 1 parking space.

115063086886 Mar 19 2026 I see no reason to limit heights of buildings along Montgomery Ave. Montgomery Ave is practically a highway, and will always be heavy traffic. The more people and businesses on Montgomery Ave in Narberth, the more people that can walk to the downtown core and provide vitality to the core.

What possible reason would the borough have to limit heights along the highway, other than the complaints of literally just a handful of nearby property owners vs the whole borough?

The fewer parking spots the better - because then residents will find the need to walk to the train station and bus and stores, which creates demand for businesses in the core.

115062994122 Mar 19 2026 love it.

115062935396 Mar 19 2026 Good

115062863200 Mar 19 2026 It is a terrible idea, you could have fixed the current building a long time ago that is income producing, rather than saving land that doesn't do anything.

115062841550 Mar 19 2026 Strongly against

115062850744 Mar 19 2026 I think it was drafted by a bunch of out of touch people who don't appreciate Narberth the way the rest of us too.

115062661730 Mar 18 2026 Limit to 3 floors, 4 in spaces that are set back

115062623214 Mar 18 2026 NO higher density - no 5 story units, no reduction of the base parking requirements. I do not agree with the proposed zoning changes in the 5b zoning district.

115062620658 Mar 18 2026 No! Awful idea - we are surrounded by new apartment buildings everywhere. The very last thing we need is a another high-rise on Montgomery Avenue!

115062620353 Mar 18 2026 I don't like it. I think it's a tactic to bring in more taxable revenue, at the expense of the culture that narberth has. I think I am glad I do not live there. The value of my home would go down and I may even lose money. I think it is a terrible idea.

115062618975 Mar 18 2026 Terrible, not okay with .7 parking spots per unit. I don't support allowing additional height in exchange for subsidized rent. Again we have enough affordable housing, new construction is expensive not sure why it needs to be subsidized when it could attract high end renters and EIT contributors those who need affordable housing can pick from Narberth's plentiful stock of older affordable housing well within budget.

115062592224 Mar 18 2026 I like it except for the proposal for additional stories.

115062596707 Mar 18 2026 I do not approve of any of the zoning changes proposed by the. Narberth Planning Commission. Again why are we not following Narberth 2040 Comprehensive Plan? Why does Narberth keep revisiting settled zoning and rules? No building in Narberth should be allowed to be taller than 3 stories. One parking space per unit. Honor Historic District designation. That's what makes Narberth special. And if you don't live here you should not be telling us what our town should look like.

115062362512 Mar 18 2026 No good

115062557946 Mar 18 2026 Have you done a survey to see how many vehicles current residents have per housing unit? The reduction of the base parking requirement to .7 spaces per residential unit is absolutely outrageous. The assumption that residents will not require at least 1 car is not realistic. How are you proposing to oversee the legislation of resident income in the new developments - not just initially, but going forward into the future? The development of looming 4-5 story buildings adjacent to mainly modest 2 story homes is unfair to those residents.

115062510349 Mar 18 2026 Against it

115062550936 Mar 18 2026 I feel they lost the message and story of Narberth altogether. This is being driven without regard to the wishes of most.

115062529833 Mar 18 2026 I think we can just fix up what is currently in place rather than increasing growth. Too much traffic.

115062523144 Mar 18 2026

115062523938 Mar 18 2026 I think they are destroying Narberth and not listening to it's residents.

115061581111 Mar 18 2026 Do not change them. No increases to height are needed.

115062433695 Mar 18 2026 I don't like the fourth and fifth stories. I also don't like the change in parking requirements.
It sounds like the burrow is giving into these developers who again, have no bearing on Narberth other than coming in, developing a massive commercial space, and trying to make a huge profit off of it. These people don't live here, and have no vested interest in the future of Narberth.

115061731115 Mar 18 2026 I am strongly in favor of reducing parking space requirements, especially since we live near a train station and have several bus routes.

115062214297 Mar 18 2026 I strongly disagree and ask that it be rejected.

115062129003 Mar 18 2026 I think the changes make a lot of sense, though I note they are dependent on SEPTA availability, which has seemed uncertain lately. The other things to consider with encouraging other transportation options than cars would be infrastructure improvements like wider sidewalks and protected bike lanes. Some of our sidewalks are not passable to wheelchairs or strollers.

115062119703 Mar 18 2026 That district is unimportant to many Narberth residents.

I don't love it, but I also don't strongly oppose most of it.

However, I strongly oppose reducing the parking requirement. Anyone who thinks that households in Narberth will average only 0.7 cars is being unrealistic. It's wishful thinking. The U.S. average is roughly three times higher. And low-income households (unless we are talking about very low income, which we aren't) often have just as many cars because people need to get to work. We are a middle-class family. My spouse is a school teacher and does not earn very much, but we both must have a car to get to work five days a week.

If developers are allowed to build only 0.7 parking spaces per unit, many of those new residents will simply drive into Narberth to park, which will harm the people who already live here.

115061887536 Mar 17 2026 I think it's reasonable
Reducing parking is super shortsighted. Narberth is not a major city and residents need to be connected to much of the businesses and facilities that are only reasonably accessible by car. I don't see a major car-free population here.

115061842830 Mar 17 2026 Great! Especially supportive of deprioritizing parking.

115061846819 Mar 17 2026 Do not limit parking.

115060622430 Mar 17 2026 Agree with housing and commercial on first floor and 4th story on 45-foot height. Do not agree with increase to 55-foot height.

115061798512 Mar 17 2026

115061789586 Mar 17 2026 Good, but I think the parking minimums are still too high. I advocate for eliminating parking minimums all together.

115061779554 Mar 17 2026 This area is already overbuilt and is a bust thoroughfare. I don't favor more growth.
The neighborhoods abutting Montgomery Avenue are already pretty dense and many do not have a lot of driveways. I do not agree with the reduction in parking requirement, the exemptions for affordable units, nor the 900 feet.

115061703258 Mar 17 2026 Would only increase density, congestion, and parking problems.

115061721653 Mar 17 2026 I'm not opposed to 3 story buildings with a setback for a 4rth, maybe, only on Montgomery Avenue.

115061370737 Mar 17 2026 Fine

115061683971 Mar 17 2026 Opposed

115060677974 Mar 17 2026 Strongly against
NO five-story buildings should be allowed. And reducing parking in a town where many people don't have driveways is a terrible idea.

115061645765 Mar 17 2026 Not needed

115061655678 Mar 17 2026 The planning commission is lining their pockets from developers

115061661981 Mar 17 2026 No.

115061660467 Mar 17 2026 It seems OK. I just don't want to see such changes happening in the rest of Narberth.

115061639128 Mar 17 2026 Fine with this

115061646247 Mar 17 2026 Not good

115061612526 Mar 17 2026 N/A

115061605426 Mar 17 2026 Opposed. A 10% affordable unit threshold in exchange for a 10-foot height increase and reduced parking is a developer incentive, not a community benefit. Our schools are already overcrowded. These changes benefit developers, not residents.

115060569562 Mar 17 2026 I support these changes.

115061548912 Mar 17 2026 We already have enough business going on 115061518084 Mar 17 2026 Terrible idea to reduce parking requirements.

115061475112 Mar 17 2026 Agree
This does not make sense. Parking is already an issue, and for better or worse, cars are required to live in this area. I do not support this proposal. Likewise, we should be promoting single family housing. I do not support this zoning change.

115061473747 Mar 17 2026

115061344175 Mar 17 2026

Keep our character as it is. Do not turn this into Ardmore. Do not create four and five story buildings downtown.

115061424997	Mar 17 2026	People move here because they like the way it is, not because they wanted it to be something else.
115061405540	Mar 17 2026	Keep the look of Narberth classic with no more already outdated modern facades and mid rise buildings.
115061399430	Mar 17 2026	Disagree Disagree. No to 4 story buildings.
115061354599	Mar 17 2026	.7 parking requirement when the borough is eliminating parking spaces
115061365285	Mar 17 2026	Seems OK
115061366310	Mar 17 2026	No more people.
115061356121	Mar 17 2026	It makes sense. The businesses in 5b zoning district are a gateway to Narberth. Their small town charm and local mom n pop shops need to be maintained. Again constructing apartment buildings conflicts with Narberth's history and
115061339765	Mar 17 2026	reputation.
115061322377	Mar 17 2026	It's a nightmare as is with traffic/ speeding.
115061307712	Mar 17 2026	Once again I'm against density anywhere in the borough. I think it sucks. Especially the parking. Those who wrote this mistakenly believe no one has cars and that septa is reliable. This is not the case. And where is the data behind this proposal
115061306163	Mar 17 2026	Nice idea I'd done correctly. Single family, twins, cottages. More apartments / people only makes Narberth less
115061296925	Mar 17 2026	appealing. Multi family units abound in lower merion already - the schools are becoming overwhelmed and roads are a
115061291982	Mar 17 2026	nightmare, and septa already can't keeps up. I do not support apartments or multi family units. The crosswalk at meetinghouse and Montgomery is extremely dangerous, treacherous, and a learning center is
115061285157	Mar 17 2026	present now. Please be responsible and not overwhelm the area. I hate it. Building more tall, soulless buildings along Montgomery will just increase traffic and be a visual blight. It
115061274807	Mar 17 2026	seems intent on destroying the beauty of the Mainline. This plan doesn't add up. 80% of median income is not affordable and will be close to market rate. Urban planning research shows that this style of upzoning creates negligible housing supply while benefiting developers interests, harming communities through inadequate parking and density. The parking for renters is already inequitable and this worsens the parking crisis for tax paying Narbs who live in apartments.
115061260963	Mar 17 2026
115061060299	Mar 16 2026	Very opposed. See above
115061054380	Mar 16 2026	Strongly disagree Instead of adding more residents we should make it easier and more desirable to come to the town and park and
115061041935	Mar 16 2026	shop in the businesses and dine in the restaurants
115061030500	Mar 16 2026	Too vague, fails to address many issues surrounding increasing density It should be open space. I believe Narberth purposely doesn't clean it up or maintain it because they want to develop it. We pay a lot of taxes and Narberth spends money on projects we don't need. Keep our town beautiful and Do Not develop it for affordable housing!
115060922414	Mar 16 2026
115060917184	Mar 16 2026	Not too tall or we may as well be Philadelphia
115060901331	Mar 16 2026	Nothing should be done until traffic calming measures are implemented with LM
115060876239	Mar 16 2026	Not opposed to changes on Montgomery ave
115060781415	Mar 16 2026	I live near it and I think it is underutilized. I support growth and changes there. Not a good idea because there is little parking areas and the people would be coming over to STEPNEY PLACE TO PARK and there is NO TIME limit on STEPNEY so we would be subjected to 24 hours of people parking and 115060752736	Mar 16 2026	coming and going. Throwing their trash on Montgomery Ave as they do now from the WAWA. No Way!!!
115060691599	Mar 16 2026	Seems fine
115060689505	Mar 16 2026	The Montgomery Ave corridor is an appropriate location for these zoning changes. I agree with them.
115060336343	Mar 15 2026	I agree with them. They sound great! More affordable housing please! I want to afford to live here and support local small businesses
115060336340	Mar 15 2026	which are part of what make the community great.
115060331722	Mar 15 2026	This looks like a reasonable and well-thought out plan.
115060329340	Mar 15 2026	Increase parking lots.
115060332365	Mar 15 2026	Don't like it.
115060318484	Mar 15 2026	in favor
115060264180	Mar 15 2026	I worry for construction impacting already heavy traffic on Montgomery
115060302510	Mar 15 2026	In agreement
115060287585	Mar 15 2026	Looks good. Height here is ok. Terrible idea. Allowing four stories or more units along Montgomery would turn our little main street into something that looks like parts of Philly—taller buildings, more traffic backing up at the light, shadows over the sidewalks. We've already got apartments and condos; we don't need to pile on more under the excuse of missing housing or affordability. Prices are high because of Narberth's location and character. These changes won't lower costs—they'll benefit developers, hurt the folks who actually live here, and hurt those who can't afford to live
115060287120	Mar 15 2026	here...as the affordability of life in this area stretches well beyond the cost of housing.

115060280089 Mar 15 2026 I'm ok with it. Higher heights there are a ok

Some of it might be OK, if you must (although, again, who said that there is a problem that needs to be fixed to begin with?).

However, I oppose reducing the parking requirement. Almost all the people who live on Montgomery have at least one car per household, and often two. Reducing the parking requirement would just cause those people to park inside the borough, which is bad both in terms of parking and traffic jams. Public transportation is not that heavily used, especially in the northern part of the borough (far from the train station), and we cannot count on it, especially with the possible reduction in SEPTA services. This is just a nightmare. Developers' dreams; residents' nightmares.

I also don't support strongly encouraging low-income earners. First, how will those people be selected? Which "low income" is in and who is out? In other places, this has opened the door to corruption. Moreover, this undermines the "increasing the tax base" argument. Don't you see it? Low-income residents need at least as many services as everyone else (education, police, firefighting, roads, bridges, and so on; everything our taxes pay for), but they pay much less per person. Encouraging low-income earners into this small borough will, by definition, lower our quality of life, and/or require the borough to raise taxes to pay for additional police officers, schools, classrooms, and so

115060260288 Mar 15 2026 Need more info

115060253068 Mar 15 2026 Anything goes on Montgomery Avenue!

115060254756 Mar 15 2026 Too much density and too little parking

115060250098 Mar 15 2026 No more apartments

115060249961 Mar 15 2026 Again, we do not need more housing in Narberth.

115060247899 Mar 15 2026 unsure

115060248228 Mar 15 2026 I am firmly against any changes to allow higher or denser development. I am especially against any reductions in required parking per unit and any incentives for income linked housing of any kind.

Reducing the base parking spaces to 0.7 per unit is insane. No one living on or near Montgomery Ave is doing so without a car, and many apartments have more than one individual living there (e.g. multiple cars). The fact that this is even being proposed shows a detachment from reality.

115060227356 Mar 15 2026 Needs more parking, not less

115060214603 Mar 15 2026 I think the height and parking space variances should not be changed.

115060212400 Mar 15 2026 I agree with it

115060197092 Mar 15 2026 Ridiculous! Why do we need stack n pack apartments in Narberth?

115060183864 Mar 15 2026 There is no parking there and dangerous pulling in and out onto Montgomery

115060138698 Mar 15 2026 I am generally in favor of 5b development with the exception of reducing the parking requirement.

115060137027 Mar 15 2026 seems relative to a more commercial oriented space

115060083468 Mar 15 2026 It encourages too dense development that will increase the already stressed traffic on Montgomery Ave

115060073222 Mar 15 2026 I appreciate trying to create more affordable housing but it is a little late in the game. The stores in Narberth do not serve the peoples needs with less income, they are already serving the needs of people with higher income.

Parking is already horrible most places. Lessening the parking on Montgomery is ridiculous, unless somehow the 115059894904 Mar 14 2026 I disagree.

115059883987 Mar 14 2026 I'm ok with it but unclear why a Borough that sits entirely within a township that is 10x its size needs to be trying to increase affordable housing as opposed to protecting property values

115059873327 Mar 14 2026 I do not approve.

115059842273 Mar 14 2026 The impact on parking resulting from apartment density is my biggest concern

115059805265 Mar 14 2026 I cannot imagine 5 story buildings along Montgomery Ave. This is not a city. We are a suburb and want more open space

I strongly disagree with the 0.7 space per residential unit. Residents in Narberth need a car unless they have a job they can walk to or take SEPTA to. In the table provided above of professions with salaries below the MHI almost ALL are professions that require a car. In my understanding there is only 1 or 2 paid firefighter positions in Narberth; Unless a librarian works in Narberth, Bryn Mawr, or Philly they need a car to get to their job; Guidance counselors and teachers often prefer NOT to live in the same school district in which they work (of course there are exceptions - I know at least 4 LMSD staff in my neighborhood one of whom works at Harriton - a drive. As we all know, half of Narberth resides in areas that the school district considers requires a bus. If any LMSD staff work at all but 3 LMSD schools they also would "require" transportation. If a healthcare worker is home based, they need a car. In the Inquirer article it was mentioned older adults may not need a car. Frankly that shows ignorance. If an older adult can't drive, they likely need a caretaker to drive them (if not now, they will need one in a few years to maintain the ability to live independently). In my experience, some residents of Narberth Hall do NOT use their parking garage, but instead - avoid the fee for a garage parking space and park on the street. A question to consider is - what is the current parking situation on the streets around Breton Hall, Narberth Hall, and 115059775213 Mar 14 2026 Montgomery Court?

115059761110	Mar 14 2026	Good in general.
		I approve of the zoning changes related to building 45 foot buildings to allow for more units and allowing the mixed use of space. I do not approve of reducing the parking requirements as I think we're asking for trouble with that reduction of parking. I'm already seeing in Narberth the proliferation of cars everywhere on the residential streets with more adult children moving back in with their parents (essentially becoming more like a multi-family dwelling) and less parking will cause overspill onto residential streets which will really change the face of Narberth if we become a town with cars lining all streets at all times.
115059759527	Mar 14 2026
115059723787	Mar 14 2026	I am strongly opposed to going over three stories. I am strongly opposed to changing parking requirement
115059710635	Mar 14 2026	Ok with the 5b zoning changes
115059698594	Mar 14 2026	I do not approve
		I'm ok with the height. Parking would be a problem. You live in a fantasy land if you think you can live in Marberth without a car.
115059670698	Mar 14 2026
115059634310	Mar 14 2026	I am against the plans.
115059518723	Mar 13 2026	No high rises
		5 stories is too tall, parking reduction is not appropriate, and while the affordable housing is attractive, does not provide adequate support for the residents (of the housing), by not providing parking. Many of those that require affordable housing are likely working and would require a vehicle to support their employment. It is an incorrect assumption that public transit can support the needs of all residents.
115059506547	Mar 13 2026
115059494218	Mar 13 2026	sounds good
		I think it will increase cars and congestion in an already dangerous Montgomery Ave and should not be allowed to continue as described. People will bring more cars and at least 1 space per unit plus guest parking must be included
115059483150	Mar 13 2026
115059481060	Mar 13 2026	I like this idea
115059472549	Mar 13 2026	Good, but do not understand reducing parking requirement in zone far from train station.
		It will look and feel overcrowded/claustrophobic, the way many sections of Fishtown in Philly have become. Many people want to move to Narberth to escape overcrowding and congestion.
115059397809	Mar 13 2026
		More retail would be great. Additionally housing will be bad. There is no place to park. We live in an area where every adult has a car and so do their teenage kids who drive. Many single family homes have at least 3 cars, where would you like us to park. Each person drives to work in different areas so giving up the cars is not an option.
115059397299	Mar 13 2026
115059353878	Mar 13 2026	See above.
115059276344	Mar 13 2026	Those who want to retain the character of the Borough are blowing in the wind.
115059216937	Mar 13 2026	Good. The more the better
115059202339	Mar 13 2026	Support
		Good. Increasing business tax along a busy corridor is the best way to increase our tax base. Not from attracting residents with family income <$90k
115059199828	Mar 13 2026
		I agree with allowing increased building height and mixed use ground floors. I do worry about parking but feel that allowing parking to be provided on other lots within 900 feet seems reasonable.
115059192708	Mar 13 2026
115059173653	Mar 13 2026	Good!
115059139794	Mar 13 2026	I absolutely and completely oppose it.
		I do not think the parking requirement should be eased. This area is too far from train and bus lines. Most likely a couple renting a unit there would have 1.7 cars, not 0.7 cars.
115059119705	Mar 13 2026
		5th story setbacks unnecessarily increase costs, while limiting the rentable square footage of a development. This is a poison pill that ensures very little housing will actually be built, and works to weaken the (already very limited) density incentive for affordable units.
115059084902	Mar 13 2026
		Again, Narberth already has a parking and traffic issue. Why add to it? Why not improve what is here right now? All positive changes. Hopefully in concert with LM Twp's traffic safety work, that section can become an accessible living/working/shopping destination instead of the Mad Max hellscape it is right now.
115059029177	Mar 13 2026

		I do not believe we should build 5-story buildings in Narberth, anywhere in the borough. A lot can be achieved via the current zoning height regulations. Please also consider parking!!! We are a suburban town and need parking for residents!
115056786206	Mar 10 2026
		We do not need more tall unsightly buildings. The zoning in the 5b district needs to be improved to serve the family community environment. We already have 3 smoke shops. Is that family friendly?

115056427899	Mar 10 2026	I support the proposed changes

115055217371	Mar 08 2026	Great work. Can you go even higher in exchange for more affordable units?
		I support additional density in 5b. I disagree with diminishing parking requirements. All units should have an increase, not a decrease in required parking spaces.

It is a poor plan that lacks pragmatism and a sense of reality. For example, if we decrease a developers costs, why would the he/she pass the savings onto the buyer/ renter. The market determines the price. This plan is filled with such lapses in reason. It is presented as a biased push poll rather than an attempt to genuinely assess the sentiment of borough.

115054893005 Mar 07 2026

115054822634 Mar 07 2026 Seems okay.

115054818523 Mar 07 2026 Agree with the building changes - do not agree with allowing less parking per unit

115054764808 Mar 07 2026 Too tall.

I think we need to rethink why we need to change it. Look at what is going on in Ardmore. They are over building and relying on minimal to no parking. Good luck finding a parking spot in suburban square. Let alone once all the new apartments are filled.

115054637889 Mar 06 2026

Love it! If at all possible target the most likely sites to develop. Let's get in front of the change which is likely to happen.

115054628938 Mar 06 2026

Not needed.

115054627122 Mar 06 2026

It's thoroughly asinine.

Maintain the base parking requirement as is and stop incentivizing anything that would cause lower-income people to move to the area.

115054558294 Mar 06 2026

The idea of reducing the base parking requirements is idiotic. Why would that even be proposed with such a parking crisis happening in Narberth? You can't have more people living here and fewer parking spaces.

115054549713 Mar 06 2026

I would suggest increasing to 6 stories and increasing the height limit along this major road and commercial area.

115054533479 Mar 06 2026 I agree with the parking recommendations.

115054527059 Mar 06 2026 Agreed

115054521904 Mar 06 2026 Can't read anything here.

5b has the most potential for growth for commercial and residential units under the current code. There is no need to expand to a 5 story height limit to add additional apartments. We already have vacant apartments in Narberth to rent.

115054430036 Mar 06 2026

Again, I don't see a benefit to the average local homeowner. But I could live with some 5 story buildings on Montgomery Ave with 10% of units reserved for low income housing.

115053848660 Mar 05 2026

This proposal is poor and not a good idea. Many of the points brought up above do not actually make sense. For example, having .7 parking space per unit with a large majority of people living here, have cars, who already have difficulty parking on the street or obtaining a permit for a second car in their own homes will make it increasingly difficult to park in an area that is already difficult to park in. Another example of why this is flawed, thinking, is suggesting that more people living in proximity of downtown increases shopping of downtown. This does not actually make sense. Supporting low income housing does not directly support the growth of downtown businesses as people who would seek such housing would certainly not invest in the direct community here which is quite expensive and not economical (gifts at sweet Mabel, $6 coffees at owl cafe, expensive books / toys at character development). There's already a large population of residence within walking distance to this downtown. However, it is the downtown that is locking and it's offering to the current residence with many of the storefront empty, unused, or with stores that don't serve the actual needs of the community.

115053808072 Mar 05 2026

I think the proposed zoning changes in 5b are a disaster. Why do we need 4 and 5- story mixed used buildings on Montgomery Ave, especially with affordable housing in them, and with parking in other lots nearby? We are already losing any open space we have. Also, we have too many mixed-use buildings already.

115053806339 Mar 05 2026

NO!!! Vehemently opposed to low income and affordable housing in our borough. Narberth is already full of houses that are not cared for and abandoned commercial real estate. People move to the borough to live in communities that are not designated for low income and affordable renters. We want stability and families to move here. This is unacceptable.

115053805143 Mar 05 2026

We have vacant apartments, vacant store fronts, an undeveloped property at Citizens Bank, and an undeveloped lot at 198 Elmwood. Changing the zoning now will only exacerbate the problem.

Wait until the developers make good on all the zoning adjustments that have already been made on their behalf then revisit re-zoning.

Wait until we see the impact of the developments already on the drawing board have on our community before giving the developers the green light to develop further.

The zoning proposals could potentially make existing problems worse for several reasons. To name a few:

(1) Increasing the footprint and decreasing setbacks will increase impermeable surfaces.

(2) Increasing the ratio of rental to owner occupied properties will shift Narberth from being a small town close-knit community to a town of absentee landlords.

(3) Increasing density in districts other than 3a and 5b will exacerbate parking and traffic problems. Yes, they do exist!

I support efforts to revive Narberth as the thriving community it once was but changing zoning to increasing development for more density is not the answer. Our downtown is in the mess it is because of the unfinished development on Haverford Avenue.

115053674682 Mar 05 2026

I am concerned that you are not listening to current residents. There seems to be a narrative that anyone opposed to transit oriented development is racist or a NIMBY. Some (not all members) of council and the planning commission should be humble enough to recognize that you might not have all the answers and you should listen to folks who may have similar goals, but different means to get there.

115053484611 Mar 05 2026

As we live right behind the development on Shirley Road, we are not in support of a five story structure, which I think is very excessive for the Montgomery Avenue thoroughfare behind the residential area of Shirley Road. everyone drives and has multiple cars nowadays. Nobody is without one or two, so I think it would create more noise and traffic right behind our backyard which I'm not in favor. And I think the proposed four units of affordable housing is really a joke and not really a real effort to combat affordable housing. Again, I'd like to see some units for ownership so that older people could sell their houses and downsize to an apartment or small cottage.

115053463403 Mar 05 2026

I oppose the 5th floor density bonus. Right now we allow for 3 stories; there is already an "incremental" change by allowing the 4th story at the same height, and allow residential on the ground floor. Why do we believe that these changes are not sufficient to encourage the gentle growth you espouse? What data is there to support the view that a 5th story would be necessary to encourage a set aside for affordable housing in a mixed used development? Why not have that bonus be triggered by a 4th story? Why do you believe that a 4th story density bonus is appropriate for 4a, but a 5th story is needed for 5B? If anything given the larger potential footprint for 5B, the opposite should be the case.

115053011548 Mar 04 2026

It is not clear that development costs need to be reduced. Property owners bought the properties they own. It is not the borough's responsibility and not the borough residents' responsibility to make changes to lower development costs. When I buy a home, I do not expect the government to make zoning changes to lower the costs of renovations that I would like to make. Are we suggesting that the borough should make the renovations costs for my home less expensive? How would the borough do this for me and all home owners? What would the financial and other impacts be on the borough?

115052679735 Mar 04 2026

There is no representation from this part of Narberth on the Planning Commission. So, I do not know how they could be informed on the situation of this area. I note that Planning Commission Leashership members are not encouraging additional stories be built in their backyards.

115052377106 Mar 03 2026 Five story buildings are too high for Narberth. Less than one parking spot per unit is absurd and ill thought.

115052289683 Mar 03 2026 Do not reduce parking requirement

115052227485 Mar 03 2026 Wrongheaded. Stop the YIMBY nonsense.

115051551818 Mar 02 2026 they have lost all credibility

115051472677 Mar 02 2026 Makes sense to me

115051397265 Mar 02 2026 I feel the heavy traffic on Montgomery Ave is a detriment and would not be appealing to live or shop in that area Reducing parking requirements to 0.7 cars/unit is not supportable and unrealistic in Narberth. The people who would work in professions listed above question 3 (cooks, teachers, healthcare social workers, librarians, guidance counselors, firefighters) who live in Narberth would require car transport to get to the sites of these occupations. These are not occupations where work-from-home is possible. And most of the sites of these occupations are not on rail lines or bus lines.

I like the idea of allowing for additional housing & some retail space in zone 5b, as I think it can be an underutilized part of the town. However, allowing a 5th story for these buildings seems like such a bad idea. The buildings that have already been put up by developers are so unbelievably ugly and cheaply made; they all look like plastic & drywall held together with super glue. By allowing these structures to go up it gives the impression that the borough cares more about the money that could potentially be brought in by new residents than those that have been long standing members of the community. Standards should be raised for what's expected of the developers & retail occupants of these structures, because developers will never actually care about the communities they're building in more than the money they can get from it.

On the issue of parking, there already isn't enough so reducing the base parking requirement to 0.7 spaces for residential units will screw over so many people. Residents in zones further from downtown already can't find anywhere to park because of all of the cars on the street. Plus, If you want people from surrounding towns to come into Narberth & enjoy what it has to offer, they have to be able to park somewhere.

I support any and all efforts to expand housing access and affordability. Upzoning and reducing/removing parking minimums is a great start.

This constant argument that we need more residents for tax purposes is crazy. Our population has been steady for decades, so I don't know why the sudden push for a greater tax base, especially given the new 1% local income tax.

The parking allowances per unit are insane. Very few households in Narberth do not have a vehicle, and the exemption for the affordable units is somewhat offensive. Is the assumption that those in affordable units can't afford a car? The professions listed in your chart for people who may need affordable housing are typically ones that require commuting by vehicle, so why should these people be denied parking? And relying on SEPTA passes to eliminate the need for parking is also shortsighted, when SEPTA's financial difficulties could cause disruptions to, or elimination of, service, leaving these renters in the lurch.

None of this push for greater population density even addresses the impact to our schools, traffic, and public services that will be stretched thin.

The apartment buildings listed as having .7 parking spaces per unit all have street parking (which is always full) to supplement their lots. New construction on Montgomery Ave. doesn't have the option. Where will the guaranteed overflow go? And parking 900 feet away in another lot is not that attractive to someone with a full load of groceries and a toddler.

I like this and I think it makes a lot of sense to do it on Montgomery Ave, but only if it's paired with traffic calming measures. I want to move towards a more walkable future. I would love it if taking public transit by bus was seen as more normal and usual!

115051079558 Mar 02 2026

115051076171 Mar 02 2026

It looks good.

NO, keep it as it is in the present code-Keep the county out of our town, Bridgeport told them no and they are using Narberth as a test example of development and the article in the inquire from 15 years ago said as much. No further development, it will ruin out town. We are already over developed.

115050961564 Mar 02 2026

I think this is a small borough and it will not support this change in density. It is out of character for the neighborhood. We are already a very densely zoned borough with a nice variety of zoning districts. The businesses have been stable for many years. Who is this benefitting from this increased density proposal? Do we need a bigger tax base for some reason?

115050801257 Mar 01 2026

There should be AT LEAST 1 space per residential unit - Many residential units house multiple individuals with multiple parking space needs.

115050790761 Mar 01 2026

SEPTA's lack of reliability makes the parking a non-starter. Get SEPTA running multiple trains an hour and the conversation changes.

115050784742 Mar 01 2026

I think that makes sense

115050741910 Mar 01 2026

I think it is fine, but would be willing to see buildings remain lower if it would be more palatable to citizens that live on adjacent streets.

115050706998 Mar 01 2026

I support the suggestions under gentle increases to density and diversifying housing types. I do not support the ideas under the lower development costs section. The recommendation of 0.7 parking spaces per unit is based on flawed comparisons that are not relevant to a fully built out town like Narberth. For example, many residents living at Mk honey Court apartments do park on Price & north Narberth Ave. So the number of cars per unit is far greater than 0.7 per unit.

115050682638 Mar 01 2026

NO. I vote NO! Density does NOT solve problem of traffic to store in a time where ppl are using Amazon & grub hub/insta cart etc. Where ppl drive to grocery store. I do NOT things to be cheaper for developers! I don't want them here. As for low-income, again, we were military. We worked hard to buy in Narberth! Anyone else who wants to do the same should work & save too.

115050616921 Mar 01 2026

I think it's a bad idea.

115050605452 Mar 01 2026

Keep the Original Code.

I am strongly not in favor of this. Again, it's simply common sense that people living in a safe, charming community don't want to intensify its density.

115050601543 Mar 01 2026

Terrible 5 stories is too high & we do not need low income housing here. It will completely change the character of our town.

115050593051 Mar 01 2026

This is a great example of common sense solutions. While I don't oppose increased height limits, those aren't even required in this recommendation to add more units to an accessible traffic corridor with public transit and imminent development.

115050547772 Mar 01 2026 Ridiculous

115050541338 Mar 01 2026 Leave it alone! Why? There are no viable reasons to any of this.

I'm against 5 story buildings in Narberth. In 10 years builders will then propose 6 story buildings. When will it stop? Same thing happened in neighborhoods in Queens and it was detrimental in the long run.

115050449476 Feb 28 2026

Absolutely against this proposal. Absolutely against a 5 story building anywhere in Narberth. This is completely out of line with our current landscape and is not even aligned with any area or neighborhood locally. I have only seen 5 story buildings in LM along the City Ave corridor which is very urban and completely not the neighborhood that Narberth is. I also believe that the parking recommendations will be very detrimental to an already challenging situation along Montgomery Avenue. Where will the residents park if not at their building (please don't assume they will not have cars unless you have the actual data or survey to prove that is true). Where will the "off site" lots be located? How will the ins/outs of new residential buildings along Montgomery Ave impact the already difficult traffic congestion along the road? Even more importantly how will this negatively impact pedestrians in an area that is very hard to navigate on foot or bike? I don't see how these recommendations can possibly align with the recent survey that was sent out around improving traffic and safety along Montgomery Avenue. I wholeheartedly believe that the risks of this proposal strongly outweigh the benefits. Please don't think that residents against the proposal are only an 'overly vocal minority'. We are homeowners in the borough who deserve to have their opinions heard. I would be happy to encourage affordability by penalizing new construction of houses at exorbitant prices, or adding more smaller size housing, but not by sacrificing the wellbeing and safety of my own family. This proposal will very negatively impact the local neighbors to Montgomery Ave.

115050381503 Feb 28 2026

Bad idea to reduce parking to less than one per unit. Many multi-bedroom homes have more than one car as they have more than one adult living there. Decreasing the ratio of units to spots to park will not decrease the number of cars but rather decrease the availability of parking for residents. It will discourage new people coming into the community if they are not able to park near or in situ to where they live.

115050379971 Feb 28 2026

115050367565 Feb 28 2026 They are ridiculous.

I prefer keeping 3 story units as max height. I would be open to allow pure residential if that's more needed than commercial. I'm ok reducing parking requirements and avoid wasting space on huge empty parking lots.

115050363194 Feb 28 2026

No density bonus for affordable units. The 80% AMI proposal does not incentivize affordable housing. That equals a salary of $92,000/year. Yes, someone with less than 80% would qualify, but my guess is a landlord would take the highest % AMI to get more rent.

Lower development costs would only make a difference to me if I felt we were in great need of development. I don't.

Less parking is counterproductive for local businesses. Getting all store fronts finished and ready to occupy would help current businesses!

NO reduction in parking requirements.

115050342008 Feb 28 2026

115050328706 Feb 28 2026 Yes

115050320175 Feb 28 2026 I like them!

115050310749 Feb 28 2026 3 stories or fewer.

115050300870 Feb 28 2026 I support these changes.

115050233228 Feb 28 2026 Strongly against this proposal

115050205165 Feb 28 2026 Not in favor

This narrative for affordable housing is one that personally irritates me while I am paying 1% of my income to live in Narberth. That is thousands of dollars that could otherwise be used to dine and shop in the borough or pay for groceries or the $2500 + monthly I pay in childcare costs for my children.

115050188441 Feb 28 2026

The Narberth/Penn Valley stretch of Montgomery Avenue is a sad stretch of road. It needs something. If Ardmore can cram dense apartments near Lancaster Avenue, maybe Narberth can do the same along Montgomery.

115050177190 Feb 28 2026

115050170379 Feb 28 2026 Harmful to the character of Narberth. We are a borough, not a city.

115050166630 Feb 28 2026 Insanity. Nobody wants it.

There are already new apartments along Montgomery Ave. This proposal is silent about Sabine Park and that you're proposing to build apartments there. Please don't!

115050162831 Feb 28 2026

Fine with Montgomery development

115050043458 Feb 27 2026

I disagree with it. Sabine park is there and we need to keep more green space. Do not need 4 story buildings on Montgomery Ave.

115050040947 Feb 27 2026

115050017909 Feb 27 2026 It is acceptable.

Nonsense and a waste of time. It is a mockery of resources and community involvement that took to develop the existing Form Based Code.

115050002230 Feb 27 2026 _

115050002413 Feb 27 2026 I think the reduction of personal parking spaces (.07, what even is that?) and will cause apartments to sit empty. Reducing required parking is a horrible mistake. These changes will destroy property value and livability of the borough and further erode the community.

115049993148 Feb 27 2026 No. Can't reduce the parking requirements to less than 1. People will still own cars, they just will crowd existing street parking. Residents will be affected. As will businesses when customers can't park.

115049983437 Feb 27 2026 I think it's an innovative way to repurpose current/existing areas and adding to the general fabric of the town. Being close to Montgomery Ave allows for flow in and out of downtown Narberth 115049983508 Feb 27 2026 I think it's a great idea.

115049973597 Feb 27 2026 Not impressed

115049965606 Feb 27 2026 I think it's going to bring down the value of the homes bordering the commercial space.

115049964913 Feb 27 2026 Vehemently oppose. Enough with the multi purpose buildings!

115049945446 Feb 27 2026 Very good

115049943396 Feb 27 2026 I would like to reiterate the parking issue. Apartment buildings in Narberth mean cars. There is data to support this - feel free to contact any of the apartments in the area and find out how many residents have cars, currently park in lots or on the street. You will find that nearly everyone has a car in Narberth (and suburban neighborhoods more generally). Any businesses without parking will not be viable businesses. We already have lots of buildings that are empty - why not address that issue?

115049932064 Feb 27 2026 I do not support the proposed changes.

115049928424 Feb 27 2026 Love them and feel that a vocal minority is trying to shout out a general consensus that this plan represents progress for our neighborhood

115049923713 Feb 27 2026 I do not agree with the affordable housing recommendation. People pay millions of dollars to live here. Do not allow development without more parking. I live in a unit that allowed one car per unit and others had to park on the street. This is common and increasing. Parking in Narberth is a huge challenge and a reason guests will not come to visit me in downtown Narberth.

115049914829 Feb 27 2026 The reduction in parking is insane and naive. Parking is already at a premium all over the borough. What kind of study has been done on car ownership and parking? Part of the issue in the downtown (beside the 7 empty storefronts) is the lack of parking. And now you want to make that worse? If you had facts to back up the assertion that families only have one car, maybe this would be believable. I have never seen any sort of study or survey on car ownership and parking capacity.

115049899106 Feb 27 2026 Makes sense but increasing the impermeable surface to 70% and decreasing trees will alter the experience of living there. Lots of pavement and no shade.

115049898645 Feb 27 2026 There needs to be adequate parking. 1 per unit. More density is ok as long as it's not taking parking away from existing residents. Considering that there are few practical stores downtown, residents need a car to grocery shop etc.

115049892707 Feb 27 2026 I would rather buy and invest in the community for a row home or twin to build equity

11504988829 Feb 27 2026 A no brainer. Yes, bring more foot traffic and density and price accessibility to this area that has walkable shopping and access to Septa bus.

115049873818 Feb 27 2026 Scale is to be considered. The property at corner of Meeting House/Montgomery is pushing the envelope already adding stories is not the answer. Wouldn't support this change

115049826479 Feb 27 2026

115049819690 Feb 27 2026

115049752627 Feb 27 2026

These parking comments apply to all of the zoning districts...

I think that the reduction in the parking space requirement makes no sense. This is purely a gift to the developers.

Once these structures are built, nobody is going to go back and put in more parking. If affordability is the 'only' concern, then the buildings could make purchase of a parking spot optional for renters, as many of them do. But to omit an appropriately sized lot from the onset requires the tacit understanding that these cars will be displaced onto all of the surrounding streets, which are already very overcrowded (even if you say that apartment owners cannot get street permits). I am not under the impression that the Elm has a surplus of unused spots that they regret building.

Relying on SEPTA for transport is laughable. I think you are hearing from many people that work from home, are retired and travel into town for pleasure, have flexible work hours, or do not need to be at work, at a fixed time, early in the morning or late into the evening. SEPTA blatantly cannot provide that reliable service in its current form, and town planning should not rely on that as a substitute for cars as you might in some other urban areas.

Even people who love to anecdotally say that "I have used that service for years and never needed a car" are not being honest about how much the reliability has declined in recent years.

I am concerned about the height making the corridor look urban. Traffic is terrible already, if any real improvements are made that has to be dealt with and that involves having Penn valley involved in the plan.

115049689005 Feb 27 2026 Go for it . It really doesn't feel like Narberth.

It doesn't seem like we need taller buildings in narberth; again, our small town environment is an important part of who we are, and small town doesn't generally involve 5 story buildings

115049686426 Feb 27 2026

115049675397 Feb 27 2026 We have far too many empty business spaces. Is there data showing the expansion is warranted.

5b needs new and denser land development promoting pedestrians. Montgomery is just a pedestrian kill zone due to way too many entrances and excessive speed.

115049241561 Feb 26 2026 100 percent support.

115049216012 Feb 26 2026 I support the densification

115049186290 Feb 26 2026 We absolutely need to upzone to allow more housing and businesses

1150647225	Mar 22 2026	No need for accessory dwelling unit. The more you keep taking away backyards through this kind of action, the less pervious surface there will be.
1150618218	Mar 22 2026	I am not sure I fully understand what this will look like & will have to research this further to give my answer. I will say that Suburban Square in Ardmore is an example of having too much in a limited space with limited parking.
1150647021	Mar 22 2026	I oppose zoning changes to 4a. Insufficient parking is going to be an issue again, and you already destroyed the church. Now you want to make it look even worse with big multi level buildings, taking any last ounce of charm and character from narberth letting builders continue to put up ugly buildings all over and ruin what makes Narberth unique. Ardmore is facing the same issues with ugly new builds and you should be more concerned with Narberth maintaining its appeal and value. If you are willing to sacrifice that to please builders instead of the people of Narberth then shame on you. Have some respect for the history of Narberth and its uniqueness NOT being like every other ugly new cookie cutter suburb
1150647027	Mar 22 2026	I'm against any new development whatsoever
1150646889	Mar 22 2026	I oppose 4a zoning changes. Parking will be impossible. We do not want more density in these neighborhoods.
1150646757	Mar 22 2026	Love it. Additional units make housing more affordable, bring more traffic and revenue to the surrounding businesses, and lower the cost of living for residents throughout the borough. The loudest voices opposing this development are the people who have the least to gain from it. They are homeowners and haven't rented in Narberth post-pandemic (if ever) and are not the target demographic of those who would be moving into these units. There's a lot of fear and conjecture distracting from the overwhelming benefits this development would have for the borough compared to yet another $1.5M McMansion on a postage stamp plot of land where only 1 homogeneous family will reside with their 2-3 cars. The comments opposing this proposal are some of the most disgusting, discriminatory perspectives I've ever seen from my neighbors.
1150646274	Mar 22 2026	Approve.
1150646005	Mar 22 2026	I agree.
1150645985	Mar 22 2026	Not in favor. We need more cottages, row homes, not higher buildings.
1150645618	Mar 22 2026	Don't want high rise buildings!
1150645286	Mar 22 2026	Awful idea
1150645286	Mar 22 2026	Stop development- it's making everything worse
1150645286	Mar 22 2026	I am in favor of them but would like to see a change to the requirement for four stories to be 20% (not 10%) of the units for those earning 80% or less.

I respectfully oppose the proposed zoning changes in Narberth. My wife and I have lived here for 20 years, and one of the main reasons we chose Narberth was its unique character: a small-town community with close proximity to Philadelphia. That balance is what has made Narberth such a desirable place to live.

I am concerned that increasing population density, building heights, and reducing the ability to manage parking will significantly change the character of the borough. Narberth already feels overcrowded at times. Parking is beyond capacity in many areas, forcing residents and visitors to rely on street parking. Traffic has also increased, including cut-through drivers who often speed through town without regard for the people who live here.

The appeal of Narberth has always been that it has remained a small, walkable, close-knit community. That quality has also helped support rising property values for homeowners throughout the borough. Many residents have invested years in making this community more desirable, and these proposed changes feel less like thoughtful planning and more like a move that could undermine the very qualities that made Narberth successful in the first place.

Affordable housing is an important issue, but these zoning changes do not seem like the right solution for a town that is already built out, congested, and limited in parking and infrastructure. Adding more density to an already crowded community risks eroding Narberth's small-town feel and quality of life.

1150644969 Mar 22 2026 09 Do not like the idea of taller buildings at all.

Narberth should require all new development to include off street parking.

Given the borough's narrow streets, existing congestion, and already dangerous parking conditions, any additional housing or mixed use construction must not add to the burden on residential blocks. Requiring developers to provide dedicated off street parking—whether through driveways, rear lot access, or low level 1150644940 Mar 22 2026 09 parking structures—ensures that growth does not compromise safety or quality of life.

1150642768 Mar 21 2026 09 NO MORE BUILDING IN NARBERTH!

I respectfully oppose the proposed zoning changes in Narberth. My wife and I have lived here for 20 years, and we chose Narberth because it offers a rare small-town feel while still being close to Philadelphia. That character is exactly what has made the borough so desirable.

Narberth is already crowded, with parking beyond capacity in many areas, more traffic, and increasing cut-through speeding by non-residents. Greater density and taller buildings will only make these problems worse and threaten the close-knit, walkable community that residents value. Our property values have grown in part because Narberth has remained a small, attractive community. Many of us helped make it that way, and it is frustrating to see changes proposed that could undermine that success.

Affordable housing matters, but these zoning changes are not the right fit for a town with limited space, parking, and infrastructure. I urge borough leaders to reject them and preserve Narberth's character and quality of life.

I see development in this zone flashing big red warning signs. The Parking plan in the new zoning is a folly. If you can't provide adequate provisions for parking, then you can't add density with larger buildings. Also, the traffic and parking in this area is already bad and getting worse. You need to be very careful about adding more density to this area, because it will impact the much wider downtown area, historical 1150642614 Mar 21 2026 09 district and nearby neighborhoods in a negative way.

I am against more apartments and taller buildings in the 4a zoning district. We have empty storefronts and apartments. Why is there a discussion to add more?

1150614710 Mar 21 2026 09

Not sure

1150641415 Mar 21 2026 09 Whatever works to revitalize downtown.

1.151E+11 Mar 21 2026 09 No, that zoning should be reconsidered after the business corridor has been developed more

No more apartments please!!!! There

1150600582 Mar 21 2026 09 Are already too many boxy apartments. They are ugly, create too much density. And please....nothing too tall.

1150639759 Mar 20 2026 07 I strongly oppose it

Overall, towns need density to support business and development. It just needs to be done intentionally and we can't let developers build brand new buildings that look like absolute trash.

1150638716 Mar 20 2026 09 Not supportive.

1150638560 Mar 20 2026 09 Very much opposed.

I think it is a terrible idea and will make Narberth a worse place to live. We will run out of room to park for 1150638445 Mar 20 2026 0 sure - why does local government want to make citizens' lives worse?

I disagree with all of the proposed changes for 4a, except the allowance of ADUs. I think the requirement 1150637248 Mar 20 2026 1 for a conditional use permit must be retained. Again, the proposed changes are the tail wagging the dog.
1150637251 Mar 20 2026 1 Not in favor, why are you not pointing out negatives as well as positive?

1150635731 Mar 20 2026 0 Why? Why? Articulate why. Article research. Facts. Metrics. Also show if you have been paid off by builders.

1150635691 Mar 20 2026 0 I don't like this solution

I'm against it because of the pressures it will place on street parking. I haven't seen a reason to increase 1150634790 Mar 20 2026 0 affordable housing — there is plenty of it in nearby areas.

There should not be zoning changes to 4a. 3 stories should be the limit. A parking space should be desired for each bedroom in a unit. Not requiring even one parking space per unit will mean that tenants end up parking on the street. Any new apartment building tenants should not be allowed street parking permits if the developer and council doesn't require enough parking for the apartments. Current residents qualify of 1150633872 Mar 19 2026 0 life should not be subsidizing developers desire to make more money.

I strongly object to this. The whole block length does not need this treatment. Even just considering the old church site, I feel that allowing a large apartment block in this location will increase traffic and congestion to this area. Once the bridge re-opens this will be an issue.

Adding affordable units will no improve the plight of the downtown area. A below median household will likely consider carefully before paying premium prices for ice cream and coffee. They will be shopping at 1150632554 Mar 19 2026 0 Giant, Aldi, making those dollars stretch as best one can.

The only part of these zoning changes I agree with are allowing for row houses and cottages ASSUMING
THERE IS AT LEAST ONE FULL PARKING SPACE OFF TREET ALLOTTED FOR EACH UNIT. I do not agree that units should be allowed to exceed the current height of 35'. Allowing any higher than this negatively impacts other homes nearby in blocking sunlight and views as well as the character of those existing homes. In addition, there are some beautiful historic homes with plenty of character already in this area (specifically on the north side). Would these be allowed to be torn down or modified to fit in with any new building codes? I feel very strongly that ANY new residences built anywhere in Narberth have ample parking available. This may look like one space per unit for smaller dwellings such as one bedroom 1150625699 Mar 19 2026 0 apartments but even more are needed for larger dwellings.

There are already too many apartment buildings and some already underway. There isn't a need to 1150630758 Mar 19 2026 0 increase their number. More single family homes are needed.

1150630868 Mar 19 2026 0 Every unit needs atleast 1 parking space. I've never seen 7/10 of a vehicle

Reduced parking requirements is great because it encourages walking and usage of the train station only a block away. There is always parking available in the downtown core, at all times of the day, which means 1150629941 Mar 19 2026 1 that businesses are not successfully attracting customers to drive to the downtown core.

1150629353 Mar 19 2026 0 love it. more feet on the street for the small business community

1150628632 Mar 19 2026 0 Good

1150628415 Mar 19 2026 0 Not smart at all.

1150628507 Mar 19 2026 0 Strongly against

1150626617 Mar 18 2026 1 I don't support it at all.

1150626232 Mar 18 2026 0

1150626206 Mar 18 2026 0 I DO NOT agree with the NPC proposed zoning changes for 4a zoning district. .

1150626203 Mar 18 2026 0 Not in favor!

1150626189 Mar 18 2026 0 Im neutral.

They probably are getting kick backs or profiting in some way. Also they probably do not own homes there

1150625922 Mar 18 2026 0 Proposed zoning not acceptable

1150625967 Mar 18 2026 0 I don't like the proposal for fourth floors.

No 4 story buildings in Narberth! Please consult Narberth 2040 Comprehensive Plan. No new zoning. And the Septa Pass Program is a joke; an apartment needs at least 50 units to participate.

Who made this survey? Whose interest is all of this for? Development is what it feels like. Let's take care of all the wonderful people already living in Narberth and not allow people who don't live here change our

1150625579 Mar 18 2026 0 No good

I AM COMPLETELY AGAINST THE PROPOSED DENSITY INCREASE.

The recommendations for density are also completely unclear!

- What is a lot of "sufficient size"? Who determines this?

- What is meant by "allowing all housing types to contain at least 2 housing units plus an ADU"? Are you allowing it or REQUIRING this?

- How will you oversee the legislation of household income initially and going forward? Narberth does not currently have the manpower to complete this task. Do you propose to hire someone?

I AM COMPLETELY AGAINST THE REDUCTION OF REQUIRED PARKING SPACES TO .7

Have you done a survey to see how many vehicles current residents have per housing unit?

The assumption that residents will not require at least 1 car is not realistic.

The assumption that lower income residents and those living in a 750 sf apartment do not want a car is, frankly, very presumptuous and disrespectful to those people.

Regarding the Septa residential pass program:

- You stated "if available"! Why should we legislate these changes for eternity based on the very tenuous solvency of SEPTA?

- How will you oversee the legislation of the requirement to residents to have the SEPTA residential pass?

Will you hire more people?

Currently, street parking in the 4a district is full. Where will these residents park?

1150625103 Mar 18 2026 06

1150625509 Mar 18 2026 06 Against it

1150625298 Mar 18 2026 06 Absolutely against this. We do not need it and it uglifies the area. It is destroying Narberth

I think we can just fix up what is currently in place rather than increasing growth. Too much traffic and not enough parking.

1150625231 Mar 18 2026 06

1150625239 Mar 18 2026 06 I think they are destroying Narberth and not listening to it's residents.

3 stories max and no new apartment buildings south of the railroad tracks. This is a large neighborhood and with such poor public transportation which may be eliminated or heavily scaled back .7 car space only reduces the cost to the developer and increases the parking space availability to all current residents and 1150615811 Mar 18 2026 06 businesses. Twins with limited parking on the lot should be the code.

I am against the addition of four story buildings. I also don't like the decrease in parking requirements. I think allowing row homes, cottages, and multi-family homes on smaller properties to encourage affordability 1150624336 Mar 18 2026 06 is good.

1150617311 Mar 18 2026 06 Same response as question seven! Terrible ideas

1150622142 Mar 18 2026 11 Again, I'm strongly in favor of reducing the parking requirements.

1150621290 Mar 18 2026 06 I strongly disagree and ask that it be rejected

This makes a lot of sense. The apartment complexes in the south neighborhood across from the train 1150621197 Mar 18 2026 06 station are pretty low-profile and it would seem like there is an opportunity to go higher.

1150621131 Mar 18 2026 06 I think that Borough Council should pursuing issues that the residents of Narberth do not want.

THIS IS A NIGHTMARE.

I live just outside Zone 4a, and if my neighbors start building multiple units on their lots, I will have nowhere to park. Traffic will become much worse (we may even start having real rush hours like in the city), there will be fewer green spaces (which I genuinely need for my health) and more pollution, and overall our quality of life will decline.

I'm also very concerned that the value of my property will go down. We just recently bought our home and put all of our life savings into it. It is a massive investment for us. But we fell in love with Narberth and decided to go for it because of what it is today (and has been for recent years). It is just lovely. But now we are under tremendous stress thinking that we may have invested everything we have in a place that will soon be very different, and that the value of our home could decline because of the density.

Someone told me that maybe my property value won't fall because I will be able to build more on my property. But it's not true. I'm in Zone 3, not Zone 4, not to mention that I don't have the space on my property to build more units anyway (and even if I did, I wouldn't want to; I like my current setting).

The idea of this level of density appearing just down the street is literally making me lose sleep. I know at least two neighbors who are considering selling their homes (AFAIK, one is about to put it on the market any day), partly because they want to get ahead of these developments.

1150618875 Mar 17 2026 11 I'm ok with this as well. They feel like reasonable changes

Height to 45 feet will materially alter "light and air" downtown. Affordable housing is a bad idea. Parking is not a problem now, but could be. Imagine downtown if developer ever gets building. That alone, without any other changes, could max out downtown parking. Relaxing the requirement for new development could make it worse. Most Narberth streets are really one way in width, with two way traffic, with parking on both sides. There isn't a lot of margin for parking.

1150618428 Mar 17 2026 05 Support density and parking proposals. Would want generous setbacks so that large buildings are not looming over 3b/3c neighbors.

1150606224 Mar 17 2026 05 Rowhouse and cottage ok. No ADU! Do not change height restrictions. Do not reduce base parking.

Agree in concept with allowing two housing units. Need to consider parking requirements. I can't imagine what adding one additional unit per house on my street would do to parking. Do not agree with less than one space per unit. While Narberth is transit accessible, most residents have at least one car.

1150617985 Mar 17 2026 05 Eliminate all parking minimums.

1150617895 Mar 17 2026 07 While I agree there is room for change, I think it should be limited to businesses. The town doesn't have much room for additional apartments, let alone parking, especially as they move to add in more rain gardens and take away parking spaces.

1150617795 Mar 17 2026 07 I do not agree with the 0.7 or the 4th story. I don't think trying to create affordable housing is Council's responsibility. You've already decided 1.0 parking and 3 stories is what is right - now you want to compromise on that for a small number of what you consider affordable units?

1150617032 Mar 17 2026 05 Parking is already at a premium. Planning for less than one parking spot per person will be a disaster. What about individuals who have more than one car or who have guests. Parking is already limited at the Narberth train station.

1150617216 Mar 17 2026 05 Inappropriate. Building giant apartment buildings next to residential homes and residential homes with apartments in the is out of scale with the look and feel of the community. And, not providing enough parking for an apartment building on Elmwood Avenue is wrong. Many of the residents on that street have no option other than on-street parking, there are no driveways on many homes. And parking is only allowed on one side of the street. Burdening our community with more cars is not good stewardship of the neighborhood. Overwhelming the built environment to satisfy a few people is deeply disturbing. It's also environmentally unsound and removes even more permeable surface and thus habitat for birds, insects, and animals.

1150616839 Mar 17 2026 04 Opposed

1150606779 Mar 17 2026 04 Bad idea

We need more underground parking. This doesn't seem to accomplish that. AND IT IS FOOLISH TO COUNT ON SEPTA (which I have used successfully for many years) because Pennsylvania state government actively threatens it.

1150616457 Mar 17 2026 04 Not needed

1150616556 Mar 17 2026 04 Read above

1150616604 Mar 17 2026 04 Not happy, this is pushing a residential area into something it isn't. I oppose high rise building exceeding the perceptual height of the homes close by.

1150616462 Mar 17 2026 04 I am not in favor of these changes. It will add much more traffic and noise where we live.

1150616391 Mar 17 2026 04 Not good

1150616125 Mar 17 2026 05 The planning commission should not cave to developers holding the borough hostage by keeping their properties empty. I'm also concerned that by adding a fourth story, it will block sunlight from the street.

1150616054 Mar 17 2026 05 Opposed. Identical to 5b — a density bonus for just 10% affordable units, eliminating resident oversight, reducing parking, and increasing height by 10 feet. This is a developer-drafted template, not a resident-driven proposal. Our schools and infrastructure cannot absorb more density."

1150605695 Mar 17 2026 05 I support these changes.

1150615489 Mar 17 2026 05 Again already enough apartments get the empty store fronts full

1150615180 Mar 17 2026 05 Narberth does not need more apartments. Reduced parking requirements is a terrible idea in this borough where parking is already too limited

1150614751 Mar 17 2026 12 Disagree with height increase in this zone. It's unnecessary at this time. There are other, better places to permit taller buildings such as Montgomery avenue or even in the core downtown. Not 4a.

1150614737 Mar 17 2026 12 Again, not supportive of changing zoning that does not exclusively support single family housing. Further I do not support as we already have parking issues which will be made worse as a result of this strategy. I do not support this zoning change.

1150613441 Mar 17 2026 11 People move here because they like the way it is, not because they wanted it to be something else.

1150614249 Mar 17 2026 11

1150614055 Mar 17 2026 11 Same explanation as above
1150613994 Mar 17 2026 11 Disagree

Disagree. No to 4 story buildings.

.7 parking requirement when the borough is eliminating parking spaces.

1150613545 Mar 17 2026 10 Have you been downtown lately? Last change to zoning has gutted the business district. Empty storefronts.

1150613663 Mar 17 2026 10 Leave it.

1150613561 Mar 17 2026 10 I think it could allow a 4th story.

The conditional use for new apartment building construction needs to be kept in place. Parking is already a challenge. Removing this condition will make it nearly unmanageable by the borough administration to ensure residents have sufficient parking. Parking problems alors get amplified during the winter months with snow. Residents were unable to leave or come home after heavy snowfall this year. How would the Borough manage this situation with more residents needing more parking? Also, parking is restricted to one side of the street during regular cleaning days and during snow. Families have had to look for parking outside the 1150613397 Mar 17 2026 10 borough during such times. More residents means these issues going through the roof.

Keep this zone as is. Parking is terrible if you don't have a dedicated spot. The charm of single family

1150613077 Mar 17 2026 09 Against density anywhere in the borough.

1150613061 Mar 17 2026 09 Still sucks. Septa is unreliable. Parking is non-existent.

45ft is too high. It'll change the feel of Haverford Ave. If anything, allow that height off the main stretch.

1150612969 Mar 17 2026 09 Haverford Ave will become a tunnel.

Multi family units abound in lower merion already - the schools are becoming overwhelmed and roads are a

1150612919 Mar 17 2026 09 nightmare, and septa already can't keeps up. I do not support apartments or multi family units

1150612851 Mar 17 2026 09 Don't.

4 stories on that hill on the Southside will have a major impact on the nearby homes. Losing all that permeable surface will certainly impact drainage in lots downhill, people will lose the enjoyment of their outdoor space. They bought a house in the suburbs not in the city in part not to have buildings looming over 1150612748 Mar 17 2026 09 them. I can't imagine the traffic and parking nightmare that will be.

I feel even more strongly that our downtown should not be changed in this way. Raising the height would harm the historic charm of downtown and the changes to parking will cause a parking crisis for renters. If you care about affordability, require truly affordable housing (30-50% of median income) for apartments while retaining existing building height and parking. The hot market can sustain it. This plan looks like a

1.151E+11 Mar 16 2026 10 Very opposed. See above

1150610543 Mar 16 2026 10 Strongly disagree

1150610419 Mar 16 2026 09 They will add too much density we cannot support

1150610305 Mar 16 2026 09 Too vague, fails to address many issues surrounding increasing density

No, I'm against it!

I don't agree with it. The stores should all open earlier, stay open later and have strict hours. That's why people don't shop there. If the bridge opened you would have more traffic. Employees of the stores park in 1150609224 Mar 16 2026 09 front of the businesses, taking up the spaces.

1150609171 Mar 16 2026 09 I like it

1150609013 Mar 16 2026 04 No. Fill the apartments being constructed.

I do not agree with changes in 4A- We do not need four story buildings in town or on the south side. It's ridiculous-

Try to do something about all the vacant store in town. Narberth used to be a vibrant town. Apartment

1150607814 Mar 16 2026 02 I like the septa pass caveat

1150607527 Mar 16 2026 01 That looks more reasonable.

Holistically, in conjunction with the proposed bioswales, parking would be significantly reduced- this is not a 1150606895 Mar 16 2026 12 good idea.

1150603363 Mar 15 2026 10 They sound good for the community.

1150603317 Mar 15 2026 10 I think this is also feasible but I am curious as to how you will ensure the use of septa?

There's no available land in any of that area for expansion without knocking down houses. I don't even

1150603323 Mar 15 2026 10 Don't like it.

1150603184 Mar 15 2026 10: in favor

1150602641 Mar 15 2026 09: Parking is already a precious resource

1150603025 Mar 15 2026 08: I'm in agreement that there should be an incentive for developing lower income housing

1150602875 Mar 15 2026 07: These seem appropriate

Same story—don't do it. The 4a area is residential for a reason; loosening rules there invites bigger buildings or conversions that change the feel of the neighborhood overnight. No one's priced out because of zoning; they're priced out because Narberth is desirable. Forcing "growth" to fix a fake crisis will overload our sewers, schools, parking—everything. Reject these proposals outright. Protect what we have instead of chasing density that nobody who lives here asked for.

1150602871 Mar 15 2026 07: GET RID OF THE CURRENT NARBERTH BOROUGH COUNCIL and MAGGIE DOBBS! They are destroying our town.

Allow 4th floor without the affordable housing requirements. The affordable housing initiatives will do nothing for current Narberth residents. Rather it will reward newbies. I'm not against affordable housing 1150602800 Mar 15 2026 06: but would prefer it help current residents.

I can't even start to explain how horrible this idea is. You should put a radical change like this to a popular vote and see how 80% of the borough votes it down.

Row houses in Narberth? Why? We moved here from the city because we didn't want to live in the city anymore. So why bring the city here? If people want to live in row houses, they can. 20-30 minutes from here, there are so many options for row-house living.

And tall houses in residential areas? Why? People who want that should live in the city.

The harm that this will do to anyone living in or next to this zone will be massive: much more traffic, less parking, less green space, more pollution. And that is the best-case scenario. Worst case, we will start to have issues concerning things like water, electricity, and web access (it happened in other places; Google it), as all of those infrastructures were not designed to support so many people.

1150602600 Mar 15 2026 06: I can go on and on. But this is just a terrible, terrible idea. Why do that in a peaceful, loved, and thriving suburb? Did any of the council members run on THIS platform? Tall row houses in a residential area?

1150602530 Mar 15 2026 06: Row houses or cottages fine but not a fourth story!

1150602547 Mar 15 2026 06: Absolutely not. Too much density and too little parking and no building should be over 3 stories.

1150602499 Mar 15 2026 06: This is where I live and I am against additional housing development.

No more apartments

1150602500 Mar 15 2026 06:

1150602478 Mar 15 2026 06: unsure

1150602482 Mar 15 2026 06: I am firmly against any changes to allow higher or denser development. I am especially against any reductions in required parking per unit and any incentives for income linked housing of any kind.

Parking in downtown Narberth is arguably the biggest complaint most Narberth residents have with the Borough. The NPC recommendations to reduce the parking requirements are an extremely bad idea and will exacerbate problems already plaguing the Borough. Disagree with NPC's recommendations in the 1150602335 Mar 15 2026 04: strongest possible terms.

1150602273 Mar 15 2026 04: Needs more parking in the area, not less

1150602146 Mar 15 2026 04: I think the height and parking space variances should not be changed.

1150602124 Mar 15 2026 04: I don't agree

What is the fact driven data that necessitates this push for density?

How can our infrastructure support this?

Expecting people not to have cars is unrealistic.

Once this happens where will Narberth planning commission and Borough council stop?? No neighborhood 1150601970 Mar 15 2026 04: is safe.

1150601838 Mar 15 2026 04: Yes. More parking on the street there and less density of housing. Larger lots

I would favor changes to "gently" increase density in 4a. As outlined the proposals go to far, especially should be more strict in terms of parking requirements -- not clear whether less strict parking requirements

1150601370 Mar 15 2026 11: will cause congestion

Absolutely unnecessary an unreasonable and should be rejected. Forcing this radical increased density with reduced set backs, lack of parking and increased height in traditionally residential areas is simply not necessary and more importantly will adversely affect the air, light and welfare of the South Side by dominating the corner of Elmwood and Narberth Ave favoring the profit of a developer over the residents of the neighborhood.

1150600732 Mar 15 2026 0: No where to park as it is. I can't reliably park within three blocks of my place on Elmwood

I disagree.

This is a shameful excuse for a survey- it only through the lens of your support for this project. You are not unbiased and thus this cannot give voice to those who disagree with the values and motives.

1150598949 Mar 14 2026 0: I oppose it - it seems like the Zoning Commission is virtue signaling - I'd rather see taxes increase on vacant commercial spaces to incentivize lower rents in downtown / that should be the priority not 4 story bldgs in a borough especially where SEPTA is likely to face significant stressors in the years ahead

1150598839 Mar 14 2026 0: I do not approve.

1150598733 Mar 14 2026 0: Not a good idea. The changes should equally affect all areas

1150598422 Mar 14 2026 0: Horrible. NO MORE APARTMENTS. This area is already dense.

1150598052 Mar 14 2026 0: I disagree with reducing parking. I lived in a row home in the Art Museum before moving to Narberth. A large reason we left the Art Museum was the difficulty finding parking. Parking is a quality of life issue. For families with young children, older adults, people with difficulties walking far, having parking at/close to their home improves quality of life. What lots are available? Shouldn't we be working on reducing impervious pavement?

1150597752 Mar 14 2026 1: No. Horrible idea to make the area more congested.

1150597748 Mar 14 2026 1: Height is too low, it should be 60 feet at least. (4-5 stories) Prefer high ceilings 10' minimum.

1150597611 Mar 14 2026 1: this will only work if there is no amendment to the parking requirement per my earlier comment

1150597106 Mar 14 2026 0: I do not approve

1150596985 Mar 14 2026 0: Too expansive. Windsor Ave???!! No way.

1150596706 Mar 14 2026 0: I am against the plans.

1150596343 Mar 14 2026 0: Agree

1150595187 Mar 13 2026 1: Same comment regarding parking and low income housing as question 7. I don't have an overall issue with allowing rowhouses and cottages. The height still seems high for the downtown adjacent but could be ok. Parking will be an issue that will reduce the attraction of the units in general and will impact other areas of the neighborhood. I also do not feel that requiring the septa pass program means anything if it's "if available". That is an empty promise that provides no assurances.

1150595065 Mar 13 2026 0: I do not like the idea of making parking downtown harder

I am opposed to buildings over 3 stories with reduced parking requirements. Please don't do this to a borough already overcrowded with cars.

1150594831 Mar 13 2026 0: Good.

I believe they would have a negative impact on the neighborhood culture and community of Narberth. People move out of Philadelphia to escape high-density housing, and choose Narberth for the small town feel. Housing affordability is a very complex issue (supply, desirability, interest rates, etc .) I believe it is disingenuous to propose that the addition of rental units to a neighborhood would address housing affordability (home ownership). I don't believe tethering someone to a monthly rental fee is a solution to the home affordability crisis. Home ownership is the most reliable way to build wealth and stability.

Maybe we should have more conversations with our representatives about institutional investors buying single family homes which directly impacts housing affordability.

1150593978 Mar 13 2026 0: Hate it. Do not want overcrowding with no parking.

1150593972 Mar 13 2026 0: Four stories is too high, especially when council wants to change parking from 1.0 to 0.7...which just infuriates me.

1150593538 Mar 13 2026 0: Maximizing development for the downtown district is feasible. Providing parking is the priority.

1150592763 Mar 13 2026 0:

1150592169 Mar 13 2026 01 Also good. Could expand it even more
1150592023 Mar 13 2026 01 Support

Narberth is DENSE. In the short time I've been here, a new house on 200 Dudley block and new neighbors have already significantly tightened parking availability to the point where I can't regularly park in front of my house. I'm in the central parking district immediately next to the proposed 4a district. If more people move in, there is no doubt that they would use the few remaining free spaces for long term parking, even if they use septa daily. That significantly lowers my daily convenience by not being able to park in front of my house. By living close to the 4a district I stand to lose parking because these new residents won't have enough spaces in front of their quarters and I'm the closest place with a few spots still available.

1150591998 Mar 13 2026 01 There is enough density. Even the phrasing of the questions in this surgery suggest an agenda that I don't agree with. I suspect the borough council leaders are the ones who went to the Inquirer for their recent one-sided article.

I agree with allowing increased types of housing. I do worry about resident parking but feel that allowing parking to be provided on other lots within 900 feet seems reasonable. I agree with doing away with visitor parking requirements.

1150591736 Mar 13 2026 12 Very good, especially the cottage and rowhouse by right

No good if the buildings are tall and no new buildings without plenty of parking for residents that does not interfere with people trying to shop/visit here. It would be better to revitalize downtown and then have a free/inexpensive parking lot for people to shop and eat here.

1150591197 Mar 13 2026 11 More people are welcome; more cars are not. It is noble to try to provide more affordable housing--but not at the cost of more parked cars and more traffic on narrow streets that are 1.5 lanes wide.

The Planning commission is wasting its time trying to allow cottages and row houses. None of these building types will pencil on lots that have existing structures, especially if parking requirements exist.

1150590849 Mar 13 2026 11 The bit about exempting small units under 750 sqft from parking requirements is good, but again, only allowing 4 stories (with a costly affordability mandate!) seems designed to ensure that no new housing is actually built.

"Reduce the base parking requirement to .7 spaces." This is a nice thought, but not realistic.

"Allow required parking to be provided on other lots". What lots? Where are these lots?

1150590291 Mar 13 2026 11

1150590163 Mar 13 2026 11 All good, want to see even more!

Same as answer to #7.

Will you have the courage to publish the results of the survey?

The section "Benefits of Proposed Zoning Changes" is written as if the data are facts. They are not facts. They are opinions and objectives determined by a small group of like minded individuals dictating Narberth's future. This is not your kingdom to rule over as you see fit. If you truly want to have a survey to find out what people want take a step back and ask what the people who live here want for Narberth's 1150590083 Mar 13 2026 01 future. Instead, you created the future and are asking how we think you can get there.

1150589327 Mar 13 2026 01 Bad idea. No more density

1150574749 Mar 11 2026 01 no no no no no no

1150569916 Mar 11 2026 01 -

1150568537 Mar 10 2026 01 Sounds ridiculous to go from a 1 space requirement to .7 space

1150567862 Mar 10 2026 01 Please see above comments.

Absolutely not. Why are you trying to change the reason homeowners settled here with their children? We don't need to look like Ardmore, Conshohocken, or anything close to Lancaster Avenue. Narberth is unique--let's keep it that way. Everyone says Narberth is "cute" and "safe." Why would you want to change ? It 1150567168 Mar 10 2026 01 makes absolutely no sense. I strongly disagree with the Borough's direction.

1150564278 Mar 10 2026 11 I support the proposed changes

1150557379 Mar 09 2026 01 Support the new housing options, but do not eliminate the parking requirements for affordable units

Great work, overall. For reference here is a NJ development with over 100 affordable units mixed in but most people would never know it because it was so well done.

1150552173 Mar 08 2026 01 <https://ewingtowncenter.com/>

I am against increasing apartment construction in this area. I support ADUs, two family houses. I do not support a fourth story in this area. And again, parking per unit should be increased, not decreased. The average car ownership per unit in Narberth is 2. There is no rational to diminish the parking per unit 1150550379 Mar 08 2026 01 requirement.

Poorly conceived and thought out. It appears to cater to the interests of developers and real estate agents rather than the residents. Reducing parking requirements will create parking issues. People may take the train into the city, but will still own cars for other purposes. The heights of the buildings will be out of step with the character of the town. It appears the commission is opposed to the idea of cars. But some people need them. You can't cart your kids everywhere they need to be on a train. I have lived in other neighborhoods where development went uncontrolled and parking really impacted the quality of life.

1150548226 Mar 07 2026 10 Do not allow ADUs
No 4th floor

1150548185 Mar 07 2026 10 Do not reduce parking requirements
Too tall. Crowding of Narberth will not be helpful for the citizens but the boro would collect more in taxes.

1150547648 Mar 07 2026 07 Greedy.
Why do we need more housing units? We are opening the door for more rentals or accessory dwelling rental units. The true residents of the Borough will suffer, and the owner/investors of these buildings will have high rental prices that can go to the highest bidder. They will not offer affordable housing or low income. They want to make money and keep their property values up. It won't be for charity or love of the community.

1150546378 Mar 06 2026 05 Same as above:
Love it! If at all possible target the most likely sites to develop. Let's get in front of the change which is likely to happen.

1150546289 Mar 06 2026 05 198 Elmwood is great spot for an apartment building.

1150546271 Mar 06 2026 05 Not needed.

1150545582 Mar 06 2026 05 Idiotic. Parking is already hard to come by in much of this area.
The idea of reducing the base parking requirements is idiotic. Why would that even be proposed with such a parking crisis happening in Narberth? You can't have more people living here and fewer parking spaces. -- And the 300 block of Windsor should not have more apartments created. It is far enough away from the downtown district that it should not be considered to be transitional.

1150545497 Mar 06 2026 05 I would suggest increasing to 6 stories and increasing the height limit in both the Downtown district and the 4a district. Failing that I would support that increased density in the Downtown zone and 4 stories in 4a. I'd suggest rezoning Elmwood between Essex and S Narberth as well as S Narberth between the bridge and Woodside as Downtown and Elmwood between Maple and Essex and Woodside at least as far as Chestnut as 4a. It would be great to have some mixed use development with first floor retail and restaurants on our side of the bridge. I have this in mind as I hope to age in place and may not be able to walk as far in the future. I would make the increased height and stories limit uniform in each of the Downtown district and 4a district (if they're not the same as one another) and not make it dependent on some bonus for including low- or moderate-income housing, since those kinds of requirements would make redevelopment more complicated. Adding new supply is what will keep older units in the borough affordable. I agree with allowing apartments, row houses, and cottages by right. I agree with the recommendations in the third bullet regarding parking requirements and two-way driveways. I would also suggest replacing two-hour parking zones with paid parking zones using ParkMobile zones, where residents could park with their permits with no additional fee and visitors could pay to park, with parking rates set to target 15-20% vacancy per block at any given time.

1150545334 Mar 06 2026 04 Why not row homes?
Keep businesses and condos to Montgomery Ave. keep smaller stature condos and biz downtown.
Encourage also more trees, green, and open space. Reduce density.

1150545219 Mar 06 2026 04 Buy the demolished church by bridge and make it a park.

keep the current existing zoning that is in place, do not adopt proposed changes. My concerns are rooted in the following specific areas:

Opposition to New Building Types and Density: The proposal to allow apartment buildings by right, as well as cottages and rowhouses in areas where they were previously prohibited or restricted, risks destroying the historic "small-town" integrity and green spaces that define Narberth. Historically, over-development of this nature has led to a decline in property values and places an undue burden on our existing infrastructure. We should maintain our town as required by the present building code, rather than altering it to suit the interests of outside developers.

Concerns with Setbacks and Lot Coverage: I oppose the reduction of front yard setbacks from 25 feet to 10–20 feet depending on the building type. Furthermore, increasing building coverage from 45% to 50% and impervious coverage from 60% to 70% will lead to greater environmental impact and less green space per lot. This change is contradictory to environmental ordinances and programs Council passed.

Height Limit Increases: I am against the recommendation to allow a fourth-story density bonus for apartment buildings up to 45 feet high. This significant increase from the current 35-foot limit will fundamentally change the skyline and feel of our residential neighborhoods.

Reduction in Parking Spaces: The plan to reduce base parking requirements to 0.7 spaces per residential unit is unrealistic for life in Narberth. Operating under the expectation that residents will live "car-less"

1150544300 Mar 06 2026 02 because of proximity to SEPTA, is a mistake. Most commuters and families still require vehicles, and further

Absolutely not. Downtown Narberth is supposed to be a quaint little Main Street. It's already been degraded to a "shanty-town" by the developer who is letting half the street go down the tubes. And the construction projects that have been going on for, what, 4-5 years and still aren't fully occupied? No way, no more high density in downtown Narberth and absolutely no low income housing.

1150538486 Mar 05 2026 06

I don't support it. Cramming in apartments and row homes in an area that already has no offerings for the community of significant value and already struggles with Parking does not make any sense

1150538080 Mar 05 2026 02

I think the proposed changes are disastrous. We do not need more density, more buildings taller than what we have, more housing, and more traffic on Windsor Ave and the neighboring streets. Driving and turning on and off Windsor Ave is already challenging enough. I would love proponents of this idea to explain to me how this would even be feasible.

1150538063 Mar 05 2026 02

No! We need more parking spaces and not less. We need affluent businesses that can stay in business and not go out of business. They depend on populations who have disposable income and want to spend their money. I don't want any row houses! This is why I left Philadelphia!

1150538051 Mar 05 2026 02

Reply: Same response as above.

We have vacant apartments, vacant store fronts, an undeveloped property at Citizens Bank, and an undeveloped lot at 198 Elmwood. Changing the zoning now will only exacerbate the problem.

Wait until the developers make good on all the zoning adjustments that have already been made on their behalf then revisit re-zoning.

Wait until we see the impact of the developments already on the drawing board have on our community before giving the developers the green light to develop further.

The zoning proposals could potentially make existing problems worse for several reasons. To name a few:

(1) Increasing the footprint and decreasing setbacks will increase impermeable surfaces.

(2) Increasing the ratio of rental to owner occupied properties will shift Narberth from being a small town close-knit community to a town of absentee landlords.

(3) Increasing density in districts other than 3a and 5b will exacerbate parking and traffic problems. Yes, they do exist!

1150536746 Mar 05 2026 01

I don't think you are recognizing the parking demands that more residents in the downtown area will need. I think raising the height of apartment complexes (many have not been rented for sometime now) is short sighted and would radically change the look and feel of our downtown in negative ways.

1150534846 Mar 05 2026 05

Again, I think it would be nice to have apartments or condos that are ownership in that area. It's extremely residential and putting a high-rise apartment. Building is not necessary with all of the apartment buildings that have currently been slotted for Narberth again I strongly feel that people drive, even though the train station is right there and if you're going to offer affordable housing, there needs to be at least one or two parking spots because the reality is on the mainline that people drive. We may walk from our houses to businesses downtown but I drive everywhere else to work etc.

1150534634 Mar 05 2026 05 I would prefer rowhouses and cottages by right, and apartment buildings by conditional use to encourage the former.

the .7 parking reduction is somewhat concerning, given the oft-stated concerns about parking in the downtown area.

1150530115 Mar 04 2026 04 These are completely misguided recommendations. Nothing has been provided about the downside effects of these changes. No evidence has been shared about downside effects. These changes should be rejected.

1150526797 Mar 04 2026 05 There is no representation from this part of Narberth on the Planning Commission. So, I do not know how they could be informed on the situation of this area. I note that Planning Commission Leasurership members are not encouraging additional stories be built in their backyards.

1150523887 Mar 03 2026 05 4 stories in 4a, especially on Haverford Ave, is wrong headed. This is far too tall for 4a. 0.7 parking spots per unit is insane. The majority of people living in Narberth have at least one car per residence. Proposing less than this makes no sense and is not supported by dense, non-urban settings like Narberth.

1150522896 Mar 03 2026 05 Same as above no credibility. Time to wipe the slate clean

1150522274 Mar 03 2026 05

1150515518 Mar 02 2026 07

Looks like well-intentioned progressive theory that will fail to produce any meaningful difference in the population, while adding much-increased chance of unintended consequences for existing residents. Too much risk for too little benefit. The plan also exposes the real estate ignorance of our representatives. New construction is and will continue to be the most expensive housing. The twins built as part of Summer Knight's project are for sale for well over a million each. The "cottage" in the same development is poised to hit the market at $1.35M. The one that sold last year went for $1.25M. There is no such thing as affordable new construction in this market. We can't build policy on hope and good intentions.

1150514726 Mar 02 2026 05 Not in favor of apartments over storefronts. You lose the small town charm of the shopping district. Not enough parking now. I chose to live in narberth for small town charm, not live in an area that feels like I'm in the city with tall buildings all around

While four stories can work on Montgomery Avenue, 45 feet is too tall for buildings in the 4a district. Given the narrowness of the streets (e.g., Haverford, Forrest, Essex Avenues), 45 foot structures would block sunlight in the several months from late fall through early spring. I completely disagree with 45 feet in 4a.

Again, reducing parking requirements to 0.7 cars/unit is not supportable and unrealistic in Narberth. The people who would work in professions listed above question 3 (cooks, teachers, healthcare social workers, librarians, guidance counselors, firefighters) who live in Narberth would require car transport to get to the sites of these occupations. These are not occupations where work-from-home is possible. And most of the sites of these occupations are not on rail lines or bus lines.

Regarding elimination of visitor parking, there has been talk of increasing residential living for people to age-in-place. People who age-in-place often need visitation and/or care from family members and paid caregivers. These people need a place to park. If there is no visitor parking, aging in place is not possible.

Any attempt to reduce the required number of spots per residence is just going to lead to more issues. Narberth is so congested as it is & since the borough wants to continue adding residences there needs to be some sort of parking reform (even outside of zones 4a & 5a). As a resident whose household has multiple vehicles (though fewer vehicles than the number of residents in our home) and no driveway parking is already a nightmare. Especially on our street (400 block Essex) & surrounding streets (Wayne) there are so many people who have driveways that make the deliberate choice not to use them, causing people that rely on street parking to not be able to park their cars anywhere close to where they live. This might be a separate issue, but if there is going to be an attempt to manage parking for all current & future residents, people with driveways (especially multi-car driveways & garages) need to not have priority over street parking. If you have a 3 car driveway & only 1/2 or 1/3 cars registered to that home in the driveway & the rest on the street it only adds to the congestion. I think these factors should be taken into consideration when annual parking pass registration comes around. Households zoned for multi-car driveways should not be allowed parking passes for all cars (ex. Household has 3 cars & 2 car driveway, Household is only allotted 1 street parking pass).

This is also great since it would incentivize more housing near the downtown which will also be great for local businesses.

1150512709 Mar 02 2026 01

Again - the parking is the primary issue. It is insane to not have a space for every unit in the building. Just because a very small number of people can survive in this area without a vehicle, doesn't mean most individuals, and certainly most families, can do so. We are not Center City. For this zone, I think new construction should be limited to cottages and row homes. I also see no reason to allow a 4th story on any building. If builders are committed to affordable housing they can provide that within the existing height limits. Adding a fourth story of 750 square foot units on top of (an expensive apartment building is not going to do anything to help with the housing crisis.

1150510989 Mar 02 2026 10

1150510795 Mar 02 2026 05 This all sounds great to me! I am a homeowner on Homewood Ave and I frequently walk downtown.

1150510761 Mar 02 2026 05

No , its a precursor for implementation of low income housing thru the back door , No changes, keep to the present code. WE voted for our council members to keep our town safe, not to ruin it thru the desires of others to change it. These changes will ruin our town and its only been 10 years since the code was changed to preserve it. Do what you volunteered and were elected to do, keep it safe.

1150509615 Mar 02 2026 07

(Not a fan for the same reasons as previously mentioned.

There seems to be a supposition that accessibility to SEPTA insures solely SEPTA use for residents' transportation. This seems extremely unrealistic. Most people drive places when not commuting to and from work.

1150507907 Mar 01 2026 10

I think it ruins the character of downtown. Yes, that strip of stores has construction needs. No we don't need larger buildings. Honestly, with the character changes, gentrification, lack of reliable SEPTA, we've been thinking of moving to Keswick Village in Glenside.

1150507847 Mar 01 2026 05

I would support it but have some concerns about making sure parking requirements are sufficient not to overburden the traffic, again I would like to make sure the green spaces are incorporated

1150507419 Mar 01 2026 07

1150507069 Mar 01 2026 05

I think it makes sense. 45 feet is too high for 4a. We `should stay with 35 feet height. 0.7 parking spaces per unit is too fee per unit. The future of SEPTA service is highly uncertain. Even if SEPTA's future was certain, the large majority of people living in and moving into Narberth use cars to shop for food (there is no food market in Narberth), drive to work, take kids to day care and sports. No evidence has been presented that a substantial number of people in Narberth will not own a car.

1150506826 Mar 01 2026 03

1150506337 Mar 01 2026 12

NO

1150506169 Mar 01 2026 11

I think it's a bad idea.

1150506054 Mar 01 2026 11

No more density.

1150506015 Mar 01 2026 10

Same answer as above.

No to 4 stories! No to less than 1 parking spot per unit. What world are you living in where you think owners don't have cars?!

1150505930 Mar 01 2026 10

As a Narberth resident and homeowner I couldn't be more in support of this proposal. Studies have shown brick and mortar business have experienced a decrease in foot traffic somewhere between 20%-40% since 2020, with storefront rents up between 15%-20%. Without more residents to support business, how do we expect our independent stores to survive.

1150505477 Mar 01 2026 07

Ridiculous

Worry about the downtown and leave the rest alone. Why do any of this when all you are doing is destroying the character of Narberth.

1150505413 Mar 01 2026 07

1150504494 Feb 28 2026 10

Please no more big apartment buildings!

OK with some of the proposal but not all. The downtown area would be a good place to encourage different types of housing like twins or row houses. 4 story buildings may be OK but height wise should remain in the range of what is already nearby. Again, I reiterate, that I am absolutely against any 5 story buildings in Narberth. Additionally, I think the parking reductions are very risky and do not support them. Where would there be offsite lots for these developments? How will the downtown area absorb the new parking needs? How will the traffic flow be impacted by the ins/outs of the new buildings? Lastly, the survey does not give the details about lot and impervious coverage, but I am against these changes. They add to the urban setting and go against the recent improvements the Borough has made to storm run off, etc. The proposed changes seem to contradict what we have done recently and what residents have asked for. Narberth is such a small geographical area, we can not single handedly solve the affordability crisis of Lower Merion as a whole (and as a generally very wealthy area). Please prioritize protecting the characteristics of Narberth that have made residents chose to live here, we do not want urban density, we do not want edge to edge apartment buildings, we want more green space, stronger municipal services, better pedestrian and biking infrastructure, safer streets for our kids.

1150503815 Feb 28 2026 06 Bad idea. Will result in additional cars parking in parts of the town in front of other people's homes rather than encourage less cars per unit. Would need to also enforce limits to number of parking spaces and cars per residential unit, which will be hard to do.

1150503675 Feb 28 2026 06 Not a fan of allowing a 4th story in this area

1150503631 Feb 28 2026 06 The 4a zone contains, I think, many historical homes that can't be touched without approval. However if there is space for rowhomes, cottages and twins that's fine. ADU's - YES!
NO 4th story density bonus for "affordable" units. 80% of AMI is not affordable.

1150503420 Feb 28 2026 04 DO NOT reduce parking requirements. I do not know what a two-way driveway is.

1150503287 Feb 28 2026 06 Yes

1150503107 Feb 28 2026 06 Against it.

I support these changes. The downtown area in particular has untapped opportunities for affordable housing that can support small businesses. It is also transit accessible (SEPTA-willing), which makes the new parking space requirements very sensible.

1150503008 Feb 28 2026 06 Strongly against this proposal

1150502332 Feb 28 2026 16 Not in favor

1150502051 Feb 28 2026 06 Why are we bending code for height to include affordable housing units. It is a feel good narrative for Borough Council that hurts existing town residents at for the perceived benefit of future renters while also straining our school system.

1150501884 Feb 28 2026 06 If you're insistent on placating developers desperate for someplace to build on the Main Line, keep them out of the borough proper and confine them to Montgomery Avenue.

1150501771 Feb 28 2026 06 Terrible.

1150501666 Feb 28 2026 07 People are already upset about parking 0.7 seems like a poor choice- most families have one car at least. I don't want any more big ugly buildings here. We've had a lot lately. We love Sabine Park. Please focus on beautifying our green spaces instead of building more big buildings! Our parks are pathetic compared to Lower Merion's. I am not interested in having more housing here. Lower Merion has fewer apartments and more beautiful public spaces. Please look to them as an example and make Narberth better for its current residents.

1150501628 Feb 28 2026 07 Concerned about parking plan

1150500434 Feb 27 2026 16 Disagree. I think it's a terrible idea.

1150500409 Feb 27 2026 16 I am not sure.It would depend on how tall the apartment buildings would be.

1150500179 Feb 27 2026 16 Nonsense and a waste of time. It is a mockery of resources of prior community involvement that took to develop the Form Based Code.

1150500088 Feb 27 2026 06

1150500022 Feb 27 2026 06 The above states that existing requirements are for 1 space per residential unit. I don't have that and was told that I couldn't have that. Unless a residential unit is defined as a house vs an apartment. What exactly would a reduction to .07 even look like?

1150500024 Feb 27 2026 06 Adding density and reducing parking is a mistake that will erode the community and hurt property value

This is worse. It's spot zoning and reducing parking on a crowded block.

1150499931 Feb 27 2026 06 I don't care about height, but I do know renters will have a car despite proximity to Septa.

1150499834 Feb 27 2026 06 Generally agree

1150499835 Feb 27 2026 06 I like the idea.

1150499735 Feb 27 2026 06 Not impressed

1150499656 Feb 27 2026 07

Keep the maximum height to 35 feet. We already have too many apartment building. There are 2 large building (Rite Aid & Albreicht's space) as well as duplex homes on Haverford Ave all in the space of one

1150499433 Feb 27 2026 06 Ok

To reiterate, I have lived in Lower Merion for 36 years. While I recognize that downtown buildings may need improvements and in the process could benefit from having some apartments over the top of the shops, there is no way that having apartment buildings is going to fully sustain businesses downtown. Businesses in downtown Narberth will only survive with the support of neighborhood people walking to them AND people from the surrounding area driving and PARKING as customers. Building apartments only further exacerbates an already problematic parking situation and the net effect will be to decrease patrons at local businesses. And I want Narberth to be a place where people OWN their homes. We know that homeownership is important for community involvement. The bottom line is that our community needs improvement for the residents who currently live here and your proposed changes benefit developers and not the community members. I am so incredibly disappointed that this is the direction you have chosen and 1150499320 Feb 27 2026 06 you'll certainly hear more from me and anyone I can alert to your proposed changes.

1150499284 Feb 27 2026 06 I do not support the proposed changes.

1150499237 Feb 27 2026 06 Full support, similar sentiments to the answer above

1150499148 Feb 27 2026 06 Do not agree with the affordable housing recommendation

1150499086 Feb 27 2026 06 I am okay with increasing density but the parking change is not satisfactory

Again this is insanity. Septa is unreliable. People move to Narberth with children that they have to drive 1150498991 Feb 27 2026 06 places. Where is the study on car ownership, parking and. Public transportation? What are you thinking?!

The proposed changes in the 4a district are unnecessary and misguided, rooted in the myth of an affordability issue. Relaxing rules here would invite over-development, straining infrastructure and altering Narberth's charm without addressing real needs. Housing prices are high because people want to live here— that's economics 101, not a flaw. Forcing density will likely lead to unintended and irreversible consequences. I urge rejecting these proposals to preserve what makes Narberth special.

1150498986 Feb 27 2026 06 Your argument is unconvincing. Will you really get the results expected?

There needs to be adequate parking. 1 per unit. More density is ok as long as it's not taking parking away from existing residents. Considering that there are few practical stores downtown, residents need a car to grocery shop etc.

1150498888 Feb 27 2026 06 I would rather buy and invest in the community for a row home or twin to built equity

It sucks, there should be at least 2 parking spaces for every residential unit. Stop allowing apartment 1150498738 Feb 27 2026 04 buildings to be built.

1150498264 Feb 27 2026 06 Against it. Do not permit changes which will result in increased density and reduced parking allotments.

Yes. We need more neighbors and more variety of price points and housing options. We already have a lot of apartment buildings, and they blend in well (so well that I think some people forget about them). New 1150498196 Feb 27 2026 06 ones will draw initial complaints but will eventually blend in, and it will be great to have more neighbors.

1150497258 Feb 27 2026 01 n/a

Seems reasonable to me; I don't think we will see more apartment buildings built when there is such poor occupancy in the ones that were most recently built, so a lot of the contentious parts are pretty moot.

1150496969 Feb 27 2026 12

Let me start by telling you what I think of this process. NPC and to an extent, Narberth BC think they were annointed by some Plaaning God to impose their density ideology on us. They never listen to the communities they represent. They only get elected because nobody wants to run and deal with them..These changes are not proposed, they are a done deal. So don't waste my time unless you are actually prepared to change your Density Bible to reflect your neighbors' input and LIVED EXPERIENCE IN NARBERTH We need a Kings Rally for OUR government!

1150496890 Feb 27 2026 12 DO NOT LET ALMOST EVERY HOUSE BE MULTI FAMILY.

1150496864 Feb 27 2026 12 Again, why do we need taller buildings? We have lots of apartments, and more being built already.

Parking concerns for business and community. Generational living for families with proper spacial surveys

1150496688 Feb 27 2026 12 I do not support changes.

1150492415 Feb 26 2026 10 I support their recommendations

1150492160 Feb 26 2026 09 We need to make sure that we have transit oriented development by the station

We need more transit oriented development in order to help drive revenue growth in Narberth and to help

1150491862 Feb 26 2026 08 stabilize septa funding

1150491840 Feb 26 2026 08 I agree
